

Reds Retake Hill Position From Koreans

SEOUL, Korea, Oct. 11 (AP)—Reinforced Chinese Reds threw South Korean infantrymen off the top of bitterly-contested White Horse Mountain in a savage counter-attack Saturday.

The Communists recaptured the important hill guarding the invasion gateway to Seoul only six hours after Republic of Korea 9th Division troops had knocked Chinese troops off it in a lightning "sneak" attack.

It was the 23rd time the hill had changed hands since the epic running battle began five days ago.

Frontline details of the Chinese surge to the top of White Horse, northwest of Chorwon, were sketchy, but it was reported the ROKs were pushed 200 yards down the southern slope at 6:30 p.m. after fierce hand-to-hand fighting.

Allied fighter-bombers and tanks plastered the enemy's approach route in an attempt to cut off further Chinese reinforcements.

So far, the Chinese Reds have lost an estimated 10,000 men — 2,000 of them in the last 12 hours — in their five-day fight for the strategic height.

Other United Nations troops recaptured Big North Mountain farther east after a two-week fight, and beat off heavy Red attacks on Dick, Tessie and Christmas Hills on the Western Front.

In the air, American Sabrejets shot down six Communist MIG-15 jet fighters in three battles just south of North Korea's Yalu River border with Red China.

It was the biggest air victory of the month for the U.N. and raised the October bag to 14 MIGs destroyed and 20 damaged.

ROKS of the 9th Division had won complete control of sprawling White Horse except for two small groups of Reds huddled on the peak's southwest and northwest slopes. They were being killed off systematically.

The ROKs took White Horse in a daring, pre-dawn "sneak" attack and dug in amid crashing enemy shells to wait for an expected Communist counterattack.

The lightning raid, led by tanks moving ahead under cover of darkness, gave the ROKs command of a finger-like ridge the Reds had been using to funnel reinforcements into the battle.

Tanks and U.N. fighter bombers poured flame and steel into the fierce running battle. Masses of Communists collected behind the height and made a bitter but unsuccessful attempt to hold off the ROKs.

Reds Continue Blasts at Ike

MOSCOW, Oct. 11 (AP)—Dwight D. Eisenhower's plan to "liberate" Communist East European nations is "ridiculous and pitiful," Alexander Korneichuk, president of the Ukrainian Parliament, said Saturday.

In the second attack on the Republican presidential nominee made before the 19th Soviet Communist Party Congress, Korneichuk said:

"When Ukrainians read the Pravda article entitled 'Eisenhower Ready to March,' one peasant said of Eisenhower:

"If a pig had long horns, it would gore everybody and if it had a long tail it would whip itself."

"This is how the simple people react to Eisenhower's threats," Korneichuk said.

Eisenhower was attacked earlier this week at the Congress by the Lithuanian Communist Leader A. Y. Snechikus, who told the general "not to bark at Lithuanians." Democratic nominee Adlai Stevenson has not been mentioned at the Congress.

Korneichuk also ridiculed President Truman in connection with the American mutual aid appropriation of $100,000,000 for anti-Communist activity in Europe.

Two Jets Made Passes at B-29

TACOMA, Wash., Oct. 11 (AP)—Two F-84 jet fighter planes were making mock "passes" at the B-29 bomber that crashed, killing 11 airmen aboard, near Wilsonville, Ore., the Air Force has announced.

McChord Air Force Base officials reported Friday the pilot of the second jet, Capt. Clayton C. Sherman, Algonac, Mich., saw his companion ship make a pass at the bomber and then noticed the jet's right wing tank was damaged and spilling fuel.

Sherman said he did not see any collision and didn't even see the bomber crash because of the high rate of speed of all three planes.

Merrill Spud Competition Planned

Truman Delivers Wind-Up Punch In Harlem Talk

NEW YORK, Oct. 11 (AP)—President Truman delivered the wind-up punch in his whistle-stop tour Saturday with a charge to Negro voters that Dwight D. Eisenhower and the Republican Party may be planning to take away some civil rights won under Democratic leadership.

In a speech prepared for delivery in the heart of Harlem, Mr. Truman said that while Eisenhower was a general of the Army "he told the Armed Services Committee of the Senate that a certain amount of segregation is necessary in the Army."

