Competition Set By Bend Girl

Special to The Bulletin
MEDIFFORD — Participants in the Championship brackets of the 28th Annual Southern Oregon Golf tournament will find themselves in fast company.

That is the quick impression gained by a look at the current entry list for the competition at Rogue Valley Country club here August 29 through September 3.

Entries for the Labor day holiday classic totalled 215 at latest count. Of these 164 were men and 51 were women. A total field of 224 men and 64 women is expected by RVCC tournament committee.

Four ex-champions, Bob Atkinson, Portland, Eddie Simmons, and Sue DeVoe, Medford, and Mrs. W. W. Davies, Redding, Calif., head present registrations. Entrance of Mrs. Edean Anderson Iblanfeldt, Seattle, had added prestige to the ladies' field.

A flavor of youth is featured among the women players. The group includes Miss DeVoe, Elaine Perrett and Shirley Siegmund, Eugene, Susan Rafferty, Astoria, Alice Hammer, Myrtle Point, and Mary Moty, Bend.

Entries for out-of-town golfers close Friday, August 21. Host club participants are qualifying ahead of the August 29 opening date to ease the traffic on the course. All out-of-town golfers will play their qualifying rounds on August 28. Match play will start on the following day.

Music and dancing at the club will be on the nightly program during the tournament. A women's luncheon at noon on Saturday will honor out-of-town contestants and visitors. Putting and hole-in-one contests are other activities.

Bilko in Slump But Keeps Lead

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—Steve Bilko, the mighty slugger of the Los Angeles Angels, was trapped in a slump before Monday night's game but continued to lead the league by a good margin both in round trippers and percentage.

His total of 47 current clubs kept him miles ahead of teammate Jim Bolger who was second with 25. However, Bilko failed to upload one last week and going into Monday night's contest had 31 games left in which to break Tony Lazzari's PCL record of 60.

Bilko's average also dipped by seven points down to .383 after he went four for 20 last week for a total .300. He drove in four more runs to boost his league-leading RBI total to 139.

Gene March of the Angels also tumbled off last week but still has an average of .351 and led in hits with 178.

Spahn Comes on for Final Out as Braves Win, 3 to 1

By MILTON RICHMAN
United Press Sports Writer
There's an old Army saying—"never a hunter"—but the Milwaukee Braves can thank a guy who did, Warren Spahn, for their 2½ game lead in the National League today.

Certainly no one expected Spahn to volunteer for bullpen duty against Cincinnati Monday night. The veteran left-hander had beaten the Redlegs, 3-1, only 24 hours before and had earned the customary three days rest.

Spahn wasn't needed during the first eight innings Monday night as Lew Burdette had the Redlegs eating out of his hand and appeared on his way to his seventh shutout of the season with a three-run lead.

But Cincinnati outfielder Frank Robinson opened the ninth with his 30th homer and Spahn, who had volunteered to go down to the bullpen, got up and started to throw. He stepped up the tempo

Oregon Junior Golfers at Fargo Paced by Weber

FARGO, N.D. (UP)—Ron Weber, of Prineville, paced the Oregon quartet through the qualifying round of the International Junior Chamber of Commerce golf tournament here yesterday, carding a four-over-par 76.

Bill Aubrey of Corvallis and George Mack of Portland each took 81s in yesterday's qualifying round.

Oregon's fourth representative in the tourney, Tom Shaw of Milwaukie, finished the day with an 83.

Opening round honors of the tourney went to Glen Combs of Seymour, Indiana with a two-under 70.

Valuable Player Award Presented

Special to The Bulletin
MEDIFFORD—Veteran Bill Beard, Drain Black Sox catcher and formerly a member of the Portland Beavers, and Salem Senators, has been chosen the Most Valuable Player in the Southern Oregon league.

Beard barely nosed out Terry Maddox, Medford Cheney Stud outfielder, 11 votes to 10. Jerry Barlow, Coos Bay pitcher, was third in the voting with six. Chris Christanson, Bend manager, was next with four.

when Bob Thurman walked. But then Burdette appeared to be out of the woods when Ted Kluszewski hit into a double play.

Preserves Burdette's Victory
When Wally Post followed with a single, Manager Fred Harrey gave Spahn the nod and the 35-year old left-hander stroled in to get Ed Bailey on a grounder that ended the game and preserved Burdette's 3-1 triumph.

In bringing in Spahn in relief—which is only the second time Haney did so since he became manager—the little Milwaukee skipper actually was taking a lead from the book of Cincinnati Manager Birdie Tebbetts, who has been using his starters in relief a good part of the season.

