Airline Strike Fails to Come Off

LOS ANGELES (UP)—A pilot's strike expected early today by Western Air Lines failed to materialize and all flights throughout the system were continued on schedule.

A dispatcher at the airport said morning crews checked in and were going out as usual. Reservations were being taken at ticket offices.

Western had prepared to close down its "entire route" despite an announcement by the pilots that the walkout over a contract dispute would not be called this morning. Spokesmen said they had not received word from the pilot's association of any postponement.

The association and company have been involved in a contract dispute which centers around the pilot's demand for increased company contributions to an annuity pension program.

Western President Terrell C. Drinkwater said the company, which serves 45 cities and 12 Western states and Canada, was "expecting a strike at 6 a.m. because the pilots have set that strike time and we have heard nothing (Directly) to the contrary."

The Air Line Pilots Assn. postponed the strike yesterday in order to meet with Leverett Edwards, chairman of the Federal Mediation Board. But an ALPA spokesman added that the association was ready to strike "as soon as the Mediation Board releases jurisdiction."

Lions Host to 31 County Children

Bend Lions Tuesday noon were hosts to 31 Deschutes county youngsters, who might have been by-passed by busy Santa Claus when a Christmas party was held at the Pine Tavern. Each of the youngsters was a guest of a club member at the luncheon, and each received several presents.

Santa, in a bright new suit and with whiskers as white as the arctic snow, showed up following the meeting and assisted in the distribution of gifts.

Special entertainment included numbers by Bend high school singers, including the Triple Trio, w.l. Norman Whitney in charge of this phase of the program. Christmas music was featured.

John Welle and Cliff Goodwin were in general charge of the program, sponsored annually by the Lions.

This year, Santa spoke to the youngsters in a distinctly southern drawl, and the children were told that he had come from the South Pole.

Primaries Being Eyed By Kefauver

WASHINGTON (UP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver today eyed a number of presidential primaries other than California's for possible tests of strength with Adlai E. Stevenson.

In their preliminary sparring so far the two candidates for the Democratic presidential nomination have announced plans to enter seven state primaries. But California is the only one on both their lists.

Stevenson has announced he will go into Pennsylvania, Florida, Illinois and Minnesota as well as California. Kefauver added Wisconsin yesterday to his previous announcements of New Hampshire and California.

It was understood that Kefauver already has decided tentatively to go into Florida against Stevenson. But he told his news conference yesterday he was not ready to announce a decision.

Oregon offers another chance for a contest inasmuch as both men can be entered without their consent. But in any event California's winner take all primary next June looks like the crucial contest for both.

Kefauver said he has not yet ruled out any state primaries and referred specifically in response to questions to Oregon, Pennsylvania, Ohio and Minnesota as states on which he has reached no decision.

File Compiled On Recreation

Special to The Bulletin MADRAS — A recreation file, containing booklets on different subjects, is available at the Jefferson county extension office.

The booklets cover subjects including song games, group games, dances, game leadership, parties and program for special events, skits, and money raising suggestions for special events.

One section is on arts and crafts and gives hints on leather craft, metal work, basket weaving, block printing, textile painting, and other subjects.
