

Dentists Meet, Discuss Advances In Oral Hygiene

CLEVELAND, O. (AP) — The nation's teeth and gums got a good going-over at the 94th annual convention of the American Dental Association here.

Some 10,000 dentists considered all aspects of oral health from the value of a therapeutic dentifrice to the contribution of three-dimensional color analysis in helping to learn more about the wear and tear of chewing on caps and crowns.

Dr. Frank C. Hughes of Indianapolis, Ind., a professor of prosthodontics at Indiana University, spoke glowingly of the new "store-bought" teeth.

He pointed out that, by improving new materials and improvements in "gum characterization," plus an understanding reached with the patient on the prospects of dentures, "a startlingly life-like result" can be produced that will make for a happy and enthusiastic patient.

New Drilling Method

Dr. Donald C. Winans of the University of Michigan's dental school gave a happy report on drilling, a normally unhappy subject.

"We now have some newer cutting aids that, if properly used, will reduce to a minimum the most irritating and desiccative forces in operative dentistry—heat, vibration and pressure," Dr. Winans said.

He pointed to an air-abrasive, gas-propulsion device which blows — at high speed — tiny abrasive particles through a nozzle and thence to the surface to be cut. The particles strike enamel and dentine at supersonic speeds of more than 1,000 feet per second.

However, Dr. Winans admitted that not all such work can be done by the new devices and that the old-style rotary drill still has wide uses.

The old drill's sting can be softened, he pointed out, by using a higher speed type—which gets the agony over with sooner—and by controlling the heat with water and air spray cooling equipment.

Dr. Winans, boosted by the Hollywood movie moguls, is making a contribution to dentistry.

Gum Care

The University of Pittsburgh's Dr. Charles B. Walton described the three-dimensional color analysis of jacket crowns helpful in learning why they sometimes break. The jacket crowns are those white caps used on front teeth.

Dr. Walton explained that in research a large plastic prototype of a jacket was loaded on an appropriate core and then sectioned, making it possible, by viewing the sections in polarized light, to find the precise areas of detrimental strain.

Certain changes in core shape, he said, might be indicated by the pictures which would reduce the fracturing of the caps. The dentist then would be advised to alter the shape he gives the tooth, or core, when preparing it for a cap.

Dr. J. Wilfred Gallagher, director of the dental hygiene curriculum at the University of North Carolina, said statistics show that 80 per cent of adult dental patients have varying degrees of inflammation in their mouths. Neglect and lack of treatment of inflammation and other gum disorders, he added, account for the loss of teeth among some 65 per cent of adult patients.

Truman Circled by Friends As He Reads Defiant Note

NEW YORK, Nov. 12 (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman, surrounded by his family and friends, read his defiance of a congressional subpoena today with smiling confidence at a locked door press conference.

More than 75 newsmen and photographers with a battery of movie and television cameras jammed the Waldorf Astoria Hotel's Royal Suite to hear the former President read a statement almost without parallel in American political history.

Reads Letter

Mr. Truman read the letter addressed to Chairman Harold H. Velde of the House Un-American Activities Committee in which he stated that he would not answer a subpoena for testimony because it violated the constitutional separation of powers.

Robinson Firm Loses Verdict

The jury returned a quick verdict for the defendant Tuesday afternoon in the case of the H. L. Robinson Neon Sign Co. vs. Dale and Marguerite Huffman, Redmond. It was the third case on the docket of the current session of the Deschutes circuit court.

The Robinson Co., suing under the name of the Oregon-Washington Collection Bureau, Inc., sought to bind the Huffmans to a five-year neon sign rental contract. Mrs. Huffman said she had signed the contract with the understanding that she could discontinue renting the sign at any time.

She discontinued after six months, and the Robinson firm sued for the balance of the rental.

Benson Favors Voluntary Controls, New Markets to Solve Farm Problem

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 12 (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson today blamed overproduction for the drop in farm prices and suggested voluntary controls and the finding of new markets to check the decline.

Benson said the country was now getting a "very clear picture" that past farm policies would not work, without unusual demands for more production such as were brought on by war and foreign aid programs.

Benson said there was "room for belief" that the Truman administration "missed farmers as to the demand required of the cold war." He also said the Truman administration failed to impose controls required by existing legislation.

Cites Overproduction

"The only reasonable thing to do is to adjust to the situation that actually confronts us," Benson said in a speech prepared for delivery before the closing session of the convention of the Association of Land Grant Colleges and Universities.

