Four county boys attend annual youth range camp

Representing Deschutes County at this year's Youth Range Camp were Doug Holly and Larry Fies of Bend, and Lynden Sanford and Bill Yocom of Redmond. The camp was held early in August at the old "P" Ranch on the Malheur Wildlife Refuge south of Burns.

In contests held at the camp, Doug Holly placed second in the Grand Contest. In this contest, boys located and gave the common and scientific names of as many as possible of 100 range plants found in the area.

A total of 48 boys from 15 Eastern and Southern Oregon counties attended the camp. Those attending were selected through plant identification contests in their county, or on the basis of leadership, citizenship, and love of the outdoors.

Each boy at the camp received a scholarship from local sponsors to cover costs of attending the camp. Sponsors in Deschutes County included the Redmond 4-H and FFA organizations.

The camp is sponsored each year by the Pacific Northwest section of the American Society of Range Management. Main purpose of the camp is to give boys a chance to spend a week living out of doors in range country, giving them a better outlook on plant and animal life.

At the camp, boys slept out of doors under the stars, and all instruction was on out-of-door subjects. The game refuge, surrounded by grazing lands and valley meadows, gave the boys a large laboratory in which to study.

During study sessions, the boys learned to identify and describe various plants found on the range, studied soil and range judging, took part in discussions on conservation and wildlife management, and received instruction in photography, fishing, hunting, camping, and hiking. On the side, the boys managed to squeeze in a little soft ball, horseshoes, and other camp games.

Around evening campfires, the boys learned more of the work of the range management society, held special contests, and even had a "tail tales" contest.

Major emphasis at the camp was set by the plant description contest held the first day. In this contest, and all during the camp, boys were urged to keep their eyes and ears open and to observe, appreciate, and remember what was going on around them.

Russia thought secretly testing nuclear weapons

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Three Democratic members of Congress believe Russia is secretly testing nuclear weapons in violation of a 34-month test moratorium.

The three influential legislators said Sunday the United States, therefore, should seriously consider resuming atomic tests.

Rep. Chet Holifield, D-Calif., chairman of the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee, said President Kennedy feels the same way.

But, Holifield said, Kennedy is "willing to walk the last mile to obtain an agreement" at Geneva on a nuclear test ban.

Holifield, said in a radio interview that he had advised the President to follow a formula of "test and talk." He said this would include resumption of underground tests while continuing to explore possible agreement on a test ban with Russia.

Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., expressed a similar feeling. Symington, in a TV interview, said "of course" Russia has been conducting secret tests during the Geneva test ban talks. He declined to give the source of his information.

He said the United States would find itself in a "really difficult, if not hopeless position" if it continued its voluntary test suspension while the Russians secretly conducted nuclear tests.

Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., said the United States should resume nuclear tests now because it is clear Russia never will agree to a test ban pact.

Cooley awaiting court hearing after conviction

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (UPI)—Spade Cooley, once the "king of western swing" on Los Angeles TV but now a convicted murderer, today awaited a Superior Court hearing to determine if he was insane the night he beat his wife to death.

Cooley, 50, was convicted Saturday of the April 3 slaying of his wife, Ella May, 37.

The same jury that convicted him meets Tuesday to rule on his plea of innocent by reason of insanity, but defense attorney P. Basil Lambros indicated he may seek a delay in the hearing.

He said one defense psychiatrist was in Europe and the others "are scattered around on vacation."

"I hope the jury will give him a fair shake on this matter of sanity," Lambros said. "I am sure the evidence will show that Spade was insane at the time of his wife's death."

If Cooley wins his plea, Superior Judge William L. Bradshaw must send him to a state mental hospital for a minimum of 90 days. If his plea is not accepted, Cooley's punishment will be determined by the same jury.

The choice is not wide—death in the gas chamber or life in prison.

Cooley's conviction brought relief to his daughter, Melody, 15, who was the prosecution's key witness.

Mrs. Elizabeth Kidwell, 40, sister of Ella May, quoted Melody as saying, "Now we're safe."

Hope for tax cut dashed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Berlin crisis dashed hopes for a federal income tax cut next year, according to Commerce Secretary Luther H. Hodges.

Before the Berlin situation flared up, Hodges said, "We had a good chance—I know President Kennedy felt that way—we had a good chance of next year maybe making some adjustments downward in taxes."

"At this moment I don't see much chance of that," he said, because of the military build-up and other costly outlays to counter communism throughout the world.

DROPS IN UNEXPECTEDLY
SHOREHAM, England (UPI) — British Army Cpl. Gordon Ogilvie, 28, dropped in on Mrs. Nora Warren at her home here—feet first.

Ogilvie's parachute was blown off course after a 2,400-foot drop with the result that he landed on Mrs. Warren's roof and crashed through. His feet came through the slats and he was hauled down unhurt.

LATTIMORE HEADS HOME
LONDON (UPI) — Owen Lattimore, former U.S. State Department adviser on Asian affairs, left for home Saturday, ending a 40-day visit to Outer Mongolia, the Soviet news agency Tass reported.

Fanatics burn two villages

VANCOUVER, B. C. (UPI) — Fifty persons were homeless today because religious fanatics burned two Orthodox Doukhobor communities near Castlegara, B.C. Sunday.

Fires started in four villages simultaneously but two blazes were brought under control before they did any damage.

