

Horse Show Scheduled For Final Day of County Fair

Special to The Bulletin
REDMOND—A horse show is to be held at Deschutes county fair grounds Sunday morning, August 25, from 9 to 11 a.m., the last day of the county fair.

While horse shows were held in previous years, this year's show will mark a revival of the event and is planned for the entertainment of not only those attending the Buckaroo breakfast but for all other persons interested. There will be no admission charge, according to F. M. Roberts, of Redmond, who, with Mrs. Dean Hollinshead, Bend, is taking entries and making plans for the show.

There will be three divisions to the show. The first will be a halter class for registered quarter-horses of Deschutes county. This class was limited to the quarter-horses as it was felt there are more of them than of any other breed in the county. Another year it may be feasible to extend the entries.

Owners are asked to enter their horses, with Roberts or Mrs. Hollinshead, before August 15. Roberts' office is in the Eugene-Willamette Lumber Co., 632 South Sixth St., Redmond. Mrs. Hollinshead lives northeast of Bend.

The show will be open to horses registered appendix or better with the American Quarter Horse Association, and may be mares, stallions or geldings two years or older. This will be the halter class.

For the trail horse class and the working stock classes all breeds may enter, with no age limit. However, Roberts points out, riders in the two working classes must be 18 years or older.

Roberts indicates he is planning to show a famous quarter-horse stallion if arrangements can be made for its appearance.

On entries in the halter class owners are to list horse's name, age, registry, sire and dam, as well as the owner's name.

Members of Redmond Saddle club will assist with the show.

At present, the group intends to begin another drive for membership, in order to obtain funds necessary for maintenance and the additional channel. Cost of the newly installed apparatus was around $3000.

AEC Says Claim Made by Writer Is 'Ridiculous'

LAS VEGAS (UP)—The Atomic Energy Commission today labeled as "ridiculous" a reporter's claim that he entered the atomic test grounds in Nevada to witness Monday's "Diablo" shot by showing gag credentials including one card good for a free drink at a Las Vegas bar.

Reporter Pat Michaels, of the Orange County News Service and radio station KWIZ in Santa Ana, Calif., Wednesday said he got past security guards at Camp Mercury by showing the free drink card, another which certified he was a back seat driver and several personal cards. He said he also was not questioned about a satchel he carried into the area.

Lt. Col. William R. Hunter, director of the AEC's test information office, said Michaels last week requested to witness the test and his credentials were checked and cleared. Hunter said the reporter's name was placed on a list of authorized news media observers.

"When Michaels arrived at the test site he was issued his badge at my request," Hunter said. "He together with all other news observers were under security escort every minute on the test site."

Hunter said Michaels was not questioned about his brief case because all authorized newsmen are permitted to carry items necessary to do their work on New Nob in the test area.

President Wants Personal Papers Put in Library

Eisenhower also expressed a wish that any paper or letter in which he may have "spoken disparagingly of someone still alive" would be kept secret until that person had died.

TNT Blast Kills Three, Hurts Others

NEW LONDON, Conn. (UP)—A 2½-pound charge of TNT used in experimental work exploded on the deck of the escort vessel Somersworth Wednesday night killing three sailors and injuring eight others, four seriously.

The blast occurred on the forecastle deck at 5:45 p.m. e.d.t. when the ship was off Montauk Point conducting "test operations" with the submarine Tirante, the Navy said. The ship was not damaged.

First indication caused Navy investigators to believe that a time fuse on the charge may have been defective, the Navy said. A board of officers from the New London base began an investigation of the accident when the ship arrived here shortly after 4:30 a.m. e.d.t.

The charges are used in "investigating sound transmission" in underwater work, the Navy said.

The four seriously injured sailors were transferred to the British liner Queen Mary, who halted her eastward Atlantic crossing to make her doctor available.

They were treated aboard the passenger liner and then lowered

Winds Stall Test Shot

LAS VEGAS (UP)—The Atomic Energy Commission early today postponed for 24 hours the firing of a below average size nuclear device because of unfavorable winds.

The device was scheduled to be fired at 6:30 a.m. p.d.t. The test was rescheduled for the same time Friday.

It was the second time the AEC put off detonating the charge expected to equal 6,000 tons of TNT because of unfavorable weather and technical problems. The test involves firing the nuclear device from a balloon 500 feet above the Nevada Proving Grounds.

After leading guards to Mouton, one of the hounds collapsed and died of heat exhaustion.