"The plain truth is that our farm production this year is larger than our markets—domestic and export—will take at prices that are fair to the producer," Benson said.

Benson said that with farmers' production costs continuing at "extremely high levels, it is clear that some cutbacks in production and some shifts between types of production are necessary."

"The immediate task" Benson said is to expand markets at home and abroad and to bring production in line with prospective demands.

Benson is on a five-day tour of the billion dollar drought country in the Middle West and the Great Plains.

Benson, under heavy attack for his controversial farm policies, hopes to gather facts and sift opinion for the new agriculture program he is drafting for submission to Congress next year.

First stop on the tour itinerary was Lubbock, Tex., in the heart of the cotton and cow country. The 2,000-mile tour also will cover Texas, New Mexico, Nevada, Missouri, Arizona, Utah and Wyoming.

Benson will leave Lubbock tomorrow morning for Santa Fe and Albuquerque, N. M., and Prescott, Ariz. Saturday he will leave Prescott for Elko, Nev., Rock Springs, Wyo., and Salt Lake City, remaining there all day Sunday.

Eugene Orchestra Sets Bend Concert

The Eugene High School orchestra of 30 members, under direction of Byron Miller and William Tweed, will give a concert Saturday evening, Nov. 14, at 7:30 p. m., at the Methodist church. The program will include popular, classical and novelty numbers, including several solos.

The local appearance is sponsored by the Methodist Youth fellowship. There will be no admission charge but a free will offering will be taken. The public is invited, it was announced.

The Eugene High School orchestra has been well received in concert tours through Oregon in the past several years.

Bend Rotarians 'Taught Ropes'

Rotary club members were "taught the ropes," at their luncheon meeting yesterday at the Pilot Butte inn, and in teams of two, made rope halters for the 4-H steers to be exhibited at the fat stock show next year.

The program called attention to National 4-H Week, which begins Nov. 14, and Doug Messenger, Deschutes county 4-H club agent, was present to introduce Gary Turner and Barbara Carllie, two outstanding 4-H club members.

Family is Happy

Beaming with pride and chatting animatedly in a corner of the luxurious suite were Mrs. Truman and daughter Margaret. The former President's wife declined comment, but Miss Truman said, "I enjoyed every minute of it."

"I'm always proud of dad," she added. "My only worry is the klieg lights. They're hard on his eyes."

CLAIM FILED

The Deschutes Federal Savings and Loan Association has filed a $4,509.59 mortgage claim against Harold J. and Doris Kelley, Bend, County Clerk Helen M. Dacey announced today. A balance on a mortgage totaling $4,109.59 plus $400 attorneys' fees is sought.

Ira Arrested In Phoenix On Drunk Charge

PHOENIX, Nov. 12 (AP)—Ira Hayes, who gained fame as one of the Marines who raised the American flag on Iwo Jima, was granted a suspended sentence today after being arrested for drunkenness after being here only 14 hours.

Hayes had started out Tuesday night from Los Angeles for his family's home on the Pima Indian Reservation. The former Marine had been arrested twice for being drunk in Los Angeles within two weeks, and decided to give up a job as chauffeur for Mrs. Elizabeth Martin,

Los Angeles, to return to his parents and three brothers.

Hayes arrived by bus about 7 a.m. yesterday. He told reporters he couldn't seem to overcome the "urge" to drink, and that he regretted deeply having "let down the people who helped me in Los Angeles and Chicago."

Phoenix officers arrested Hayes about 9 p.m. yesterday in front of a bar. He was jailed over night, and appeared before Magistrate C. W. Penninger today.

Penninger granted a 60-day suspended sentence.

BED-WETTING IS A SYMPTOM

It has been definitely established that bed-wetting is a symptom of an emotional maladjustment of a multitude of simple emotional disturbances.

What is of even greater importance than the cause, however, is the effect in the life of an individual. A bed-wetter often develops introverted habits because of the embarrassment he feels, or, in other cases, he becomes overly aggressive to compensate for his weakness. In the latter case, he reassures himself every time he opposes authority or acts the bully.

Obviously, other unpleasant behavior traits can develop because bed-wetting is socially embarrassing and thus causes a person to feel insecure about his capabilities.

Fortunately, bed-wetting can now be corrected and often within a few days. The Psychological Research Foundation has developed a system of treatment which corrects enureses (bed-wetting) in ninety-seven out of every hundred cases. (The other three can be cured, too, but they may require more time.)
