The Dalles Upset By Marshfield; Eugene in Finals

EUGENE, March 21 (AP)—Marshfield's power Pirates, victors last night over previously undefeated The Dalles, tangled tonight with the hometown Eugene high school quintet for the Oregon State Class A high school basketball title.

The Pirates smashed through to the finals by defeating The Dalles 75-71, in a wild overtime battle. Eugene thumped Dallas, 64-52, to advance to the championship game.

Dallas and The Dalles meet tonight for the third-place spot in the tourney.

The racehorse Marshfield-The Dalles game, played before a wild, screaming capacity crowd in McArthur court, was a see-saw contest from the opening buzzer to the overtime period.

Extra Period
It was forced into an extra period when Marshfield's Dave Jones tossed in a field goal with two seconds remaining to tie the game at 67-all. The score was tied again at 71-all, but two free throws by Stan Lewis and a field goal by Quincy Towers gave the Pirates the game.

The Marshfield team grabbed a 22-17 lead at the first quarter mark, but The Dalles jumped ahead to go out in front, 36-34 at halftime. Then the Pirates battled to a 52-50 edge going into the fourth period.

High for the game was Johnny Lundell, The Dalles guard, with 22 points. Leading Marshfield was Fred Droush with 21.

Eugene's Axemen had a relatively easy time trimming Dallas. The scrappy Eugene quint forged ahead to a 33-24 halftime lead and led 58-35 going into the final period.

Only Real Scare
The victor's only real scare came in that fourth quarter when a team of substitutes was used. Dallas held the reserve squad scoreless until the final two minutes of the game when Eugene led by 10 points, 58-48. That was the nearest The Dalles team could get.

Norm Willoughby of Eugene was high scorer with 18 points. George Curtiss paced Dallas with 12.

In consolation semi-finals yesterday, Clatskanie posted a convincing 68-51 victory over Medford and Hillsboro triumphed over Astoria, 44-34. The teams meet tonight for fifth place.

Two Portland teams will meet today for fourth place after wins made in other consolation semi-finals yesterday.

Cleveland edged Salem, 55-53, in a nip-and-tuck game, while Central notched a thrilling double-overtime win over Albany, 67-65.

Women Advance In Tournament
PINEHURST, N. C., March 21 (AP)—Medalist Pat O'Sullivan of Orange, Conn., and defending champion Barbara Romack of Sacramento, Calif., were the ex-favorites while Mrs. Reinert Torgerson of Forest Hills, N. Y., took over the dark horse role for today's quarter-finals in the North and South Women's Amateur Golf championship.

Miss O'Sullivan, the 1950 and 1951 winner, plays Mary Patton Jansson of Charlottesville, Va., Miss Romack faces Barbara McIntire of Toledo, O., and Mrs. Torgerson meets Carol Dinger of Tiffin, O. Mae Murray of Rutland, Vt., plays Mary Lena Faulk of Thomasville, Ga., in the other quarter-final.

Miss O'Sullivan advanced yesterday with a 2 and 1 triumph over Kirby McKimmon of Lake Worth, Fla. Miss Romack, still weak from an attack of flu, had to go 21 holes for a 1-up victory over Mary Agnes Wall of Menominee, Mich.

At least 34 cities in the U. S. still use gas for street illumination.

Beau Pat, Kentucky Stallion, Pastured Here

John Daly Makes Profitable Avocation of Horse Raising

BY KEN L. HICKS

Few persons in Bend may realize it, but a string of valuable race horses is pastured here, and a local man has made the raising of track horses a profitable avocation for the past six years.

The owner of the horses in John Daly, whose main business is operation of the D-D club, at 927 Bond street. A genial Irishman with a host of friends in Central Oregon, John has been following the turf for many years.

He has raced his own string of horses in major meets; has raised race horses for sale and even has trained horses. He knows lineage and blood lines and he can quote the names of many famous horses—and their earnings—from memory.

In other words John Daly loves horses—all horses, but especially race horses. He now at the owner of eight of them; a valuable stallion, four brood mares and three colts. One of the mares, Ice Maiden, was shipped to the United States from England. The other two, Paeonia Arrow and Onda Cora, also have participated in many race meets, before being retired to pasture and motherhood.

Training Stage
Three colts now nearing the training stage, at a paddock just outside the city limits south of Bend, are offspring of the mares listed above. Now they are shaggy-haired pets, nuzzling their owner for sugar cubes and other delicacies, but soon they will shed their winter coats and emerge as sleek yearlings. Then they will be ready for initial acquaintance with the race track—their main purpose in life for the next few years.