"You and I know that this is morally wrong," the President said. "And what's more, it's even militarily wrong. Our troops in Korea are demonstrating, every day, that Americans can stand side by side, regardless of color—and fight better because of it."

Praises Record
Mr. Truman praised the civil rights record of Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson and said Eisenhower and the Republicans could not be depended on to save what civil rights now are on the books.

"When Eisenhower sits down to lunch with a Dixiecrat governor, 'do you think they talk about civil rights?' the President asked. Then he added:

"Maybe they talk about taking them away."

"You can draw your own conclusion when the Dixiecrat governor announces, after the lunch, he's going to vote Republican this year."

Gov. James F. Byrnes of South Carolina recently had Eisenhower as his luncheon guest and later announced he would vote for the Republican candidate.

Strongest Plank
The President said that the "strongest civil rights plank ever adopted by a political party in this country."

And, he added, "Our candidates have taken their stand firmly on the platform."

Talk about voluntary compliance with fair employment practice is nonsense, Mr. Truman said. He accused Eisenhower and the Republicans with waging a "double-talk" campaign on civil rights.

By RONALD WAGONER
BERKELEY, Calif., Oct. 11 (AP)—A scientist told Saturday of the discovery of a new, and relatively simple, method of producing a vaccine which could be "the greatest single technical advance in whipping polio."

Dr. Herold R. Cox, chief of virus research for Lederle Laboratories of Pearl River, N. Y., said the new serum is the opening wedge in the struggle against the crippling disease.

Cox told fellow-scientists of the discovery Friday at the opening ceremonies of the University of California's new $2,000,000,000 biotechnology building.

The scientist said one of the most satisfactory qualities of the new vaccine was that it could be inexpensively mass produced.

He said the new method of producing polio vaccine involves the use of chick embryos instead of the former tedious means of producing it in brain tissues of humans, monkeys and rodents.

Cox said that under the old system of production the entire immune serum globulin vaccine output in the U. S. would be enough to treat only 507,466 of the nation's children under ten years old, or roughly 1.7 per cent of them.

Also, under the old method there was a charge of $22.50 per patient but Cox said the new style vaccine can be available in almost unlimited quantities at a "fraction" of the old cost.

A report on the effectiveness of the vaccine, as produced in brain tissues, was made to the scientists Friday by Dr. Karl F. Meyer, chief of the University of

Deschutes Sweep at Potato Show Called 'Shot in Arm'

When Central Oregon potato growers swept all major Nette Gem awards last fall at the Klamath Basin Potato Festival, held annually at Merrill, they gave the show a "shot in the arm" that will mean stiffer competition this fall.

This was the message brought to Bend yesterday by a festival delegation headed by Rev. G. A. Milne, chairman of the show, and Queen Martha Beasley and her princesses.

The group met with Bend Chamber of Commerce directors at the Pilot Butte Inn, outlined plans for the 1952 festival on October 17 and 18, posed for pictures, then adjourned for a radio interview at the KBND studio.

It was petite Queen Martha, from Merrill, who warned Central Oregon growers that there will be stiffer statewide competition for trophies and ribbons this year. Festival princesses who made the trip here were Shirley Johnston, Henley; Anita Weber, Malin, and Helen Kellagher, Tulelake. Chaperones were Mrs. Carol Wyant and Mrs. Betty Hodges. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Beasley, parents of the festival queen, were also present.

Four State Awards
As a result of the expansion of the Merrill festival, four state awards are to be offered this year, in the Nette Gem commercial U. S. No. 1-A division, White Rose commercial division, certified seed division and White Rose class A S. Many other awards have also been added this year for the state competition.

Up until last year, the Klamath basin festival was a closed show. It was opened to statewide competition in the Gem class, and Central Oregon growers moved in to take all major awards.

John Susac, Bend, crowned potato king of Oregon at the 1951 show, was present for yesterday's luncheon meeting. Joining the group here yesterday, and welcoming Queen Martha and her princesses, was Marla Maple, Bend's 1952 Mirror Pond Pageant queen.

The festival program will open on Friday, Oct. 17, with the judging of exhibits in the Merrill High School gymnasium. There will be a football game in the afternoon, and at 6:30 the annual potato festival banquet will be held, with Queen Martha and her court to be introduced.

