Scotland Yard Is Called Out

LONDON (UP)—Scotland Yard called its reserves Thursday and asked help from the provinces to keep London's vital lifelines open in Britain's nationwide railroad strike.

The Yard alerted the 400-man "first reserve" of volunteer retired officers for immediate traffic duty as Britons took to the roads instead of the rails in the snowballing crisis.

It also asked for police reinforcements from outside London so that officers who have been working 12 hour shifts can be given longer rests.

Simultaneously, organized labor pressed peace moves in a race against mounting unemployment and growing economic losses (threatened by the six-day-old walkout of 70,000 railroad engineers and firemen in a demand for premium pay).

But labor unrest spread, with a strike developing among stewards and deckhands on five trans-Atlantic liners. Another walkout already had slowed shipping in six major ports, including London and Liverpool.

Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden, meanwhile, summoned his cabinet to an emergency session to deal with the rail problem. The government may decide to implement further emergency regulations authorized by proclamation of Queen Elizabeth Tuesday. The first step was to relax restrictions on trucks and buses.

WISCONSIN LAKE RENAMED IN TWO SECTIONS

KENOSHA, Wis. (UP)—The county board resolved one of its biggest headaches by "splitting" a lake in half.

The board voted that the northern half of what formerly was Paschen Lake should be named Lake Shangri-La. It voted to name the southern half Lake Benet.

The final decision, however, rests with the state's geographic board. Several groups had tried to get the lake named in their favor.

London's subways always remain at a nearly constant temperature, regardless of the weather outside.

Molotov On His Way Out?

LONDON (UP) — The London News Chronicle today reported widespread rumors in Belgrade, Yugoslavia, of the impending retirement of Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov and his replacement by a virtual unknown.

A dispatch from the newspaper's Belgrade correspondent said the rumors had it that Molotov would be succeeded by D. T. Shepilov, chief editor of the Soviet Communist Party newspaper Pravda, rather than by Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko.

Shepilov accompanied Soviet Communist Boss Nikita S. Khrushchev and Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin on the Kremlin's "Forget and forgive" mission to Yugoslavia. Shepilov's inclusion in the delegation caused "some surprise" since Pravda sent two of its star correspondents to cover the talks, the Chronicle's correspondent said.

Building Falls Killing Three

DALLAS, Tex. (UP) — Rescue workers freed a painfully injured man Thursday from the rubble of a collapsed building where three persons had been killed and nine others injured.

The workers began searching for more bodies after pulling Lloyd Cornet from a spot where he had been trapped for more than six hours.

The three-story limestone building collapsed with a roar late Wednesday after the rush of traffic had subsided.

It crumbled into a bar and grill and a music store and spewed chunks of debris across the street, breaking overhead power lines.

The building was located in downtown Dallas on Elm Street, one of the city's three main thoroughfares.

Three persons in the bar and grill were killed. Seven others were brought out alive but two were injured critically and doctors said one was not expected to live.

Only the owner and a customer were in the music store. Neither was seriously hurt.

But more than 200 firemen and volunteer rescue workers dug for six hours to free Cornet.

He was pinned by his left leg next to a juke box which he said saved his life. In the bar and grill Dr. Bernard Weiner, of the Parkland Hospital staff, risked his life to administer sedatives to the trapped man.

Alvis Bailey Simmons, 40; William E. Kirby, 42; and Luther Gonzales, 32, were dead on arrival at the hospital.

One-hundred and fifty persons were next door in the Fox burlesque theater when the building came down.

They felt the impact of the collapse, but did not panic. Chester Tate, 33, ticket taker at the Fox, saw the building come down. He said it fell without warning and "with the noise of a tornado." He went into the theater and cleared the patrons out.

Students Finish Driver Training

In the year now ending, 48 Bend high school students completed driver training instruction, John Chrismier, who heads this school activity, reported today.

The training this past year was made possible through the loan of a new car by Lester Houk of Central Oregon Motors, Chrismier said.

"We are very pleased to note that in the past two years the students took their instructions without getting a single dent in the cars they operated", Chrismier said.

In addition to the high school students who completed driver training, 36 adults enrolled in Central Oregon college here completed the course in the year just ended. This instruction was given primarily on Saturdays.

Carefully groomed, the car made available at the start of the school year without cost to the high school or college has been returned to Central Oregon Motors.

Cadillac

Has Its Own Vocabulary!

Over the years there has come into being what amounts virtually to a special Cadillac vocabulary.

Certain words and phrases have so long and so often been used in association with Cadillac that they almost automatically call the car to mind.

When the talk is of motor cars, who can hear the word "prestige" without thinking of Cadillac?

It is likewise true of "distinction"... of "luxury"... of "pride of ownership"... of "satisfaction"... of "comfort"... of "long life and dependability"... of "beauty"... of "impressiveness"... of "value"—and of dozens of other words used to denote superiority.

In a sense, these are Cadillac words—and they actually sound strange when employed in any other connection. Even when used in the promotion of another automobile, they still suggest the "car of cars".

Naturally, words like these can become inseparable only from a product which deserves them. In the case of Cadillac, it has taken half a century of the strictest adherence to the highest automotive standards to win this public approval.

Eternal vigilance is the price of this reputation.

Most people, of course, realize that these wonderful words apply to Cadillac. But too many have not yet personally found out why.

If you are among these—come in and see us today. We will give you the keys to a new 1955 Cadillac—and you'll know in a single hour why Cadillac has its own vocabulary.

You'll know, from personal experience, that when you speak of "prestige" and "distinction" and "luxury" and "pride of possession" and "value"—you are speaking of the Standard of the World.

We have the keys—and the car—and a real welcome waiting for you.
