Heartwarming Comedy Due At Playhouse on Monday

Last performance of the ever-popular melodrama, "Ten Nights in a Bar Room" is scheduled tonight at 8:30 at Allen Auditorium, Panorama Playhouse home.

Monday night, August 23, Panorama Playhouse will open its eighth and last show of the season—John Patrick's heart-warming, fanciful, entertaining comedy, "The Curious Savage".

This show was substituted for "But Not Goodbye", which was originally scheduled for the closing show of the 1954 season, because the Playhouse after the response to "Hay Fever", "Taming of the Shrew", and "Ten Nights in a Barroom" felt that a show such as this, with these broad comedy elements would be extremely popular to close the season.

The story revolves around Mrs. Savage (Patricia Harper) who has been left ten million dollars by her husband and wants to make provident use of it.

Her grown-up step-children, Titus (Robert Page), Samuel (Lee Paves), Lilly Belle (Marie Oullette), knowing the widow has converted her fortune into negotiable securities and realizing they wouldn't be able to gain control of it, commit her to a sanitarium ("The Cloisters") in order to cure her of an "obsession".

In the sanitarium, Mrs. Savage meets various characters whom society has rejected—Florence (Lyn Simons), Hannibal (Jerry Harper), Fairy May (Norma Leistikow), Jeffrey (Robert Simons) and Mrs. Paddy (Jean Scharfenberg). In getting to know them, she realizes that here she will find happiness and decides to dedicate her fortune to their betterment.

However, when Miss Wilhelmina (Elizabeth Winship) and Dr. Emmett (Ed Van Aelstyn) tell her that there is no reason why she should remain, she at first refuses to go out into a world that will do anything for money.

Throughout the quick action of the comedy, her step-children are led a merry chase in their vain attempts to control the fortune. They are involved in all sorts of laughable mishaps which end in complete frustration.

Her "friends," in order to aid her, conspire to rid her of the step-children. She is eventually

A MARRIAGE TOAST—Mr. and Mrs. James Robert Hentges partake of a wedding toast after being united in marriage in Montreal, Canada, recently.

Bend Man Takes Canadian Bride in Montreal Rites

A wedding of local interest was held recently in Montreal, Canada, when James Robert Hentges, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hentges, 521 E. Penn avenue, took as his bride Miss Christina Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Moore, Montreal.

The beautiful double-ring ceremony was performed on July 17 at the church St. Augustine of Canterbury, Rev. Michael J. Healy officiated.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She was attired in a traditionally white gown fashioned with three tiers of lace and tulle over satin. Her white tulle veil was caught by a charming white coronet. She carried a bouquet of red roses and white sweetpeas.

Miss Dora Ruscica of Montreal was maid-of-honor. She wore a pale yellow gown of net over tulle and carried a colonial bouquet of carnations.

Best man was John Moore, brother of the bride.

Baskets of white gladioli decorated the church. Music for the ceremony included organ selections and a solo number, "Ave Maria."

A honeymoon trip included visits at Niagara Falls and Cape Cod, Mass. For her going-away costume, the bride wore a pink silk shantung suit with black accessories.

Before her marriage, Mrs. Hentges attended college in Montreal and was later employed as a payroll supervisor.

The young couple will make their home in Eugene, where Hentges is a student.

Eye-Fetching Floral Show Draws Praise

An eye-appealing display of locally grown flowers drew appreciative comments from downtown passers-by in Bend yesterday.

The unique floral exhibit was arranged by members of the Bend Garden club and was presented in show windows of Bend Furniture company. Mrs. Clifford Rasmussen was chairman for the program. She was assisted by Mrs. Stella Nelson.

Included were examples of buffet and coffee table arrangements, mantel displays, large floral baskets and various horticulture specimens.

In addition, Mrs. Rasmussen and Mrs. Del Matson planted marigolds and dwarf michaelmas daisies in boxes along the outer border of the windows. These flowers can be expected to continue to bloom until the autumn frosts.

