

U.S. Command Reports Plan For South Korean Build-Up

By LEROY HANSEN
United Press Staff Correspondent
PAMUNJON (UP)—The U. N. Command today reported a plan to build up a major military buildup in the Republic of Korea to offset one carried out by the Reds in "flagrant violation" of the 1953 Korean armistice agreement.

The reaction was immediate and exactly as expected. North Korean Maj. Gen. Jung Kook K'wan flew into a rage and accused the U. N. forces of intending to turn South Korea into a "base for atomic war." He called it a first step to prepare for a "new war."

Today's decision nullifying a key provision of the armistice agreement meant the United States would send into South Korea fleets of its latest atomic bombers and B-29's—some 700 miles closer to Red China and Siberia. Later there may be atomic cannon and guided missiles.

Reds Violate Flagrantly
But doing so they were doing what the Communists already had done months ago. The North Korean air force, non-existent at the end of the war, has been built up to nearly 1,000 modern jets. Its best air force has been rebuilt and rearmed with Soviet equipment.

The entire buildup was in violation of a key paragraph in the armistice agreement which froze the armed forces of each side at its 1953 military strength. The U. N. said the Communist buildup was a "flagrant, repeated and willful" violation of the agreement.

The Allied decision was read out by U. S. Marine Corps Maj. Gen. Homer L. Litzberg, senior member of the U. N. military armistice commission and leader of a Marine division in some of the bitterest fighting of the war.

It was received officially by Jung in the Quonset hut conference room of this neutral zone village. Jung, short, heavy-set and nattily dressed, conferred in whispers with his aides during the 6-minute reading. He was impassive throughout.

But at the end of a 30-minute recess his impassiveness was gone. He stormed back into the Quonset hut, his well-tailored uniform quivering with rage and accused the U. N. of trying to cover up its own armistice violations by accusing the Reds of violating the 4-year-old truce.

Promises "Strongest Protest"
Jung said he was lodging the "strongest protest with your side." He called for the "peaceful unification" of Korea and the withdrawal of all foreign troops.

The historic meeting lasted one hour and 15 minutes. It marked the end of another key provision of the armistice agreement—Sub Paragraph 13-d which said no new equipment could be introduced into Korea once the fighting ended.

It was the second major provision nullified by the Allies after the Communists had made it a "mockery." The first was the decision to expel the so-called "neutral nation" troops—Polish and Czech members made any form of inspection impossible.

70 Courses Being Planned For College
Special to The Bulletin
PORTLAND — The curriculum committee of the state board of higher education Tuesday recommended approval of 70 courses at Central Oregon College, Bend, for transfer of credit to colleges and the university in the state system of higher education.

The recommendation is subject to approval of the full board. The committee approved 15 instructors to offer courses for college credit and authorized transfer of credit for 70 courses in 22 fields of study that previously had been offered at the Central Oregon college.

However, it recommended that another 20 courses in 11 fields, which had previously not been offered at the college, be deferred until more information on the courses and the instructors is available. It turned down a request to approve transfer of credit for five upper-division courses.

Under House Bill 594, passed by the last Oregon legislature, the state board of higher education is required to approve specific courses that are to be transferred for credit and approve the faculty who are to offer the courses.

Billy Reports N. Y. Crusade Quite Successful
NEW YORK (UP)—Billy Graham said Thursday night that "more than twice as many persons have given their lives to Christ in our New York Crusade than in any other of our American crusades."

The North Carolina evangelist told a Madison Square Garden audience of 16,000 that in the first five weeks of his crusade more "decisions for Christ." Thursday night's 359 decisions brought the total to 20,611 since the crusade began May 15.

Graham said that "it's a sacred and holy obligation for us not to publish names of those who give their lives to Christ here, but if I were to tell you the names of some of those who have come forward, names known by all of you, it would shake this city."

Hopes Rise for 'First Step' On Disarmament Agreement

By CHARLES M. McCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent
The week's good and bad news on the international balance sheet: Hope rose measurably this week that the world's three great nuclear powers might take a historic "first step" toward a disarmament agreement.

Soviet Russia had proposed, in the United Nations disarmament negotiations in London, that tests of nuclear weapons be suspended. The United States took a decidedly friendly attitude toward this proposal. One reason was that Russia, in a radical departure from its traditional policy, proposed that control posts, equipped with scientific instruments, be set up in the countries concerned to make sure that any illegal tests would be detected.

But the United States sought also an agreement under which the nuclear powers—United States, Great Britain and Russia—would bind themselves in an agreed time to stop production of nuclear weapons and to reduce existing stockpiles.

President Eisenhower and Japanese Premier Nobusuke Kishi opened a conference with a round of golf on the Burning Tree course in Washington.

Kishi's negotiations with Eisenhower and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles were expected to result in the establishment of a new basis for Japanese-American relations.