Annual Parade
A highlight of the program on Saturday, Oct. 18, will be the annual parade, starting at 10 a.m. A free barbecue will follow at the Merrill community hall. There will be a football game in the afternoon. (Continued on page 5)

"TAKEN FOR RIDE"
ELKHART, Ind., Oct. 11 (AP)—An unruffed Sen. Robert A. Taft stepped from an elevator cage after it had plunged nine floors into the basement of the Elkhart Hotel Friday and remarked, "This is a nice reception." All passengers in the elevator escaped with minor injuries. The manager of the hotel said they were all so interested in the Ohio Republican "they didn't know what happened." Hotel officials said the elevator was so overloaded with Taft's admirers that it could not be stopped on its downward trip.

Scientist Reports of New Discovery Which Could Be Great Advance in Whipping Polio

California's Hooper Foundation.

He said "demonstrable" amounts of polio-fighting antibodies had been produced in 61 young patients within 30 days, indicating a state of immunization.

Meyers emphasized the tests in no way proved the vaccine actually had made the patients immune to polio. Only the actual exposure to the disease could prove or disprove that fact he said.

The Meyers tests were conducted at the state home at Sonoma, Calif., recently by Dr. Hilary Koprowski, an assistant to Cox.

Cox, in his report, also emphasized there could be no predictor at this time whether the vaccine will produce complete immunity. But he said the mass-produced product will enable wholesale tests to be conducted in the field.

Adlai Gives Own Ideas On Fighting Corruption

2-Day 'Rest' Set at Denver By GOP's Ike

DENVER, Colo., Oct. 11 (AP)—Dwight D. Eisenhower Saturday brought his presidential campaign caravan to a two-day "rest stop," but he'll probably spend more time working on strategy than in relaxing.

Eisenhower flew here from Salt Lake City, Utah, where Friday night he attacked Democratic labor policies and said a Republican "middle way" government would bring America a "nobler, more perfect union."

Eisenhower pleaded for an end to "extremes and extremists" and said that he and his party want to get the nation "back on the middle way."

The overall tone of his Utah address followed closely his campaign "preview" opening speech six weeks ago in Boise, Idaho.

Resumes Trip Monday
The former five-star general resumes his travels Monday and during the week will campaign in Wyoming, Oklahoma, Louisiana, Texas, Tennessee, West Virginia, New York, Delaware and New Jersey.

His Salt Lake City address — the major appearance in a busy day during which he also campaigned in Arizona and New Mexico — was made before more than 10,000 persons in the historic, dome-roofed Latter Day Saints Tabernacle.

Eisenhower's Democratic opponent, Gov. Adlai Stevenson, will speak from the same rostrum Tuesday night.

The Republican nominee, in a 28-minute address punctuated 43 times by applause, said a "major aim" of his "crusade" was to revive faith like that exhibited by Mormon pioneers in defying and conquering the wilderness.

"Assorted Nonsense"
He regretted that the "party in power" had not seen fit to abide by a pledge to "wage a campaign aimed to 'educate and elevate' the American people." He said he had "not replied in kind" to "assorted nonsense" of the Democrats and "I do not intend to do so."

Eisenhower received his longest and loudest applause when he told the Tabernacle audience:

"I do not intend to appeal to prejudice, to fear, to self-interest. To do that would be to lose more than an election. When I left my old way of life for this campaign, I knew I was starting out with clean hands. For one thing, I was not a politician—and I'm not one now."

He said he thought the American people would "welcome a change from too many bosses and too much machine politics, a total change from the prevailing political practice of divide, exploit, tax, spend and rule."

4 Persons Hurt In Auto Crash
Four persons were injured, three of them seriously, this morning when a car carrying a party of hunters west from Bend over the Cascade Lakes highway left the road and crashed into some jack-pines.

Feared seriously injured in the accident were Robert Snyder, Portland, driver of the car; Aaron Sands, Seattle; and John Bounds, 1424 Cumberland, Bend. The fourth occupant of the car, William Sands, a boy, was hospitalized, but his injuries were not considered as serious as those of the three men.

Investigating officers said the accident occurred about 15 miles west of Bend, on the Cascade Lakes road. The car, tracks indicate, left the road on the driver's side and plunged into the trees, apparently when moving at a considerable speed. The car did not turn over. Injuries were the result of the terrific impact. The accident occurred about 8 a. m.