The window display was conceived by members of the Garden club after unseasonable weather forced them to cancel their annual flower show this year.

Engagement News Told by Parents

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Applegate have announced the engagement of their daughter, Joan Nordelle to Pfc. Leland Francis Quinn of Ft. Lewis, Wash.

Miss Applegate is a former student of Walla Walla college. Her fiancé received his B. A. degree from Walla Walla college as a music major and is now a member of the 44th Infantry division band. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Quinn of Idaho Falls, previously of College Place, Wash.

The wedding has been set for Sept. 26.

Three Visitors Attend Meeting

The Mirror Pond Garden club met Tuesday at Pioneer park with 15 members and three visitors, Mrs. T. Ewing, Mrs. Anna C. Olson and Mrs. E. W. Bennett, in attendance.

Oil call was answered with an exchange of plants. The club will be represented at the state fair with Mrs. Edgar Smith and Mrs. Ed Rogers in charge of an exhibit for the parade.

Because of a death in the family there will be no corsage school by Mrs. Edlund, it has been announced.

Rev. Redden Wins Petunia Contest Here

A gay profusion of 1,700 petunias won first place for Rev. G. H. Redden, 140 Xerxes avenue, in the annual Bend Garden club petunia contest.

Announcement of the award was made today by Mrs. Stella Nelson, chairman of the contest.

First place winners in other divisions were Gail M. Thomas, 735 E. Franklin avenue, window or porch boxes, and Westward Ho motel, commercial plantings, Herschel Pierce is operator of the motel.

Thomas also placed second in the main mass plantings division. Third place honors in this group were captured by Mrs. R. D. Allison, 1544 E. Sixth street.

Other winners were Mrs. Thomas E. Duffy, 835 E. Sixth, second, and Mrs. Grant Salisbury, 326 Colorado, third in the window or porch box category, and Del Matson, Park Grocery, second for commercial plantings.

The winners will divide $25 in merchandise awards donated to the contest by Newland's Greenhouses and Nursery, 534 E. Seward.

Members of the garden club judged the contest. In announcing the winners, Mrs. Nelson stressed the superb beauty of Rev. Redden's petunias, and commented that flower lovers of the community should not miss the opportunity of driving by the Redden residence to see the display.

Thimble club of Neighbors of Woodcraft met Wednesday at 2 p. m. with Mrs. R. E. Ullrich, 246 Florida.

The executive committee of the Women's society of Christian Service will meet Wednesday, Aug. 25 at 2 p. m. at the Methodist church.

PAL club will meet at the home of Mrs. F. M. Kutz, 608 E. Norton, Monday night at 7:30.

Irrigation Tour Due Next Month

MADRAS—A three day Region No. 1 Irrigation operator's tour will be held in central Oregon, with the North Unit Irrigation district as headquarters for the group, on September 13 through 15, Carlos Randolph, superintendent of the district, has announced.

Approximately 50 managers of district operated projects and Bureau of Reclamation project managers from Oregon, Washington, Wyoming, Nevada, Idaho, and Montana, have expressed a desire to attend the meet.

"Weed Control on Irrigation Projects" has been announced as the theme of the tour which will include trips through the Jefferson county irrigation district, the Arnold Irrigation district, Ochoco Irrigation district, and Central Oregon Irrigation district.

Visiting officials will be taken through all districts, watch operators, and will be shown how weeds are combated in central Oregon. Randolph said Tour hosts will be Randolph; LaSelle Coles, Ochoco district; Olaf Anderson, Central Oregon district; and Kenneth Slack, Arnold district.

DELICIOUS
PITTSBURGH (UP)—Police stopped John L. Lloyd and Mabron Crumpton on a street corner to question them.

Lloyd was explaining that he was only talking to Crumpton and had been telling him about the good meal he had just eaten. Suddenly he coughed up eight numbers slips. Both men were arrested on charges of violating anti-lottery laws.

