Senate Approval Given Postal Service Measure

WASHINGTON (UP)—The nation was assured today of full postal service for the year beginning July 1.

The Senate passed and sent to the White House today a supplemental Post Office Department money bill providing an extra 133 million dollars for next fiscal year.

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield had warned of new cuts in postal services and the shutdown of possibly thousands of local post offices unless Congress provided him more funds to run his department.

Summerfield had asked an additional $149,500,000, but the Senate, in approving the bill Wednesday, went along with House cuts of $16,500,000.

However, Chairman Carl Hayden (D-Ariz.) of the Senate Appropriations Committee assured his colleagues that the reduction would not mean any curtailment of daily rural mail deliveries or suspension of Saturday service in cities and towns.

Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.), voting against the bill, accused Summerfield of trying to intimidate Congress with threats instead of seeking to save money by modernizing the mail service.

President Eisenhower, who had backed Summerfield in his fight to obtain extra funds, was almost certain to sign the measure.

The postmaster general had curtailed postal services briefly earlier this year when Congress refused to grant him extra funds to tide his department over the fiscal year ending June 30.

On another matter, Summerfield told the House Post Office Committee Wednesday he and Eisenhower would give "careful consideration" to any postal pay raise recommended by the group.

Charges Made By Nickerson

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (UP)—Col. John C. Nickerson Jr. testified today that "gross" overemphasis on air power exists in the Defense Department.

Reliance on air power alone, the Army missiles officer testified at his court martial, might lay the United States open to "total defeat" if Soviet armies overrun most of the Free World.

Nickerson was testifying in his own defense in an effort to mitigate his sentence for admitted negligent handling of secret documents and sending classified memos to various outside persons.

But Nickerson almost immediately launched a blistering attack on the air power philosophy of defense which he said has been "glamorized and publicized" by every member of the Air Force.
