

Pappy Waldorf Quits As California Coach

BERKELEY, Calif. (UP)—Lynn (Pappy) Waldorf, head football coach at the University of California for the past 10 years, announced Tuesday night he is retiring at the expiration of his contract.

The portly mentor, who brought the Bears to the Rose Bowl three times during his career at Berkeley, said he has been planning to retire "for some time." He did not disclose his future plans.

Waldorf first announced his decision to the squad. Then he issued a statement that said:

"I intend to retire as coach of football at University of California at the end of my present contract, have thoroughly enjoyed my 10 years at the University of California and I have particularly enjoyed working with this year's squad.

"Our only thoughts and efforts at this time are to do everything possible to win the Big Game (between California and Stanford this Saturday).

"This is a move I have contemplated for some time."

UC athletic director Greg Englehard said the resignation "came pretty much as a surprise."

No Discussion

"We hadn't discussed the matter before Waldorf came to me," he said. "It wasn't an easy thing to do, he wanted to make the announcement to the boys at the evening chalk talk."

Englehard said there is at present "no one under consideration" as Waldorf's successor.

"What we'd like to do is concentrate on the game Saturday. After the season is over, we'll sit down and consider who and what kind of a coach we want next year."

Actually, Waldorf will be finished after the end of this season. The new coach will take over in time to handle spring practice.

Last week, the National Collegiate Athletic Association placed California on probation for a year because two unnamed members of the football coaching staff "administered an emergency aid fund." It said they made 16 loans averaging about $63 over a two-year period.

Excellent Record

Waldorf, 51, came to California in 1947. Since then, he has coached the Bears to 66 wins, with 32 losses and four ties. His record this year is 2-7.

His teams rolled up an outstanding record for Waldorf's first four seasons. In 1947, the Bears won nine and lost one. In 1948 and 1949, they had unbeaten and untied regular seasons, winning 10 straight games. At the end of both seasons, they lost to Northwestern and Ohio State respectively.

In 1950, they won their third straight Pacific Coast Conference title, with an overall record of nine wins, no defeats and one tie. They went to the Rose Bowl again, losing this time to Michigan.

Waldorf's first coaching post was at Oklahoma City University in 1926. He subsequently served at Oklahoma A&M, Kansas State and at Northwestern.

Beaver-Duck 'Civil War' Set Thursday

CORVALLIS (UP)—Oregon State and Oregon strut their stuff before a regional television audience at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow in the 60th renewal of their "Civil War" football rivalry.

More than 20,000 Thanksgiving Day fans are expected in Parker stadium where the four-time-beaten Webfoots of Coach Len Casanova will try to snap a six-game winning streak that has carried Oregon State to its second Rose Bowl nod in history.

Oregon State is a one-touchdown favorite but it was only last season that underdog Oregon walloped the Beavers 28-0 on a slippery field in Eugene. The going looks good tomorrow with a dry field and no rain in prospect and this should help both clubs since each has its contingent of speedy backs.

The Beavers put Rose Bowl in the back of their minds as they prepared for the game. Coach Tommy Prothro had his players working out in secret in a short, snappy drill. At Eugene, Coach Len Casanova also held a secret workout.

Oregon State's bruising line, led by all-American candidate John Witte, outweighs the Webfoots'. But the Beavers may be handicapped by injuries to regular ends Bob DeGrant and Norm Thiel who are scheduled to be on the bench at least at the start of the game.

Oregon isn't in bad shape injury-wise except for the left half back spot where Leroy Phelps and Charley Tourville are nursing bruises.

The Webfoots named Tom Crabtree, the veteran quarterback from Coos Bay, as game captain. Team captain is Phil McHugh, who also is playing his final game.

Over the years Oregon has won 29, Oregon State 23 and seven games have ended in ties. Oregon has won the last two years.

The official word that Oregon State is in the Rose Bowl won't come until Sunday or Monday.

Coleman Named On All-Star Team

Roland Coleman, rangy senior end on the Bend High school football team, was one of 11 players named to the District 8-A-1 All-Star team by district coaches during their meeting in Albany, Tuesday evening.

Denny Olsen, Lava Bear quarterback, although he played only five games this season before suffering a broken arm which put him out for the remainder of the year, was chosen to the district's second team.

The District 8-A-1 All-Star team: Roland Coleman, Bend, end; Jim Richards, Albany, end; Jim Robinson, South Salem, tackle; Wally Sparks, Sweet Home, tackle; Brian Williamson, Corvallis, guard; Bill Hazel, South Salem, guard; Folmer Strunk, Albany, center; Royce McDaniels, Sweet Home, quarterback; Gary Grill, Albany, back; Pat Emmons, Albany, back; Larry Thompson, South Salem, back.

