Reddy Kilowatt's Helpful Hints

HOW TO MAKE YOUR HEATING DOLLAR GO FARTHER!

- Make certain your house is well insulated, and that your doors and windows are weather-stripped. This cuts heat loss and gives you more value for your heating dollar.

- Try to keep drapes drawn and shades pulled at night and in rooms not in use because heat passes readily through window glass.

- You can save heat by closing off rooms at night where windows are raised. If the room has a separate thermostat, set it as near the outside temperature as possible.

- If your furnace has air filters, keep them clean. Dirty filters slow down air circulation and make your furnace work harder. Reddy Kilowatt hopes these hints will help save you heating dollars. And remember, Reddy's always at your service for home comfort and convenience. Live better electrically.

Hill inks order on power pact

SALEM (UPI)—Public Utility Commissioner Jonel C. Hill said Monday he has signed an order allowing Columbia Basin Electric Cooperative to exclusively serve an area in Eastern Oregon including part of the Boardman industrial park.

This was the first granting of an exclusive territory to an electric utility by Hill under a 1961 law giving him such authority.

The only potentially large industrial customer affected by the order is Boeing Co., of Seattle. Hill said Hill said parts of Boeing's proposed space research laboratory are due to be located in Columbia's section of the Boardman site.

Hill's order gives Columbia a territory in Morrow and Gilliam counties bounded on the south by the Willamette base line 11 miles north of Heppner. The west boundary is a line midway between Arlington and Willow. The Columbia River is the north boundary. The east boundary is a line through the industrial site cutting around the town of Boardman.

Hill said the area allocated makes up about one fourth of the total now served by Columbia. Established in 1940, Columbia has 817 customers in Morrow and Gilliam counties.

Furniture firms hit by strike

PORTLAND (UPI)—A strike, idling about 300 employees in six plants of five Portland Furniture and Upholstery Manufacturing companies, was under way here today.

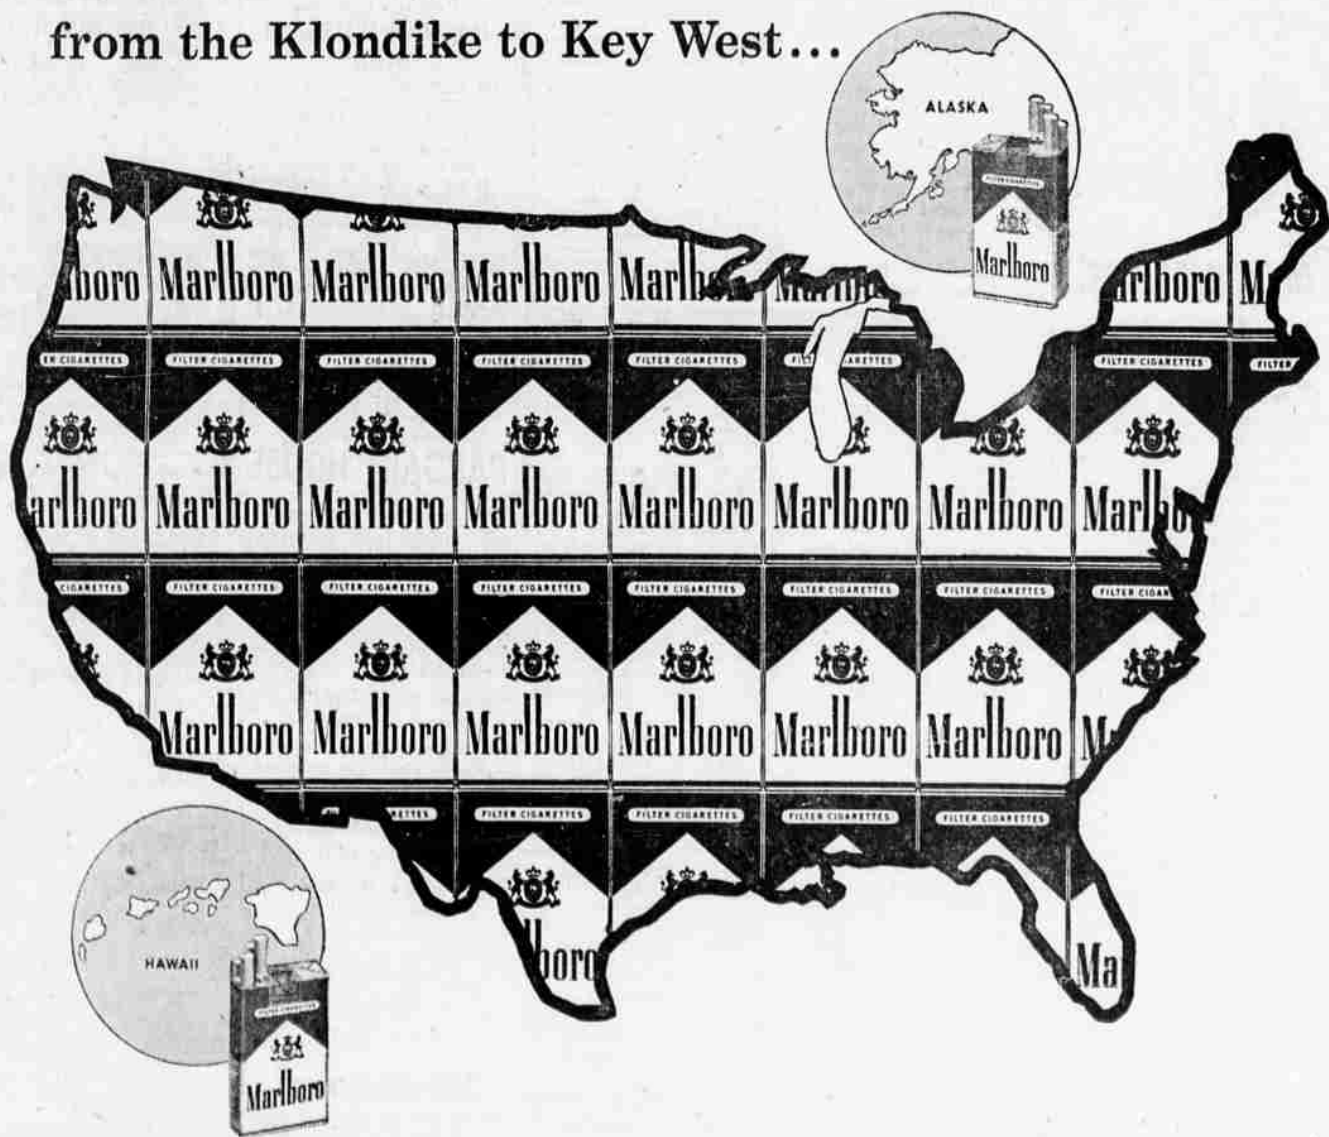

Local 65 of the Upholsterers Union started picketing the six plants Monday. Work was halted at the Rose City Upholstery, Portland Furniture Manufacturing Co., Fashioncraft Furniture Company, the Upholstery Division of the B. P. John Furniture Corp., Sealy Mattress Company and Sealy Furniture.

Some of the idled workers belong to Local 3182 of the Furniture Workers Union, which accepted a new contract last week. The Upholsterers rejected a new contract. Members of non-striking unions refused to cross picket lines.

The dispute centers over wages. Local 65 Business Agent Alfred Beecher and Employer representative Dan Hay said employer and union wage proposals were $5 apart and that disagreement also existed over whether a wage increase should be retroactive to Oct. 15 or Sept. 1.
