Shower That Bride-to-Be With Gifts, Tested Recipes

Recipes for the bride-to-be, what could be more important? So why not give a recipe shower. Each friend brings a kitchen gift with her favorite and thoroughly tested recipe tied to it with a ribbon.

Chocolate Angel Mousse is a wonderful easy-to-decorate dessert. Serve it at the shower and give the bride-to-be the recipe. It calls for store angel cake and semi-sweet chocolate morsels, the kind used in chocolate chip cookies.

Chocolate Angel Mousse (12 servings)
One angel food cake (6-8 ounces), 2 6-ounce or 1 12-ounce package, 2 cups semi-sweet chocolate morsels, 4 eggs, separated, 1/4 cup sugar, 2 cups heavy cream, whipped.

Line an 8x8x2-inch pan with waxed paper. (To line pan, grease pan lightly or rinse with cold water to hold waxed paper in place. Use 2 strips of paper, one going lengthwise and the other crosswise, with ends extending a little above the pan.)

Cut angel food cake into 3/4-inch cubes; reserve. Melt semi-sweet chocolate morsels over hot, not boiling water. Remove from heat; stir in beaten egg yolks; cool. Beat egg whites until stiff, but not dry. Gradually add sugar and beat until very stiff. Stir into chocolate mixture.

Fold in whipped cream. Turn 1-3 of the chocolate mixture into prepared pan; layer with 1-3 of the angel food cubes. Continue alternating until all of the chocolate is used. Arrange remaining cubes checkerboard fashion on top of the chocolate. Chill until firm.

To serve, lift cake from pan with waxed paper ends. Pull waxed paper from sides of cake; lift cake with two spatulas to serving dish. Cut into slices.

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Pan-broiled ham steak, cream gravy, frozen potato puffs, green beans with almonds, rye bread, tossed green salad, chocolate angel mousse, coffee, tea, milk.

Mid-May Pack Deepest In Years

Newberry crater, location of East and Paulina lakes is now under its deepest mid-May snow pack in many years and there is a possibility that the two lakes may still be under ice and snow when the season opens there on Saturday, May 28.

This past weekend 14 inches of snow fell in the crater area, adding to the imposing pack which was already piled into drifts some 15 feet deep in places.

State game officials reported here today that both East and Paulina lakes are under heavy coats of ice, with no signs of a breakup.

Roads into campsite are still choked by snow, and most camp areas are snow blocked.

The Newberry crater lake route, now surfaced its entire distance east from U.S. 97 to East lake, has been cleared of snow, assuring anglers access to the caldera on May 28 — providing the lakes are free of ice.

Deep snow flanks to the road into the crater area, and motorists are advised not to attempt to drive into the high country.
