Frick Predicts Rosy Future

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UP)—High baseball Commissioner Ford Frick ran the gamut of controversial questions with only a minimum of hedging and pictured a rosy future for the national pastime today.

"Baseball is in a sound state," Frick told the United Press late Tuesday. "As long as we have America, we're going to have baseball. We're just back to normalcy following the boom period after the war."

"Baseball today draws so much more than prior to the war," he said. "Five million was a great year before the war. Even in a bad year now we have seven and one-half to eight million."

PCC Reverses Itself on Spring Football Issue

FORTLAND, Ore. (UP) — The Pacific Coast Conference, reversing a decision made last year, has decided to continue spring football practice.

H. P. Everett, PCC spokesman said the move was decided upon "in all fairness" to West Coast athletes who compete against teams from other sections of the country where spring workouts are the rule.

The PCC had voted last year to abolish spring practice in 1956.

Spring practice will remain under present rules allowing 20 days of workouts in any 30 consecutive days.

In other action yesterday, the second day of the PCC's spring meeting, the conference named three men to an athletic code enforcement board which will hold investigations, call witnesses and recommend action to the PCC commissioner.

Named to the board were Everett, University of Washington faculty representative, for three years; Glenn T. Seshing, California, two years; and Dean Orlando J. Hillis, University of Oregon one year. Rickford Snyder of Stanford was named as alternate.

The board will be empowered to handle eligibility and enforcement problems. It was given a new set of rules by which it can bar athletes for any period, such as six months or a year, instead of for the rest of his academic career.

Everest said a special committee will be named to make a report on interim cecin gint hebate part at the winter meeting in the San Francisco Area on cost-of-living work now allowed athletes at PCC schools. There is now a $75 monthly limit at $1.50 an hour.

There was no official mention yesterday of the controversial Ronnie Knox case.

Trouble Came In Triplicate

ROCHESTER, N. Y. — (UP) — Trouble came in triplicate for boxer Eddie O'Hara.

"After losing a decision in a light heavyweight bout at Edgerton Park Sports Arena, O'Hara found two detectives waiting for him in the dressing room. Four warrants were served, three for illegal parking and one for speeding.

Then when the fighter left the arena, he found his car had been towed away. More illegal parking.

Saddler Upset By Joey Lopes

SACRAMENTO (UP) — Featherweight Champion Sandy Saddler was the victim of a unanimous upset decision last night in a non-title bout with Sacramento lightweight Joey Lopes.

The champion from New York was looking for the 100th knockout of his career, but a furious last round assault on the badly battered eye of his opponent could not even gain enough points to take the decision.

There were no knockdowns, but Lopes had the champion staggered in three separate rounds. Lopes scored on the distance shots, while taking an inside beating from the agile Saddler.

Lopes made his first telling attack in the ninth, knocking out Saddler's mouthpiece early in the round. He scored feebly with both hands. However, Lopes' right eye, which had been swollen badly since the second round, broke open and bled freely.

In the final round, Saddler's fagging white trunks were stained with blood of his opponent's eye. Lopes suffered a severe eye injury when he lost a decision to Carmelo Costa in New York two months ago, but the California Athletic Commission declared it healed for the fight.

Judge Merle Ziegler scored the bout 58-51 for Lopes, while Judge Fred Bottaro and Referee John Basinelli called it 57-52 for Lopes. The United Press card had Lopes in front 57-52.

The referee disallowed little nagging with Saddler's aggressive fighting tactics, breaking the fighters freely and slapping Saddler's hands for holding.

In the fifth round, Basinelli took one point from the champion for belting Lopes with a solid right well after the bell had sounded.

In his dressing room, Lopes said that Saddler was by far the toughest fighter he had ever been up against.

"But he has to be," Lopes added. "He's the champion of the world." The gate for the capacity crowd of more than 4500 was $16,271. Lopes weighed 133 1-4, to Saddler's 130 1-2.
