GREENWICH, Conn — (UP) — The 1,000th Connecticut enlistee in the Army since the Air Force undertook a separate recruiting campaign was Pvt. Frank Sargeant.

Students Hear Foreign Group

Four foreign students studying in Portland high schools addressed an assembly of Bend high school juniors and seniors in Thompson school auditorium yesterday.

The four, all seniors and in this country on exchange scholarships, discussed impressions of their American schooling.

This evening the four will attend a meeting of Central Oregon Schoolmen, an organization of men teachers from mid-state communities.

High School Principal J. R. Acheson said the Schoolmen will meet for dinner at the Elks' club and then adjourn to Kenwood school for the monthly meeting.

Features of the recently inaugurated exchange program for high school students were explained by the four. They said the program is restricted to those in their senior year and provides one year of schooling.

They said the program is patterned on the exchange program long employed in colleges.

They said that arrangements for the program are made between schools in th iscountry and abroad wishing to provide scholarships for exchange students.

Problems Of Blind Reviewed

Walter R. Dry, superintendent of the Oregon State school for the blind, was speaker before members of the Bend Lions' club at their luncheon meeting Tuesday at the Pine Tavern and touched on some problems faced by his institution.

One of the problems, he said, is that of having people "accept" educated blind persons who have made great strides in overcoming their handicaps and have become, in many instances, leaders in their professions.

Another of the problems, Dry mentioned, is that of caring for an increasing number of youngsters whose blindness is associated with premature births. More of these babies are being saved now than in earlier years, and as a result, there is an increase in the early-age group, Dry noted.

Manner in which the blind are taught and prepared for work in many fields was told by Dry, who was introduced by Dr. Mancel W. King.

Flight Field Day Plans Completed

Civil Air Patrol members at a meeting to be held at the Bend airport quaretrs this evening at 7:30 will complete plans for their flying field day, set for Sunday, March 6.

Field day activities will center at the airport, with the public invited to watch the activities. Should the weather be inclement, the program will be held inside.

A model plane contest and competitive flying will be highlights of the day. There will be a fried chicken potluck lunch.

Clubmen devoted part of the luncheon hour to a discussion of plans for their annual Sweetheart party, to be held early in March at the Bend Golf Club, with the date to be set later.

Members of the Redmond club will visit the Bend group next Tuesday.
