Skiers to Get Second Lesson On Saturday

Young skiers, 93 of whom turned out for their "basic training" this past week end, will receive their second lesson Saturday at 2 p. m., at the Skyliners playground on upper Tumalo creek just west of Bend. Instructors have announced. The turnout of students surprised instructors, inasmuch as rain fell most of the afternoon. Some three feet of snow covered the area, however. Instructors included some of Bend's best known skiers, including Olaf Skjersaa, who handled the older group, 16 years and over. Bert Hagen handled the 14 to 16 year group, and W. E. Naylor instructed the 14 to 15 year group. Paul Hosmer, Jr., gave the basic instructions to 11 to 13 year old youngsters, and Ray Hedwall, a new arrival in Bend and formerly a University of Washington skier, taught the small children, from 9 to 10 years old. Purpose of the school, sponsored by the Skyliners, is to provide basic instructions for beginning skiers.

Parents of the younger children and beginners have been asked to check their youngsters' equipment, especially ski binders. Some of the children last Saturday lacked proper binders, and they found it difficult to handle their skis.

Eight young people came from Redmond to join in the classes. They were Maxine Elliott, Jim Bernard, Bob Coyner, Brad Hallock, John Poe, Shirley Johnson, Ken Viegas and Doris Viegas.

Bend youngsters who enrolled in the school last Saturday followed:

Sedgman's Lead Cut by Kramer

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 21 (AP)—Frank Sedgman's lead over Jack Kramer was cut from six matches to four Wednesday in their cross-country professional tennis tour, while Pancho Segura remained unbeaten.

Kramer took advantage of several double-faults by Sedgman to defeat the Aussie, 6-3, 6-2, here Tuesday night. Segura meanwhile chalked up his 11th straight victory over Ken McGregor, 8-6, 6-4.

The troupe, under Kramer's direction, moved on to Cincinnati Wednesday for another one-night stand.

Ex-Notre Dame Star Moves Up

TULSA, Okla., Jan. 21 (AP)—Bernie Witucki, a Notre Dame product of the Knute Rockne days, stepped up to the head football coaching job at the University of Tulsa Wednesday.

Tulsa's board of trustees, moving as swiftly as Coach J. O. (Buddy) Brothers did when he announced his resignation—effective Feb. 1—Tuesday, named Witucki as Brothers' successor late Tuesday night.

Youth, Optimism By-Words For Grimm's Boston Braves

By BOB PARKIN
GRAY SUMMIT, Mo., Jan. 21 (AP)—Jolly Charlie Grimm believes his Boston Braves are right back where they were last fall—with the accent on youth.

"Youth and optimism are the by-words in our camp for next season," he said. "We contemplated some deals at the winter meetings, but since no one developed the club, as of now, stands as it did at the end of last season."

On Thursday Card

Tommy Martindale, 195-pounder, will meet "Eric the Great" Pederson, 190, in the second bout of a double main event wrestling card this Thursday at the Bend armory. The main event will feature a rematch between Don Kindred, colored star from Toledo, O., and Tom Ross, rugged Salem boy.

Colorado Upsets Kansas 72 to 68 In Big Surprise

NEW YORK, Jan. 21 (AP)—The determined attempt by Kansas, defending NCAA champion, to regain the basketball heights struck a lulltime Wednesday—a surprise 72-68 defeat by Colorado's Bufaloes.

When the current season started, little was expected from Kansas because the Jayhawks lost four out of five starters from last year's championship team—including All-American center Clyde Lovellette.

Former Player Sets Testimony

NEW YORK, Jan. 21 (AP)—Jim Line, former star player and assistant coach of the University of Kentucky basketball team, was scheduled to testify as a prosecution witness Wednesday in the perjury trial of Bill Spivey.

Spivey, seven-foot tall former All-American player at Kentucky, is charged with lying seven times to the grand jury investigating the recent "fixing" scandal, especially when he told the jury he did not "fix" games or discuss fixing them.

