RUHS Students Get Band Posts

REDMOND - Several members of Redmond high school band won top spots in the try-outs for chairs during the band and chorus festival in Prineville last weekend. Director Clyde Moore reports that Larry Peden played first chair in the trombone section, Jerry Lear, a freshman, was first in the alto saxophone section, and Dora Sherman and John Dorsch were first and second in the second cornet division. Dwight Vance held second chair in the bass section, Susan Latta second in flutes, Phil Hector second in the first French horn and Shirley Vilhauer second in second French horns. Dick Hammack was third in solo cornet, Steve Kasserman third in cornet, Loletta Rand third in tenor saxophone, Jim McCormick third in trombones, Lois Peterson third on drums and Lucille Ward third in lute section. There were 41 RUHS band members in the festival and 42 from the chorus. Dr. Ronald Gregory of the University of Utah directed the combined bands from schools in this area, and the choir director was Professor Clyde Keutzer of the Hartford, Connecticut School of Music. He was formerly with the University of Oregon and made the trip across the country especially to lead the singing for Central Oregon vocalists, Moore says. He also reports the parade of combined bands on Saturday was quite successful in spite of the cold, windy weather. Moore will take 20 RUHS band members to Eugene Tuesday to participate in the basketball tournament.