The injured men were brought to St. Charles Memorial Hospital here by Owl ambulance. The boy came into Bend in a passing car. Full extent of the injuries suffered by the three men was not definitely known this morning, but it was known that Sands and Snyder suffered leg fractures and Bounds a broken arm and other injuries.

Sands is U. S. Coast Guard recruiting officer in Seattle.

Lava Bears Squeeze 6-6 Tie From Rampaging Albany Club

BY BILL PERKINS
Bend high school's Lava Bears snuggled not too safely within the arms of Lady Luck on Bruin field last night as they eked out a precarious 6 to 6 tie with Albany high school's rampaging Bulldogs.

Before a capacity crowd that filled practically every seat in grandstand and bleachers, the heavier, stronger and faster Bulldogs literally tore the Bend line and defensive bulwarks to ribbons as they fought their way for impressive gains through most of the contest.

But when the blue chips were down, Bud Robertson's hopefuls would dig in with an air of desperation and halt the onward march of the banyan backs, forcing them to kick and giving the Bruins a new lease on their football life.

Forced to Kick
The Lava Bears received the ball on the opening kickoff but could make but three scant yards in three attempts, forcing Boardman to punt out of danger. Albany thereupon started right in to shatter the Bruin defense with three successive first downs which swiftly carried the ball into Bend territory. Then the Bend line stiffened, and with the aid of a 15-yard clipping penalty against the Bulldogs, obtained the ball after Albany was forced to kick.

Miles Boardman and Bill Robeck picked up about three yards between them on two off-tackle plays. Volney Sigmond next attempted a pass intended for Mel Loy. But Claris Poppert, Bulldog halfback, leaped high into the air for an interception and raced to Bend's 21 yard line before being brought to earth by Boardman. Poppert then made 6 yards through the line. Gatlin picked up three more and Gary Strunk, the swift-moving Bulldog fullback, a moment later carried it across for the Bulldog touchdown. The attempted place kick for conversion was wide of the mark, and Albany led, 6 to 0.

Begin March
Early in the second quarter the Lava Bears began to march, with Robeck doing a bit of fancy broken field running to return an Albany punt to the Bulldogs' 47-yard line. Boardman then skinned an end to the Bulldog 36, and a moment later took a handoff from Sigmond to race down to the 14-yard line before he was stopped. Then Sigmond, on a quarterback sneak, placed the ball on the 6-inch line. Too much time for the huddle paralyzed the Bruins five yards. Twice the Bruins failed to dent the Bulldog line, and then Sigmond with a short but accurate pass to Bill Baer in the end zone, evened up the count. Bill Giltner's drop kick for conversion was no good, and the first half ended, 6 to 6.

Throughout the third and fourth quarters the Bulldogs threatened time after time, but when the going got roughest, either a Bulldog fumble or a stiffened Bruin defense kept the Bulldogs away from the end zone.

In the closing seconds of play, Albany on a long pass from Ridinger to Poppert, picked up 22 yards, and a moment later picked up another 16 on a statue of liberty play, to place the ball down within the shadows of the Bend goal posts.

20 Suspended At Salem High
SALEM, Oct. 11 (AP)—Twenty students of Salem high school, several of them athletes, were suspended from school late Friday or withdrawn because of affiliations with a secret society.

The suspending action came after a full day of interviewing of the boys by Principal E. A. Carleton and members of his staff.

The names of five seniors who were suspended were disclosed. They were John Perry, Charles Kloos, John Caughell, Robert Lyons and Robert Joy. Kloos was involved with Salem Football Coach Leo Gustafson in a post-game brawl at Bend after the Bend-Salem football game a week ago.

Perry and Joy were members of the Salem team. Perry was a first string guard and Joy a second string back.

Carleton said:

"The boys were given every chance to explain their actions and, in the face of overwhelming evidence, practically all admitted their part in the organization."

Carleton said when the students were found to belong to the great society, whose members call themselves "Van Dykes," they were given the choice of withdrawing from school or facing suspension and possible expulsion. The cases of those suspended will be heard by the school board, which will take final action.