Japan's position in the Far East, with Communist China and Soviet Russia as its immediate neighbors, made it evident that Kishi was likely to be Eisenhower's most important guest during the spring and summer diplomatic visiting season.

Kishi arrived in Washington one day after a federal judge had ruled that the United States must not turn over to Japanese authorities Army Socialist AC William S. Girard, accused of killing a Japanese woman on a firing range near Tokyo.

The ruling upset an administration decision to permit a Japanese court to try Girard under the Status of Forces agreement covering American troops stationed in Japan.

Judge Joseph C. McGarraghy held that Girard was clearly on duty when the woman was killed. Because of that, he said, Girard was entitled under the Constitution to trial by an American court martial.

The administration appealed to the U. S. Supreme Court.

"Deeply shocked"..."Abuses that could be perpetrated by a police force all-powerful, pitiless and unabashed by any shameful act..." "Appalling descriptions" of tortures.

In such words as these, a United Nations special committee denounced Soviet Russia's savage suppression of the Hungarian revolt last November.

Russian troops were used to crush "a spontaneous national uprising" and to overthrow a "legal and popularly-supported government," the report said. It characterized Premier Janos Kadar as a puppet.

The report was the most vigorous denunciation of Soviet terroristic actions ever made by a U. N. agency.

A special meeting of the U. N. Assembly, with all 81 members attending, may be called to follow up the report.

'No Evidence' Of Damage from Fallout Seen

PORTLAND (UP)—Dr. John Lawrence, director of the Donner Laboratory at the University of California, said here Thursday night that the world of science has yet "absolutely no evidence" that radioactive fallout from atomic bombs has damaged human beings.

Dr. Lawrence spoke at the Oregon Science Conference sponsored by the Oregon Museum of Science and Industry, Reed College and the Tektronix foundation.

He conceded that large doses of radioactive material could kill, but "so could a large dose of aspirin," he said.

Dr. Lawrence has been working with radioactivity in medicine since 1935. In that time, he said "there has not been a single case in my experience where radioactivity has caused damage or death to a person."

He asserted that claims of radiation damage by other scientists were based on assumptions, not proof. "They are not being scientific," he said.

The increase in background radiation since the latest Nevada bomb tests has been about 3 per cent. Dr. Lawrence observed, "A radium dial on a wrist watch gives a person more than three times that amount of radiation."

Regarding a purported link between the element strontium 90 and the incidence of leukemia, Dr. Lawrence said "I'm afraid we'll find the patients have received more radiation from diagnosis than they have from the background."

Decision Due On Wednesday
WASHINGTON (UP)—The federal judge at the contempt of Congress trial of teamsters Vice President Frank W. Brewster hopes to hand down a verdict next Wednesday.

The trial of the Seattle labor leader ended Thursday. Federal Judge John J. Sirica said after the closing arguments that he had wanted to announce his decision at the end of the trial. But, he said, he found he had "some more work...to do on the case over the weekend."

Brewster was cited for contempt of Congress in refusing to answer questions and produce records of the Western Conference of Teamsters Investigating Subcommittee. Brewster for the Senate Permanent authority to question him.

Oriental Flu Outbreak Noted

NEWPORT, R.I. (UP)—The Navy today reported a "mild outbreak of Oriental influenza at the Newport Naval Base."

The outbreak (is) mild since only 2 per cent of 27,500 sailors in the Newport-based ships have been affected.

"After an intricate series of laboratory tests the flu virus was determined this week to be the same type as is spreading through the Asiatic countries and along the West Coast of the United States."

Throat cultures from initial patients on June 5 were taken and forwarded to Washington by the Navy. This morning Rhode Island Health Department authorities met with Navy medical officers to discuss the outbreak.

"The Navy Department does not intend to institute quarantine measures unless government or state health authorities deem it necessary to start quarantine for civilians in the affected area."

"Since the illness caused by the influenza is mild, it is unlikely that this quarantine will be ordered."

FBI Joins Quest For 4 Bandits

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—The Federal Bureau of Investigation today joined police in a search for four bandits who carried out a daring robbery at the home of Lauritz Melchior and escaped after binding the onetime opera star, his wife and two servants.

Police inventoried the jewels, furs and cash taken by the bandits at $139,771. But Melchior valued his stolen property at $175,000.

Officers said it was a "well planned" robbery and came off with precision Tuesday night. The FBI said it was stepping into the investigation because large scale jewel robbers often involve the transporting of stolen goods across state lines.

The robust singer told newsmen he felt a hard attack so the gunmen wouldn't tie him up so tightly. His wife, Maria, and the two servants, Charles Leuschner and Wills Huber, also were bound with neckties and stockings by the bandits.

Detectives Wednesday showed Melchior a collection of mug shots of big time jewelry thieves. But the Danish-born singer was unable to identify any of the thieves as the men who robbed him.