All in all, it was quite a night for the Braves, who increased their league lead to 2½ games over the idle second-place Dodgers and moved 3½ games ahead of the third-place Redlegs.

Burdette, in registering his 15th victory against seven defeats, surpassed his previous best total in the majors. He gave up only five hits, the same number the Braves collected off loser Brooks Lawrence and Hersh Freeman.

The victory was also a particularly sweet one for Milwaukee first sacker Joe Adcock, who had exchanged hot words with Tebbetts after last Saturday's game. Adcock slammed his 39th homer over the center field wall in the sixth inning and as it turned out the blow served only as icing on Milwaukee's victory cake.

Lawrence, also a 16-game winner, started on the road to his seventh loss with two out in the third inning when Hank Aaron drilled a triple down the right field line and Eddie Mathews followed with his 28th homer over the right field screen.

The victory earned the Braves an even split in their four-game series with the Redlegs and sent them back home to Milwaukee today in high spirits for their day-night twin bill against the last-place Giants.

No other major league games were scheduled Monday night.

Hunting & Fishing

Hunters can look forward to an 80-day duck and goose season this year, according to final regulations announced by the Oregon Game commission.

Opening Oct. 13, the season extends through Dec. 31, with shooting times like last year, one-half hour before sunrise to sunset.

In general the bag limits remain the same as last year. Daily limit for ducks will be nine birds, 15 in possession. Only one wood duck and one hooded merganser may be included in the daily bag or possession limit. The daily bag or possession limit must also include not less than 3 widgeons or pintails, singly or in the aggregate.

A bag of six geese daily or in possession will be allowed, except Ross's geese, including not more than three of the dark species. Not more than two Canada geese may be included in the bag limit in Yamhill, Polk, Benton, Linn and Lane counties.

Brant season runs from Dec. 3 through Feb. 10, the snipe season from Nov. 17 through Dec. 16, and the coot season from Oct. 13 through Jan. 25.

The bag limit for brant will be three daily or in possession.

A complete synopsis of the waterfowl regulations, including sunrise and sunset tables and public shooting ground rules, will be available about the middle of September.

While we're thinking of ducks let's do a little complaining to the eager beavers who every year think that a 12 gauge shotgun has just as much range as a 20 millimeter anti-aircraft cannon.

Much ammunition is wasted every fall because some hunters have never learned the effective range of their shotguns. They seem to think a bird's within range so long as they can see it and blast away until their guns are empty.

Excellent chances for good shots are tossed away simply because the hunter is so impatient and excited that he can't wait. He shoots, and ruins the chances of a better hunter who waits until the birds are within range.

Many of the cripples each season are crippled not because they were struck with the edge of a shot pattern or a stray shot, but because the shot had traveled so far that the shocking and penetrating powers needed for a clean kill had been lost.

Mantle Gunning For Homer 43

NEW YORK (UP)—Mickey Mantle, hoping to shake his home run slump, goes gunning for No. 43 against southpaw Herb Score of the Cleveland Indians tonight.

Mantle, who still is seven games ahead of Babe Ruth's record pace, has failed to hit a home run since Aug. 14 when he connected for his 42nd round-tripper off Mel Parner of the Red Sox.

Solons Edge Nearer Beavers With 4-3 Win

United Press Sports Writer
By NEAL CORBETT

The Sacramento Solons came up with a pair of "big guns" Monday night in their battle to overtake Portland for fourth place in the Pacific Coast League—but they were a little slow getting into operation.

Al Heist finally got the range and blasted out a homer with two out in the bottom of the ninth to tie the score and send the game into extra innings. Danny Baich led off the tenth inning with one just like it to give the Solons a 4-3 victory over the Portland club.

The win moved the Solons to within a game and a half of the Beavers—and the upper division.

In other games, the league-leading Los Angeles Angels played their usual brand of ball and swamped San Diego 12-1, while Hollywood gained ground on second place Seattle by downing the Rainiers, 6-2. San Francisco and Vancouver were idle.

At Sacramento, Baich was credited with three of the Solons' four runs. Portland took the lead with two runs in the first frame and another in the second on Sam Calderone's eighth homer of the year.

But Baich got two of them back in the fifth frame when he tripled with two men on. That set the stage for the tying and winning homers.

Los Angeles staged its usual "march of the monsters." During a 17 hit barrage by the Angels, Steve Bilko got four for five, including his 48th homer of the year, and Bob Speak slammed out his 22nd roundtripper.

Dave Hillman won his 17th victory against five losses, but saw his shutout go up in smoke when relief hurler Bob Kerrigan—who had only one hit all season—came up with his second to score John Merson in the eighth inning.