Flames quickly swept through wooden buildings in the other two villages and forced men, women and children to flee for safety.

Royal Canadian Mounted Police investigating the fires found an unexploded bomb at one of the villages. The RCMP said arson was evident in all of the fires.

The Doukhobors, who immigrated to this country at the turn of the century after they were driven from Russia by the czars, have a long story of terrorism and arson as the sect's members refuse to change their radical ways of living.

Sisters schools to open Sept. 5

Special to The Bulletin
SISTERS — The Sisters public schools will open for the 1961-62 school year on Tuesday, September 5, 1961, at 8:30 a.m. announced Dave Johnson, superintendent of schools. The bus schedule will be the same as last year. New students who live along the bus route should contact the school office prior to the opening of school if they wish to be transported on the first day of school. The hot lunch program will begin operation on Monday, September 11.

Parents of first graders are reminded that their first grader should have a physical examination prior to the beginning of school and that all first graders must present their birth certificate on the first day of school.

All boys, grades nine through twelve, who plan to turn out for football, should be at the school at 7:15 a.m. standard time on Saturday, August 26. The bus will leave at that time for Bend, where the boys will have physical examinations. Every boy must have a physical before he may turn out for practice, which will start on Monday, August 28.

Graham urges day of prayer

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Evangelist Billy Graham urged President Kennedy Sunday night to proclaim a special national day of prayer for Americans to ask for divine intervention in the Berlin crisis.

He also urged the President to speak, calling on the United Nations to stage a full-dress airing of the "ugly story" of Red tyranny which has forced millions to flee East Germany.

Graham made the plea in a sermon to about 15,000 at the opening of his four-week Greater Philadelphia crusade. More than 1,000 persons, unadmitted by rain, stood outside and listened when convention hall was filled to capacity.

Wheat farmers to vote Thursday on market quotas for 1962 crop Safe landing made by plane

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Wheat farmers will vote in a national referendum Thursday on whether government controls in the form of marketing quotas will be in effect for the 1962 wheat crop. The vote also will decide whether the special wheat stabilization program spelled out in the new farm law will be used in 1962.

At least two-thirds of those voting must approve quotas if they are to be put into effect. Quotas have been in effect for the last eight crops. In previous referenda, there was no special stabilization program riding in the balance.

The Agriculture Department estimates some 500,000 wheat farmers are eligible to vote in the 39-state commercial wheat area. How many of these will cast their ballots is problematical.

Higher Vote Seen
Officials expect considerably more than the 201,000 ballots cast in last year's referendum. This expectation is based on a guaranteed price support rate of $2 per bushel and the promise of Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman that grower income will be increased 10 to 15 per cent from the 1962 crop over what could be expected if the present program were continued.

Freeman has campaigned widely and vigorously for a large and affirmative vote. He made three major speeches at Oklahoma City, Nashville and Minneapolis to department field personnel urging adoption of the special program designed to "increase farm income, reduce excessive buildup of supplies, and reduce government storage costs." In addition, he conducted numerous news conferences at which he plugged for a large "yes" vote and consequent use of the special wheat stabilization program.

This was considerably different from the tactics of former secretary Ezra T. Benson. Benson never urged farmers to vote either for or against quotas. He didn't believe marketing controls were the right approach to help solve farm problems.

All farmers who produced more than 13.5 acres of wheat in at least one of the last three years are eligible to vote—except those in the 11-state non-commercial wheat area. The non-voting states are Alaska, Connecticut, Florida, Hawaii, Louisiana, Maine, Massachusetts, Nevada, New Hampshire, Rhode Island and Vermont.

If marketing quotas are approved in the referendum:
—Price support at a national average rate of $2 per bushel will be available to those producers in the commercial area who comply with their acreage allotments and who participate in the special wheat stabilization program.
May Earn Payments
—Wheat growers who cooperate with the special program may earn payments for diverting a portion of their wheat acreage to conservation uses.
—All farm wheat acreage allotments will be reduced 10 per cent, providing a cut of 5.5 million acres in the previous minimum allotment of 55 million acres.
If quotas are not approved:

—Price support at 50 per cent of the parity price will be available only in the commercial wheat area and to those farmers who comply with their 1962 acreage allotments. One-half of the July, 1961, parity price of a bushel of wheat was $1.18.
—There will be no wheat stabilization program providing payments for diverting acreage to conservation uses.
—The lower acreage allotments will remain in effect for the 1962 crop as a condition of eligibility for price support.
—There will be no restrictions on marketing of wheat and no penalties on "excess" wheat. ("Excess" wheat is that produced on farms which exceed their acreage allotments).

THIRTY BEGIN TRAINING
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Thirty men and women will begin training today at Putney, Vt., for Peace Corps service in East Pakistan.

ATLANTA (UPI)—A Delta jet airliner with about 100 persons aboard made a safe emergency landing Saturday at Dobbins Air Force Base on the outskirts of Atlanta.

The huge aircraft had radioed it was having difficulty with its hydraulic system and requested permission to land.

The flight was Delta 820, bound from Los Angeles to Atlanta, via Dallas, Tex.

An airline spokesman said the passengers were met at Dobbins by a bus and taken to Atlanta Municipal Airport.

Fire trucks and other emergency equipment were rushed to the scene.

The big jet circled the field for about a half hour dumping fuel. The first report that the plane was in trouble came about 10:15 a.m. EST. It touched down safely about 10:40 a.m.
