Boys in Uniform in Europe Get Break on Scotch Price

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (UP) — What's new in Washington?
The Army reports that our boys in uniform in Europe are getting a break. They now can get a bottle of good Scotch for $2.05. The price has been cut from $2.90.

Democratic Senator Bob Kerr of Oklahoma says in his news letter that Republican politicians are moving in on the White House doctor. "They have pronounced Mamie 100 per cent fit," the veteran lawmaker says, "but they hope Ike develops a 'running' fever."

A lady wrote into the copyright section of the Library of Congress, announcing with great pride that she had a hot idea "busted" on facts. But she forgot to send along the idea, however. That prompted Vincent Doyle of the copyright office to hold his breath and announce that maybe he could expect a narrative "with juicy details." Ouch! A lot of people frown on puns.

The season is on in the Capitol restaurants. Various states are whipping it up for their products, and making the legislators and the press fat in hope of a plug by mouth or in print. There have been passed around in the galleries during the last few days such things as Texas grapefruit and Louisiana and Texas rice. A battle of state's rights, you might say. Florida was not asleep when the grapefruit was passed out. The guests had two kinds of that fruit to chew over.
But it isn't like the old days. A congressman from Delaware used to toss around tons of strawberries. Another from Montana used to bring in the better part of a moose each season, have it quartered and cooked in the Senate restaurant, served with moose sauce.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon has received a memo from a fifth-grader named James Selmann of Penns Grove, N.J. The lad said he was studying about adjectives and adverbs and he wanted some help from our assistant leader. Jimmy said he had written to the President about his problem "and got a fine 'litter'." He also said he planned to write to all the governors and senators and John Foster Dulles. That's one way to collect famous autographs, with or without adjectives.

The Army likes the one about Pvt. Andrew Mouse, whose company is training in the Grunewald Forest in Germany. The soldier, from Jay, Okla., is a full-blooded Cherokee and not only that he is an expert at imitating animal calls. The other day Private Mouse cut loose one of his wolf calls and aimed it at a herd of deer. The bucks and does scattered.

Sen. Strom Thurmond, the new Democratic senator from South Carolina, and his wife, Jean, are a little unhappy because Jean can't find any yellow hominy grits in the capital. Mrs. S. has worn out a couple of pairs of shoes. But no luck.
