Group honors Mrs. Bartolat

Fire Chief Vernon Carlon believes the answer has been found. It was Young's custom to chat with neighbors, mostly about his garden and flowers. A neighbor recently mentioned her need of ashes for her soil. Young, who made his way through the neighborhood with the use of two canes because of crippling arthritis, volunteered to get the required ashes.

In their investigation Wednesday afternoon, firemen found some fine, dust-like ash in the ruins of a shed where the fire apparently started and spread to the small residence where Young was asleep.

That ash apparently had been removed from the two stoves in the Young home on Tuesday evening. In the early morning hours, gusty winds swept through the area. It is surmised that the wind whipped embers from the stored ashes.

Another mystery of the case was also cleared up by investigating officers: Young's missing wallet, holding $76, was found concealed in a scorched blanket, behind a dresser. Earlier, $100 was found cached in Young's deep freeze.

Young was a native of Anderson, Ind. Efforts to locate a daughter, Marguerite Schrader, last heard from in Wichita, Kans., met with no success.

Funeral services will be held Friday at 2 p.m. at the Niswonger & Reynolds Chapel. The Rev. James Thompson of the Methodist Church will be in charge. Burial will be in the Pilot Butte Cemetery.

How to save a $2 phone call and lose a sale doing it!

"Thundering nonsense," said Mr. Terwilliger. "I'm not blowing two bucks on a coast-to-coast call when a four-cent stamp gets the job done! Take a letter, Miss Moon." So he dictated, and she took the letter down, and she typed it, and he signed it, and she mailed it.

And the whole routine didn't take so much time — just a half-hour of his, and forty-five minutes of hers.

And five days later, he got a prompt reply from the client, asking him to clear up a point that wasn't quite clear. So he wrote again, and he got another prompt reply from the client which said, "Thanks very much. But while I was waiting for your second letter, your competitor called me Long Distance. He offered me just as good a deal and since I was short of time, I took it. Why didn't you telephone?"

Moral: It's easy to save money, as long as you don't care what it costs.