Gil Turner Gets Revenge Victory

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 21 (AP)—Young Gil Turner, happy with his revenge triumph over Bobby Dykes, of Miami, Fla., mapped a fistie program Wednesday which he hoped would bring him a return title bout with welterweight champion Kid Gavilan.

The young Negro from the Strawberry Mansion section of Philadelphia was jubilant over his 10-round, one-sided victory Tuesday night. The six-foot Dykes outweighed him 154 pounds to 149½.

Gill to Start New Quintet

CORVALLIS, Jan. 21 (AP)—Oregon State was slated to open up with a new basketball lineup Friday night when it faces Idaho at Moscow in the first of a two-game Northern division series.

Couch Slat's Gill said his starters would probably be Tex Whiteman and Jim Sargue at forwards, Tony Wlastolca, center, and Johnny Jarboe and Ron Robins at guards.

Sports Parade

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK, Jan. 21 (AP)—If you find the time required for a haircut getting shorter, you too probably are taking umbrage Wednesday with New York Boxing Chairman Bob Christenberry over his remarks about Jersey Joe Walcott.

Christenberry came right out the other day and said that maybe old Joe is getting too old to fight.

The inference was that the New York boxing boss had secret evidence that Joe was as ancient as most of us think he is. He remarked that maybe Walcott would never fight again—and dropped in a line that guys over 40 aren't awarded a fistie license.

"Now, according to the record book, Walcott was born Jan. 31, 1914. That makes him 38 at the moment. A well-traveled 38, to be sure, but that's what the man claims.

Actually, that makes Joe a virtual apprentice in the sports business these days.

Practically every sport has a mauling Methusalem who can spot old Jersey Joe a few weeks and create...

Still very much on the baseball scene and able to stand on one foot late at night with the best of the available youngsters, are 62-year-old Casey Stengel and Steve O'Neill. And out on the field, lobbing them in despite the length of their beards, are lads like Bobo Newsom, who's 45, and Dutch Leonard, who's 43. Satchel Paige they say, was showing his curve ball to the nation's scattered towns and hamlets when Abner Doubleday decided to make the game official.

You think Walcott's old at 38? Well, that handsome young tennis star they just got off the Davis Cup team—the guy all the bobby-soxers swoon over—is 39-year-old Gardner Mulloy.

On the golf course, for one round at least, I have a guy I'll take as my partner any day in the week against anybody you want to bring. He's 50-year-old Gene Sarazan, but for 18 holes he'll have any of 'em biting their nails.

Maybe I'm all steamed up because my haircuts take about five minutes these days. Or maybe it's because I remember when Sam Snead broke into golf and somebody just called to my attention that he is 41 years old now.

Anyhow, at the moment I'm wondering why Willie Hoppe stepped down at a mere 64—and why Connie Mack quit at 90. Show 'em Joe.

Snider Receives Big Salary Hike

(By United Press)
The salary raise Duke Snider earned during the World Series was given to him cheerfully today by his Brooklyn Dodger bosses.

Happy and completely satisfied, Snider, who batted .345 against the Yankees in the Series, signed his 1953 contract for an estimated $23,000—approximately $3,000 more than he made in 1952.

Snider, who batted .303 during the regular season, ran a muck against the Yankees, collecting 24 total bases, driving in eight runs and tying a World Series record set by Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig by walloping four home runs.

Elsewhere in the majors, outfielder Hal Jeffcoat became the seventh member of the Cubs to come to terms for the 1953 season. Jeffcoat, who led the National League outfielders defensively at 1996, batted .219 in 102 games.

Early Wynn, a 23-game winner, arrived in Cleveland for contract discussions with General Manager Hank Greenberg. The veteran righthander, who came from his home in Nokomis, Fla., said, "I know what I'd like but I have no idea what their offer will be. Hank and I have never had any trouble, though, and I doubt that we will this time."

In the only deal made Tuesday, the St. Louis Browns received first baseman Dixie Upright and approximately $25,000 in cash from the White Sox in exchange for infielder Fred Marsh. Marsh batted .242 last season while playing for both the Senators and Browns.

STUNT PLANNED