Bob Purkey of Hollywood lost his shutout in the last inning as the Stars scored their first victory over Seattle in the current series.

While Hollywood was racking up two runs in the first, two more in the second, one in the fifth and one in the eighth, Purkey was holding the second-place team to only two hits. But he gave up two singles and a double in the final frame as the Rainiers scored twice.

Kirsch Raps Player Signing

EUGENE (UP)—University of Oregon baseball coach Don Kirsch, yesterday criticized the signing of Stan Thompson, a freshman left-handed pitcher from Nyssa, St. Louis Cardinal scout Tony Governor signed the young hurler last weekend.

"The signing of Thompson by Governor and the Cardinals is another in a series of crippling blows which have been dealt college baseball in the last few years by some professional organizations and this one man in particular," Kirsch said.

Governor drew the ire of Oregon State Coach Ralph Coleman this spring when he signed Curt Jantze, a freshman at OSC.

Mid-Oregon All-Star Team Joined by Shumway, Henry

Special to The Bulletin
PRINEVILLE — The Central Oregon All-Star grid forces were happily bolstered by the addition of guard Ted Henry and halfback Dale Shumway. The two ex-Cowboy standouts just returned from Portland where both turned in creditable performances in the 9th annual Shrine All-Star football game Saturday night.

Shumway, 135-pound swiftie, was used principally on defense, while Henry saw action both ways.

The mid-Oregon squad is now in its second and final week of drills for the big game with the Snake River Valley All-Stars at Ontario this Saturday night.

Workouts are from 5 to 7 p.m. nightly this week, with the final contact work on tap for this evening. From a physical standpoint the squad is rounding into pretty good shape, with no new injuries reported Monday.

Considerable time was spent on kicking, punt returns, kickoffs, kickoff coverage, and extra points.

It appears that punting will be taken care of by Prineville's Wayne Demaris and Bend's Shelby Blevins. Both are capable of getting off 55-yard boots.

The all-important extra point duties will fall to Bend's Bill (Sure Foot) St. John. The Up-State Shrine squad edged the Metros, 7 to 6, and coaches Keith DeCoursey and Tom Winbiger are making sure that every Central Oregon touchdown will be worth seven points. Fred Steinhauser of Bend will handle kickoffs.

Practice Start Set by Bulldogs

Special to The Bulletin
MADRAS — The first Culver High school football practice of the season will start at 5 p.m., Monday, August 27. Coach Buck Monroe states:

The squad will start with hard work in preparation for defense of the Oregon state six-man football title won last year by the tiny Jefferson county school. In 1953, Monroe's warriors chalked up nine straight wins, most by wide margins, to take the title.

They have scheduled seven contests, four away and three at home, and have one vacant weekend during potato harvest. They will play the other four teams of the Cascade league and Arlington, Lyle, Washington, and Wishram, Washington.

September 7 — Arlington, there.
September 14 — Lyle, Madras
September 21 — Cascade Locks, Culver.
September 28 — Dufur, there.
October 5 — Messier, there.
October 12 — open
October 20 — Wishram, there.
October 26 — Sisters, Culver.

Billings Dumped From Tourney

YAKIMA, Wash. (UP)—Billings, Mont., was eliminated from the regional American Legion junior baseball tournament here last night, taking a 3-0 defeat from Twin Falls, Idaho.

Bob Burch, a surprise starter for Twin Falls, relied on a jump curve and Billings got only six balls out of the infield.

Twin Falls, by virtue of the win, plays Roseburg tonight. Roseburg, unbeaten in the tourney thus far, could sew up the title tonight. A win for Twin Falls would send the two teams into a final game Wednesday for the regional crown.

Spallotta Loses To Gonzales

NEW YORK (UP) — Middleweight Tony (Tex) Gonzalez of East Orange, N.J., was promised his first Madison Square Garden main event today as a reward for Monday night's victory over Italian Fernando Spallotta in their TV 10-rounder at St. Nicholas Arena.

Billy Brown, Garden matchmaker, said, "Tex looked so good beating Spallotta, I'll put him in a main event with some good boy in September or October."

Although rangy, 23-year old Tex was favored at 2-1, the chunky 25-year old club-fighter from Italy started off as if to register an upset. But, by the end of the third round, Gonzalez' barages to the body had weakened him considerably.

DECLINES INVITATION

DEL MAR, Calif. (UP) — Sir Gordon Richards, retired English jockey, has regretfully declined an invitation to attend the current Del Mar race meeting. Johnny Langdon hopes to crack Sir Gordon's all-time record of 1,870 winners before the end of the meeting and Del Mar officials had invited the Englishman to attend the ceremonies.
