Brandt reports on exodus to West Germany

BERLIN (UPI) — Mayor Willy Brandt announced Friday night that 12,000 West Berliners have left for West Germany since August, when the Communists sealed the Berlin border.

Brandt added, however, that the Communist-enclaved city's net loss in population is only 7,000, because 5,000 West Germans moved to Berlin in the August-October period.

Johann B. Gradl, a senior West Berlin leader and a member of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's Christian Democratic party in the West German parliament, said the loss was not unusual for a city of 2.2 million population.

The loss of West Berliners to West Germany was attributed to some degree to economic hardship in the booming city following the closing of the border.

Western officials expressed hope that $125 million in aid from West Germany will lure young people to the isolated Western outpost.

Man found dead in his yard

William A. Stesich, a retired Shevlin-Hixon Company employe, was found dead Friday in his yard, at 404 E. Marshall Avenue. Death apparently occurred Wednesday or Thursday.

Mr. Stesich apparently suffered a heart attack near the door to a cellar behind his house. The arrangement of buildings created a "blind spot" and prevented earlier discovery of the body.

A neighbor, becoming aware that Mr. Stesich had not been seen about since Tuesday, went to his residence to look for him, and discovered what had happened, and city police and the sheriff's office investigated.

Funeral arrangements will be announced by the Niswonger-Reynolds Chapel, Mr. Stesich lived alone, and little is known of his background, other than that he was a native of Russia. He leaves no known survivors.

Mrs. Niskanen describes trip to Europe at meeting

Using "souvenir" money from the countries which she visited on a recent trip to Europe, Mrs. William Niskanen told American Association of University Women her impressions of the countries as based upon the way each uses its money.

(Mrs. Niskanen called the coins "leftovers" since, she said, "there is never time to exchange your change.") International Relations chairman for AAUW, she was speaking at the meeting Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Sam Ljungnas.

The talked first of Sweden, as a beautiful country, prosperous, trading with everyone, friend and enemy alike, and using her money for the comforts, even the luxuries of life. Yet, she pointed out, Sweden has the greatest suicide rate in the world, according to statistics, and immorality is rampant.

Then she spoke of Finland, with warmth and understanding coming from family ties there.

How has Finland used her money? First of all, to pay her debts. Mrs. Niskanen pointed out, adding that "those who do not know anything else about Finland, know that!" In the past ten years, Finland has completed payment of huge reparations to Russia, in addition to having to give up to Russia the Karelian Isthmus, which was her industrial area.

Now her resources are her forests; yet there is no great forestry department with professional foresters as we have. Instead each farmer is his own forester, tending his trees lovingly and upon cutting one, being given another to plant in its place. Minerals have been discovered, but Russian capital moved in and developed them so the Finns received little profit there.

Still in spite of all this, Finland has made remarkable recovery in the ten years since the Niskanens were last there, she said. This she attributed to their great integrity, high resolve and intense patriotism.

Russia? Like everyone else who visits Russia, Mrs. Niskanen commented on the lack of consumer goods, and went on to say that Russia is spending her money on space exploration and missiles.

"And how do we spend our money?" Mrs. Niskanen asked in conclusion. "The way we answer that

That was the day it carried no advertisements. That was the same day business dropped off 80%. No one was advertising a clearance sale on fashionable dresses. No one was advertising a new improved vacuum cleaner, or electric shaver, or outdoor motor.
The day your newspaper cost $1.50, there was no communication between buyer and seller. For that's exactly what advertising does. Advertising, whether it be a newspaper advertisement, a radio or television commercial, a billboard or a pamphlet at your doorstep, is communication to people to invite them to enjoy a product or service, to go to church, to select a school, or to come to Oregon to live.
Today, advertising keeps you and your family and 175 million other Americans informed of products, services, values and prices. The result is that there are more and better products at lower cost to you.