The district second team: John Hunter, Corvallis, end; John Blackford, Sweet Home, end; Al Blake, Albany, tackle; Bob Herman, South Salem, tackle; Len Garrett, Sweet Home, guard; Larry Parrish, Lebanon, guard; Denny Olsen, Bend, quarterback; Gary Melinger, South Salem, back. Five players tied for the remaining two back spots. They were: Bob Burnside, North Salem; Rod McCutcheon, Corvallis; Roger Leatherman, Lebanon; Mack Musgrave, Sweet Home; Dick Stein, Corvallis.

Winter Carnival Plans Made

PORTLAND (UP)—Plans for a two-day winter ski carnival on the slopes of Mount Hood, participated in by nearly every college in Oregon, were announced here today.

Sponsoring school for the January 26 and 27 weekend will be Portland State. Altogether 10 colleges in the state will take part.

Competition among the 10 schools in the slalom, the downhill and combined will be a highlight of the weekend's schedule.

Each of the participating schools will name a contestant for queen of the weekend carnival, which also has on its program ice skating, a torchlight parade down the mountainside, dance, fashion show and numerous other events.

Schools participating include: Portland State, Oregon State, Oregon, Lewis and Clark, University of Portland, Marylhurst, Reed, Oregon College, Southern Oregon and Eastern Oregon.

Olsen Favored For Shrine Bid

Denny Olsen, Bend grid quarterback, was one of eight District 8-A-1 football players recommended for the annual Shrine football game, to be held in Portland next August.

The recommendations were made during the district meeting held in Albany, Tuesday evening.

Also recommended were Jim Richards, end, Albany; Jim Robinson, tackle, South Salem; Wally Sparks, tackle, Sweet Home; Royce McDaniels, quarterback, Sweet Home; Gary Grill, back, Albany; Pat Emmons, back, Albany; Larry Thompson, back, South Salem.

Minors to Vote On 30 Proposals

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UP)—Baseball's minor leagues will vote next month on 30 proposals, including one that would require major league teams to cut their rosters to 28 players by the opening day of the season.

The proposal would enable minor league clubs to set their playing rosters at least a month earlier than in the past. The current major-league agreement enables major league teams to wait until May 15 of each season before making their personnel cuts.

President George M. Trautman of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues (the minors), said the question will be tossed at league presidents during the annual baseball convention in Jacksonville, Fla., starting Dec. 5.

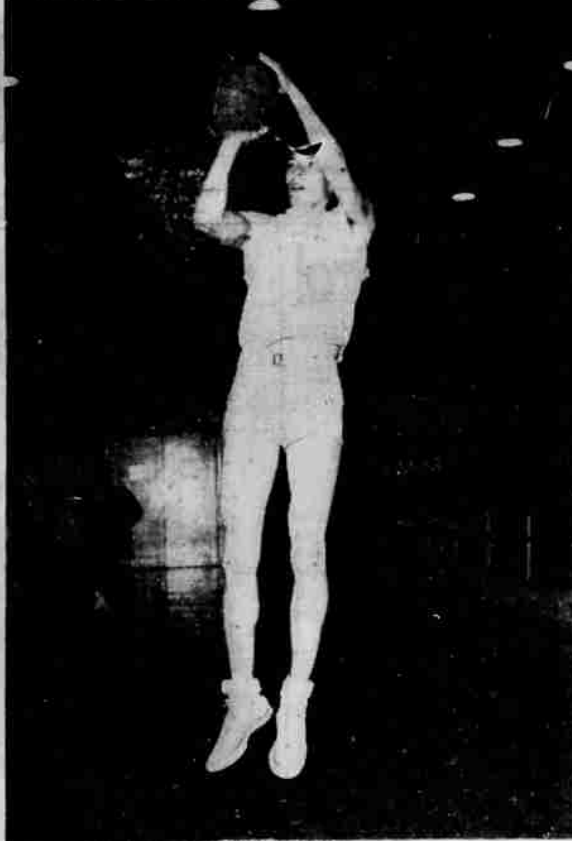

"I believe this will help the minors, and I'm for it," Trautman declared.

12 Working Out For Nite Hawks

Finding a suitable time to practice and a court to practice on are the main concerns of Richard Geser, Central Oregon College basketball coach.

With most of his twelve players working in the day and all of them attending classes in the evening Geser has had considerable difficulty getting them together for practice.

At present the team is practicing from 4 o'clock in the afternoon until 5 on one of the balcony courts of the new high school gym. However, this court is used by PE classes on Monday and Thursday afternoons.

The only time that the team was able to get together with all players present was between 10 and 12 p.m. last Thursday. Geser hopes to work the problem out with school officials sometime this week.

Milton Sexton and Pat Kelly are the only returning lettermen from last year's Nite Hawk squad and are good prospects for the first five along with Dave Hodge, Gene Dunn, Dee Lee, Darrell Woohizer, and Denny Lenaburg.

Geser is planning to use the fast break and three man inside defense on offense and a pressing defense and shifting zone on defense.

There are still six dates open on the schedule and Geser hopes to schedule games with some of the other junior colleges in Washington and California or with the freshmen at the four year colleges.