John Daly might not admit it, but his pride and joy is Beau Pat, a beautiful stallion. He pastures this horse and two of the mares at the T. W. Vandeventer ranch east of Bend. Beau Pat is from the blue grass state of Kentucky, where they "really raise race horses." He is as gentle as a kitten, and Daly rides him occasionally, just to keep Beau Pat used to the feel of the saddle.

Daly and his brother, Matt, have had horses entered in most of the night race meets in the Pacific Northwest, and also in San Francisco. Angus Frazier, who also lives in Bend, has a string of race horses from the same blood line, which he quarters and trains at Traneville.

Largely For Sale
Long Acres, Easy Meadows—almost anywhere on the coast where races are held, except Santa Anita—have seen John Daly and his string of horses at times. Daly now raises race horses largely for sale, and does not plan to "make the circuit" this year. He may not even train the three colts now nearing maturity here, for their track debut. His present plan is to sell them for training and racing by another owner, he explained.

All of Daly's horses are registered with the New York Racing club, which has the pedigree of every race horse in the world.

Television Plans Receiving Study
KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 21 (AP)—The National Collegiate Athletic Association's television committee will hear House suggestions today on the format next fall's college football games should follow.

The session, expected to end at noon, will wind up a three-day meeting here. The committee will reconvene at New York April 8 for a two-day stamp, and will draw up a definite schedule for televising games then.

Wiley Whipping Lava Bear Nine Into Condition

Coach Roger Wiley's 1953 Lava Bear baseball team will have a mixture of veterans and newcomers this year, with prospects still uncertain, judging from recent workouts.

Among the returning veterans are Jerry Calhoun, first baseman, who may miss the Central Oregon baseball jamboree March 28, as a result of an elbow injury. Chuck Christensen or Jim Carpenter may be at second base, and Maurice Rasmussen is a candidate for the shortstop position. The third sack remains to be filled, as Ron Allen was in last year's graduating class.

Tom Hunt is expected to fill one of the outfield posts. He is being shifted in practice from short to the outfield, because of a knee injury suffered in basketball. Bill Giltner, when not pitching, also will be an outfielder. Wiley said that Jerry McBride may be shifted from catcher to the outfield, to give a d d e d h i t t i n g strength. Fred Payne will be available for some field duty and Jim Crowell, up from last year's Jayvee squad, also will see action this season.

Giltner Showing Up Well
Wiley reports that Bill Giltner has been showing up well in practice, from the pitcher's box. Fred Payne also is sure to do some hurling this season, if his arm stands up. Chuck Christensen, who played a good relief role last year and Tom Culver, a transfer from Yakima, are among other possibilities. Tom is a left-hander. If necessary, Rasmussen also can do the hurling.

Prospects for the position of catcher include Jerry McBride and Earl Corkett, who was JV catcher last year. Tom Bonnell was being groomed for this post until he suffered a broken leg recently.

The first regular game will be played here March 31, against Madras.

Bratton Beats Jones in Fifth

NEW YORK, March 21 (AP)—Slick Johnny Bratton outwitted today that "push-over" tactics with which he set up Bobby Jones for a fifth-round knockout would be used on all future "riders."

"They're not going to keep in and on top of me any more," said the explosive boxer who knocked out Jones of Oakland, Calif., at 2:52 of the fifth round last night after Bobby had threatened to give him a thorough thrashing.

The winner was favored at 17-5. Bratton, campaigning lustily for another shot at the welterweight crown, demonstrated before 4,275 in the nationally televised and broadcast fight at Madison Square Garden that he is a deadly man at long range.

His circling and push-away tactics enabled him to evict accounts with the "Jones Boys." Bobby Jones last night used the same "riding" tactics against him that had been so successful on Dec. 5 when Ralph "Tiger" Jones of Yonkers, N. Y., won an upset decision over Bratton. The Tiger and Bobby Jones are stablemates but not relatives.

Against the Tiger in December, Bratton let his opponent keep marching in and forcing him back on a straight line. It was a disastrous retreat.

Last night Bobby Jones, 152 pounds, started with the same plan against Chicago Johnny, 149. And at the start of the fifth round he was far ahead in the official voting. Referee Ray Miller had Jones in front, 3-0-1. Judge Frank Forbes favored him, 4-0. But Judge Arthur Susskind gave each two rounds. The United Press had Jones leading, 3-0-1.