Ron Aschbacher Takes Training

QUANTICO, Va.—Among the Marine officer candidates undergoing six weeks of summer training as members of the Platoon Leaders Class at the Marine Corps Schools here is Ronald J. Aschbacher, son of Jake Aschbacher of Prineville, Ore., a student at Oregon State college.

This being their second summer training session, members of this class will be eligible for selection as second lieutenants in the Marine Corps Reserve upon graduation from college.

Congress Sheaves Small Airlines Bill

WASHINGTON (UP)—A bill to grant permanent Civil Aeronautics Board certificates to 14 smaller passenger and cargo airlines was shelved last night with the end of the regular Congressional session.

The bill would have given operating certificates to the smaller lines, similar to those granted in 1938 to the major airlines.

Opposition by the Commerce Department apparently blocked the bill. The department's opposition apparently was based on a Senate committee decision to add three cargo-only lines to the 11 passenger lines originally included in the bill.

Four City Posts Open at Madras

MADRAS—Three Madras city council posts and the position of Madras mayor will become vacant this fall, according to Joe Palin, city recorder. Certificates of nomination, which must be signed by 20 legal voters, must be returned to the city hall by August 23.

Those whose terms are expiring are Earl Bone, mayor, and Councilmen Leonard C. O. R. O. S. Oscar Lange, and John Beasley. Council members are elected for a four year term, and the mayor serves for two years. Officials will be named at the November elections.

Mayor Bone could not be reached for comment as to his intentions, but it is believed that he would like to see several present programs being pushed by the council to completion. Conroy, who first joined the council in 1948, has served for the past six years, and will not be up for reelection. Lange, with one and one-half years service, and Beasley, recently appointed, have indicated their desire to see present programs to completion. Both were named to fill unexpired terms.

Solon Suggests Using Own Funds To Press Probe

WASHINGTON (UP)—Chairman William Langer of the Senate Judiciary Committee started hunting for "four good lawsuits" today in an attempt to get money to finance a congressional investigation.

The North Dakota Republican said he believes his plan, outlined briefly on the Senate floor before adjournment Friday night, is without precedent. But he said he sees nothing wrong in using his own private attorney's fees to bankroll the inquiry of his Senate Anti-Monopoly Subcommittee, which is investigating among other things the controversial Dixon-Yates power contract in the Tennessee Valley.

"As long as I pay the bills, who's going to stop me?" Langer asked of newsmen who questioned him after his announcement.

Langer told the Senate that he has never before taken private law cases during his tenure as a senator, although there is nothing wrong with that practice.

He criticized the Senate "Republican leadership" for blocking legislation which would have supplied government funds to finance the nationwide inquiry of the subcommittee.

Langer later told newsmen that his protest was not directed at Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland (Calif.).

Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell of the Democratic National Committee told a Chicago audience earlier this week that funds to investigate the Dixon-Yates, "scandal" had been cut off. Langer later charged the GOP leadership with blocking his funds request.

He told newsmen today that the subcommittee still has about $10,000 unspent. Langer said his fees, obtained from "no more than four good lawsuits" will go to supplement those government funds.

WHOOOPS, SORRY!
THOROLD, Ont. (UP)—A wrecking crew moved in on a century-old frame house Friday and got right to work tearing it down.

They ripped off half the roof, yanked off the doors, smashed the windows and bashed the plaster off the walls of the upstairs rooms.

Then they discovered that the house they were supposed to tear down was a block away.

Hitchcock Plans Talk for Cordon

Phillip S. Hitchcock, former senator from the 17th Oregon district and now a member of the staff of Lewis and Clark College, Portland, will speak here on Wednesday, August 25, in behalf of the candidacy of Guy Cordon, senior senator from Oregon.

Mrs. E. R. Ryan, chairman of the Deschutes county central Republican committee, said Hitchcock will speak at a public meeting in the Thompson school auditorium, at 7:30.

Hitchcock, formerly a resident of Klamath Falls and now in Portland, lived in the Sisters community in earlier years, when he was engaged in lumbering operations.

Hitchcock resigned as state senator when he moved from the five county district.