Schedule to Date:

Dec. 7 — Spover-LeBlanc, Bend.
Dec. 10-11 — SOCE Frosh, There.
Dec. 15 — George Fox College, There.
Dec. 20-21 — Yakima Jr. College, There.
Jan. 4 — Lassen Jr. College, There.
Jan. 11-12 — Open.
Jan. 18-19 — SOCE Frosh, Bend.
Jan. 25-26 — Portland State Frosh, Bend.
Feb. 1-2 — Portland State Frosh, There.
Feb. 8-9 — Lassen Jr. College, Bend.
Feb. 15-16 — Open.
Feb. 22-23 — Open.
Mar. 2 — Bend High.

Olympics Gets Under Way In Melbourne on Thursday

By LEO H. PETERSEN
United Press Sports Editor

MELBOURNE (UP)—The XVI Olympiad opens Thursday with 4,985 athletes from 69 countries divided into 17 sports. The 69 countries competing equals the Olympic record and the total number of athletes entered is a new mark.

The atmosphere at the Olympic Village has been friendly and placid all week while Melbourne itself has been turned into nothing less than a gigantic "County fair" by thousands of visitors.

The only really serious worries as the opening of the games neared were the weather and the condition of the new track at the main stadium.

All the athletes have complained about the unseasonably cold and rainy weather encountered here during pre-Olympic training and indications were it would remain below normal temperatures at least for the start of the games. The weather bureau forecast no rain, however, for the opening.

The United States, as usual, is favored to win the unofficial "team championship" after a titanic battle with Russia. The U.S. has sent a squad of 386 athletes while Russia has entered 412 men and women and promises to press the American stars all the way.

The U.S. team is generally adjudged to be the strongest ever entered in an Olympiad and may exceed the 40 gold medals it won in the 1952 games at Helsinki, Finland. U.S. coaches anticipate perhaps 14 gold medals in 24 track and field events with additional medals in boxing, as many as four in weight-lifting, and other medals in basketball, yachting and wrestling.

Russia is expected to show general improvement in virtually every sport but its main strength probably will lie in the gymnastic events and in the women's track and field. The Russians won two team medals and 21 individual medals for a total of 23 in 1952. The 1952 unofficial team point score had the U.S. in front, 614 to 537—just about the figures impartial experts expect the teams to achieve this year.

Louisville Gets One More Chance

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UP)—Louisville, which hasn't been without baseball since 1880, was assured of at least another year in the American Association today.

The bankrupt Colonels, in debt to the tune of $100,000, were given a "free and clear" franchise Tuesday night to operate in the triple-A league next year.

The offer, believed the first ever made by a baseball league to keep a city in its fold, came from W. G. "Rosy" Ryan, general manager of the Minneapolis Millers.

Louisville Mayor Andrew Broadway, meanwhile, was heading up a drive to raise the money needed to get the club out of debt. The club is now in receivership.

'COLONELS' NOW OKLAHOMA CITY (UP)—Pitcher Whitey Ford and infielder Billy Martin of the New York Yankees were commissioned Tuesday as "colonels" by Gov. Raymond Gary of Oklahoma.

Tarheel Player Admits He Played at Another College

CHAPEL HILL, N. C. (UP)—North Carolina Coach Jim Tatum apologized today for having a player on the Tarheel squad who used two names to play five years of football for two different colleges.

Vince Olen, a junior end from Swyersville, Pa., was suspended Tuesday when he admitted to university officials that he once played at Temple University in Philadelphia under his real name of Vince Olenik.

"I am glad that it came out before the Duke game and we are embarrassed that he has competed in games here in the past," Tatum said. "I am writing apologies to all our opponents."

Olen entered Temple in 1950 and played freshman football. He also played for the Owl varsity the next year before entering the Army.

After two years in the Army, he came here in 1954 and played freshman football. He was a reserve for the Tar Heel varsity last year and has appeared in every game so far this season.

Bowmen to Start Indoor Season In Bend Friday

Central Oregon Bowmen will start their 1956-57 indoor season Wednesday evening, Nov. 28, at the Bend armory, Wall street, at 7:30.

Shoots will be held every Wednesday and Friday nights until spring weather permits outdoor shooting. The shoots will be novelty, competitive, animal and other types.

Officials pointed out that the armory building is long enough to permit archers to shoot the flint round, which requires shooting 30 yards.

At present, the Central Oregon Bowmen are planning to have a Christmas party and a turkey shoot just before Christmas. All archers and those interested in archery are invited to the Friday evening meeting.

Pioneers Set

PORTLAND (UP)—A 25-man Lewis and Clark football team leaves here by plane tomorrow for Honolulu where the Pioneers are rated three to four touchdowns underdogs against the University of Hawaii Saturday night.

Lewis and Clark wound up its regular season last week with an 18-6 loss to Pacific which cost it a Northwest Conference title. The Pioneers over-all season's record is seven wins and two defeats.
