Important Word For Vacationists

BOSTON (UP)—Do you know the difference between heat prostration and sunstroke?

The Institute For Safer Living says this is important life-saving information for vacationists.

Remember, in heat prostration, the body is cold, clammy and bluish-pale. Treatment is to bring body temperature up to normal, so warmth is required.

In sunstroke, the body is dry, hot and red. Treatment is to bring the body temperature down to normal by cooling devices such as shade, fanning and cool water.
