CALL TO ORDER — Redmond's new Mayor Don Hinman presided at his first meeting Tuesday night in city council room. (Bend Bulletin Photo.)

Labor Leaders Pleased With Appointments

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Labor leaders were heartened today by appointment of five liberal Democrats to the House Education and Labor Committee.

AFL-CIO officials said the new members and the increased Democratic margin over Republicans—29 to 10—had improved chances for labor-backed legislation.

The House committee often has been a burial ground for union-supported bills.

Labor sources said this major AFL-CIO goal of the session of Congress were an anti-racketeering bill, certain Taft-Hartley Law revisions, and extension of coverage under the federal minimum wage law.

Meantime, Rep. Carroll D. Kearns (R-Pa.), top GOP member of the labor group, announced he will sponsor President Eisenhower's labor program in the House. He said it contained "no union-busting tactics" and should be acceptable to both Democrats and Republicans.

Kearns said the proposals would protect union rights, tighten laws on secondary boycotts, protect union treasurers against irresponsible officials and provide for "true and responsible collective bargaining."

The Democratic Committee on committees, presumably acting with the approval of Speaker Sam Rayburn (Tex.), filled all five Democratic vacancies on the committee with newly-elected congressmen from the northern industrial areas.

One liberal Democrat predicted that on many issues the new lineup would give liberal forces an 11-to-12 edge over the Republican-southern Democratic coalition which frequently forced a 15-15 deadlock last session.

The new committee Democrats were Reps. Roman C. Pucinski (Ill.), Dominick V. Daniels (N.J.), John Brademas (Ind.), Robert N. Giannino (Conn.), and James G. O'Hara, (Minn.).

But at the same time that Democrats were landing up the labor committee with liberals, Republicans made certain that conservatives will have stronger control over the House Rules Committee which controls the flow of legislation to the House floor.

'Robert Rich' Turns Out to Be Dalton Trumbo

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—The identity of Oscar-winning screen writer "Robert Rich," the man nobody could find two years ago to put a gold statue in his hand, was revealed Friday night.

Dalton Trumbo, who said "he" wrote under the pseudonym because he had been blacklisted by the major studios for refusing to state his political beliefs, unveiled his masquerade as the prize-winning author of the movie "The Brave One."

Frank King, producer of the picture, confirmed Trumbo's claim.

The 53-year-old writer of such films as "Thirty Seconds to Tokyo" and "A Guy Named Joe," made the disclosure Friday night on a local television program.

Trumbo was one of Hollywood's "10 unfriendly witnesses" before the House un-American Activities Committee in 1947.

He was an $80,000 a year writer for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer before and was convicted of contempt of Congress May 5, 1948 for refusing to say whether he was a member of the Communist Party.

He was sentenced to pay a $1,000 fine and served a year in jail on the contempt conviction.

Not 'Working' Yet Just Any Day Now, They Should Get Organized

By Frank Eleazer UPI Staff Writer WASHINGTON (UPI)—A lot of people apparently got the impression that the 80th Congress started last week. Let's say rather that it convened last week. Any day now it'll be organized and can get down to business.

The senators, as usual, encountered delays. First they had to talk a while. As a matter of fact they talked until Tuesday, settling such issues as how long to talk about how long to talk about how long to talk before closing debate.

They finally got that worked out, with results you have read elsewhere. The agreement roughly was that a typical Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas thinks they have talked long enough, the voting will begin, two-thirds of those present assenting.

Another problem also has been happily solved. Little Beagle Johnson, who was missing two days, is back.

This relieved widespread concern among Senate functionaries and brought joy to the hearts of the aforementioned Sen. Johnson; Mrs. Lady Bird Johnson, his wife; and Lucy Baines Johnson and Lynda Bird Johnson, their daughters.

Industrial Stock Average Sets Record in Past Week

By Elmer C. Walzer UPI Staff Writer NEW YORK (UPI) — The industrial stock average set a new record high during the past week and all but scaled the 600 level which has been something of a goal for the bullish element.
