Karlstad Family Singers to offer concert Monday

Appearing in a sacred concert at the First Lutheran Church on Monday, July 24th, 7:30 p.m. standard time, the Karlstad Family Singers from Tacoma, Wash., will present a sacred program of choral music representative of the great music masters, such as Bach, Brahms, Grieg, Handel, Grotchianoff, Mendelssohn, Pini, and Tchaikovsky. In addition, a variety of national carols and folk songs, together with a group of seasonal hymnic gems, will be offered.
 Originating from a busy parsonage home where singing was made a special family project, the Karlstad Family Singers regard their concert appearances as a mission to promote inspiration for families to do things together.
 Pastor and Mrs. Alfred M. Karlstad and their five children (Elizabeth 18; Curtis 16; Judy 13; Elizabeth 7 and Deborah 5) set aside one evening each week as "family night", pursuing the difficult task of mastering a wide range of sacred music. Many of the concert selections have been drawn from the concert repertoires of famous college choirs.
 The Family Singers, for the second consecutive summer, are spending their vacation by traveling through 26 states giving 33 concerts — from coast to coast. Their itinerary includes a few days stay at the mammoth youth convention of the American Lutheran Church to be held in Miami, Fla.

SP sees big saving if WP taken over

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Southern Pacific and Western Pacific would save some $6,200,000 a year if SP were allowed to take over control of WP, according to officials of SP.
 The picture was presented at a hearing of the Interstate Commerce Commission on whether Southern Pacific or Santa Fe should be given permission to acquire stock control of Western Pacific.
 The SP submitted an 18 project "co-ordination" plan listing how the money could be saved.
 The far-reaching plan proposed that SP tear up hundreds of miles of track and plan coordinate operations so that Western Pacific and Southern Pacific could use each other's lines where desirable.

WP Independence
 Southern Pacific stressed that it intended to keep Western Pacific as an independent organization in spite of the wholesale consolidations and the fact that the railroads were in competition.
 Some of the biggest proposed consolidations include combining of yards, maintenance and terminal facilities in Sacramento, Stockton, Oakland, San Jose and San Francisco.
 Another change would be the elimination of Western Pacific barges which now make nine trips across San Francisco Bay daily. Instead that traffic would be moved across San Francisco Bay on a Southern Pacific line over the Dumbarton Bridge.

Monopoly Charged
 Consolidation of the railroads would permit abandonment of WP's main yard, its passenger terminal, a freight house and 24 miles of track here, plus a reduction of more than 100 in the work force.
 The abandoned property could then be available for valuable property development, the SP pointed out.
 The Southern Pacific said that under its plan some 500 jobs would be cut at a saving of some $3,800,000 a year.
 Santa Fe, the "other party" in the battle of giants—and the railroad preferred by WP—has yet to present its case for seeking control of the small 1,200 mile WP, a key link in transcontinental and Pacific Northwest rail routes.
 Testimony of the 12,500 mile SP so far has hinged on the economies that could be achieved through SP control. The 13,500-mile Santa Fe is expected to argue that SP control would mean a western railroad monopoly.

Bacaloff seeks Colbert ouster

DETROIT (UPI) — Jim Bacaloff, a stockholder from Portland, Ore., said today he will demand that the Chrysler Corp.'s board of directors oust company president L. L. Colbert.
 If the board fails to fire Colbert at next week's board of directors meeting in New York, Bacaloff said he would then attempt to call a stockholders meeting to elect a new board.

Reynolds eases school refund

TROUTDALE (UPI)—Reynolds Metals Co., recently awarded a $225,000 tax refund, has agreed to make it as easy as possible for Reynolds School District which must return half the money.
 The tax refund was ordered by the Oregon Supreme Court in connection with assessments on the company's aluminum plant here.
 The school district said if Reynolds demanded immediate payment of the $121,000 school district share of the refund, it would plunge 1961-62 school financing into chaos.
 The firm has announced it will defer the entire sum for one year, then take the money in two equal payments ending in 1964. Reynolds said it will not charge any interest.