Morse Says Ike, Nixon Stalling
WASHINGTON, Oct. 11 (AP)—Sen. Wayne Morse, Oregon Republican, accused Dwight D. Eisenhower and his GOP running mate, Sen. Richard M. Nixon, of "stalling" in giving the American people "all the facts" of their personal finances.

"If they have nothing to hide," Morse said, "it is a simple matter to turn over to the press their office copy of their tax returns."

"Eisenhower and Nixon should stop stalling on making public their income tax returns," Morse said in a statement.

Skeleton Found Near Golf Club

An unexplained death in which the identity of the victim may never be known was uncovered about three miles south of Bend late yesterday afternoon when Howard E. Besson, a teacher in the Allen grade school, made the gruesome discovery of a skeleton in the underbrush about three-quarters of a mile southeast of the Bend Golf club course.

There was no mark of identification except for a torn and faded card from some hotel on South Sixth street, Los Angeles. There was every indication that it had been a natural death, as there was no sign of gunshot or other wounds, coroner's deputies said.

The body had been exposed to the elements for at least a year. It was indicated, Deputy Coroner Joy Walker and state police made an investigation this morning. They were certain it was not the body of Dow Hamer, elderly man who wandered away from Sunset Home last winter and was last seen in the Tualuma creek area west of Bend.

Authorities will get in touch with Los Angeles officials to see if the hotel in Los Angeles can supply any information.

Demo Hopeful Reports He'd Move Swiftly

BY JOHN L. CUTLER
MIAMI, Fla., Oct. 11 (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson said Saturday corruption must be attacked swiftly and ruthlessly to prevent political scandals and promised he would take such action if he is elected president.

The Democratic candidate chose Miami, one of the chief targets of the Senate Crime Committee investigations, to touch on the hot subject of politico-criminal alliances.

He observed in a speech prepared for delivery to a rally in Bay Front Park that Miami had a touch of scandals resulting from an "unsavory alliance between a national criminal syndicate and the semi-legitimate operators who cluster around the fringes of the entertainment business."

"But I was pleased to see that you have learned the practical lesson taught me in my time as governor of Illinois — that corruption will not wait for leisurely attention," he said.

Rooted Out
"It must be attacked by those in authority, and it must be ruthlessly rooted out before it has a chance to fester and spread through the whole of our political system."

"I congratulate you for so moving in Miami, as I have in Illinois, and I pledge you that I will follow the same pattern of action in Washington."

The speech in effect was an answer to one made in the same park early last month by Dwight D. Eisenhower, the Republican presidential candidate, in which he denounced "corruption" as part of the "mess in Washington" and said Stevenson couldn't clean it up because he was the hand-picked candidate of the administration that permitted the "mess."

Stevenson said he would claim that our Democratic leaders are and have been pretty good human beings — but I make no claim to infallibility on their behalf."

Strikes Back
The Illinois governor also struck back at Eisenhower's charge that the federal government would make the people economic and political slaves by centralization of power in Washington.

Referring to several federal programs which have contributed to the economic growth of Florida agriculture, Stevenson said:

"You all know what apparently the general doesn't know — that the basis of all these federal programs has been cooperation, not coercion."

In addition, he said, the Florida tourist business has profited from the general prosperity and "credit for that happy condition can be properly claimed by the party in power for the past 20 years."

The Miami speech was one of three scheduled by Stevenson today to wind up a whirlwind airplane invasion of the deep South.

Tampa, Fla., where Eisenhower also spoke, and Nashville, Tenn., were the other two stops before a return to his Springfield, Ill., base for the weekend.

Triumphant Appearance?
The Democratic candidate made what local Democrats called a triumphant appearance at New Orleans Friday night, his first stop in the heart of the Southland.

In his address here in New Orleans' historic Beauregard Square before a crowd estimated at more than 10,000, Stevenson bluntly reminded a sizable stand on civil rights and federal ownership of tidelands.

He warned that a GOP victory in November would turn back the South's prosperity and said that the Democratic party has always been for world trade and liberalized tariffs, "the things for which the South has always stood."

TRUCK STOLEN
A. E. Schuman, 16 Louisiana avenue, has notified police that his half ton truck, a Chevrolet, was stolen from in front of his home yesterday evening. Up until this morning, the truck had not been reported located.
