Scots Post Extra Period Win Over Bend; Cats Lose

Special to The Bulletin
PORTLAND—Two visiting Central Oregon basketball teams gave Portland area aggregations plenty of trouble in Saturday night competition, but had to settle for close-margin defeats.

The Bend Lava Bears put on a surprisingly good show, giving highly-rated David Douglas of Portland a ride for its money. The Scots finally won in overtime, 50-48.

The Redmond Panthers also were just a little bit under on the score board, finishing behind Milwaukie, 47-44. Friday evening, playing on a twin varsity bill at Milwaukie, Coach Tom Winbigler's Lava Bears came out on top, 57-49, while Redmond went down before the Scots, 56-43.

David Douglas' pair of wins runs the season streak to five. Bend has 2-2 and Howard (Buck) Kauffman's Panthers have won one and lost three.

Bend at Home
 Friday and Saturday, Bend is at home, entertaining Eagle Point. Redmond will be idle until after the Christmas and New Year holidays.

Bend was again hitting well from the field, with a 333 on 16 of 48, but the hosts were a little hotter—345 on 20 of 58. At the free toss line, Bend was best, making 16 of 22 for .727 compared with 10 of 20 for .500.

George Hawes, 6' junior and team captain, collected 18 points for the high plateau dwellers and finished up as Bend's high point man for the weekend. His 11 of the night before brought the total to 29.

Stenlund Leads
 Leading the victors was Gary Stenlund, speedy 6' guard, who had a total of 20 points. The night before, against Redmond, Stenlund canned 18 points to make him tops for the series with 38.

In the first game, the Panthers of Redmond high came close to defeating the Mustangs. Redmond went ahead with a minute to play on Keith Butterfield's two free throws, making the score 44-43.

But Milwaukie's Bill Yost earned two field goals in the final seconds to clinch the win for the host school.

In the estimation of Kauffman, it was the Cats' best game so far this season. The team not only curtailed effectiveness of Milwaukie's Jim Bell, 6-7 center, but also kept up team scoring as well. Bell had 11 points while Lee Yost was high for the Mustangs with 15.

In the first quarter, the Portland area school was ahead, 10-7, with a last-second field goal. Milwaukie pulled out in front in the second stanza, holding an 18-11 edge at one time.

Even at Half
 Baskets by Brown, Butterfield and McCrea late in the quarter pulled the Panthers nearly even and the half finished in Milwaukie's favor, 22-20.

The score was 26-20 in opening minutes of the third quarter, but again Redmond pulled close with Brown, McCrea and Zitek carrying most of the payload. Third quarter ended 36-34 for the Mustangs.

Redmond resumes the schedule on January 3 and 4 when they go to Oakridge and Springfield.

Back and Forth
 In the exciting game in which the Lava Bears took part, they had a slim, 11-9 edge after one canto. David Douglas bounced back and went ahead, 23-22. It was Bend again, 34-32, after three periods, and the count was 46-46 after four full quarters.

Turning point, as far as Bend was concerned, was when George Hawes, who had held Stenlund to 10 points, went out via the foul route. In the final six minutes, Stenlund, without the harassment

Skyliners Cop Several Places At Timberline

TIMBERLINE LODGE—Bend Skyliner juniors garnered three first places, one second and three thirds, Sunday, in the Arnold Lund downhill races.

The event was the first of the 1957-58 season in which the Gene Gillis coached team participated.

Terry Skjersaa won the expert boys' downhill race and Eva Marcoulier took the junior expert women's title with a time of 2:33.8. In doing so she defeated Jean Sauter, Lakeview, the 1957 national junior combined and downhill titlist, by one second.

Greta Skjersaa took top honors in intermediate girls' downhill skiing. Susan Cutter was second in this event and Sylvia Goodrich was third, giving the Skyliners a clean sweep in the event.

Rachel Goodrich was third in the expert girls' division. Andy Cleveland finished third in intermediate boys' competition.

A total of 11 young Skyliners took part in the meet which was held in foggy weather which hampered competitors somewhat.

Young Skjersaa won the junior expert men's title, covering the course of about one mile and a quarter in 2 minutes, 5.4 seconds. This was two tenths of a second faster than the clocking of the men's Class A winner, Rees Stevenson, White Salmon, Wash.

of Hawes, poured in 10 more points, all but one of the final 11 made by the home squad.

Behind 41-35 at the six minute mark, the Scots closed the gap, and finally tied it at 44-44. Bend again took the lead, 46-44, when John Simonis hit a pair of bonus shots.

Ball Control
 The opponents came back and with 25 seconds remaining bucketed a final free throw. The Bruins controlled the ball, gambling for a final shot. Hodge shot from outside and missed, putting the game into overtime.

David Douglas quickly went in front, 50-46 and the final Bear tally came when, with 10 seconds to go, Hodge slammed in a jump shot.

They had 33 rebounds to Bend's 28. There were 15 fouls on the home towners and 17 on the visiting hoopers.
