Boun Oum snubs peace talks at Luang Prabang

VIENTIANE (UPI) — Pro-Western Prince Boun Oum refused to attend Luatian peace talks at Luang Prabang Friday because of the continued rebel offensive against the besieged provincial capital of Nam Tha.

Communist and leftist troops launched a drive against Nam Tha the beginning of last week. The government hastily fled in troops and supplies and its loyalist defenders stalled the offensive six miles short of its goal.

The attacking forces pounded an airstrip with mortar fire Thursday in an effort to knock out food and ammunition supply lines and assure their capture of the strategic city.

Boun Oum had been scheduled to confer with "neutralist" Prince Souvanna Phouma about a coalition government for this divided kingdom.

The coalition talks have bogged down over the question of who will control the country's armed forces and police. Souvanna, supported by his half-brother, "Red" Prince Souphanouvong of the rebel Pathet Lao, claims these key ministries should be under his control. Boun Oum has refused to give them up.

Boun Oum said yesterday he would not go to Luang Prabang for the meeting. Later, reliable sources said the International Control Commission (ICC) had been asked to inform Souvanna not to expect Boun Oum.

The Indian, Canadian and Polish members of the ICC flew to the rebel capital of Khang Khay seeking permission to send an inspection team to Nam Tha before the fighting spreads. They feared the critical situation could flame up into a full-scale civil war again.

Three divorce cases and a separation suit have been filed in circuit court in the past week or so. Donna Steel seeks a divorce from Dale Steel, charging desertion. They were married Dec. 19, 1950, in Klamath Falls. There are no children or property rights.

Ellen M. Zelick has filed for divorce from Ernest Zelick, to whom she was married May 20, 1945, in Astoria. She asks custody of the couple's minor child and $75 monthly support.

Laura Bartlett is the plaintiff in an action against Floyd Bartlett. They were married Nov. 26, 1959, in Roseburg. She charges desertion and seeks a divorce decree and restoration of her maiden name, Laura Morgan. There are no children or property rights.

Irene S. Dandridge filed a separation suit against Cecil F. Dandridge. They were married Dec. 27, 1948, in Deadwood, S.D., and have two children. Mrs. Dandridge asks custody and $100 monthly child support.

Junior high plan approved

HILLSBORO (UPI) — Twelve school districts in Washington County approved a junior high school program, school authorities said Thursday.

Vote for the program was 1,494 to 605.

MAN LOSES CAR

HOUSTON, Tex. (UPI) — A man came to accident investigator L.M. Adams Thursday and asked for help in finding his wrecked car. He thought the accident happened on the freeway. They found the car crashed at the end of the Houston International Airport.

"I sure thought I was on the freeway, but traffic was awfully light," the man said as he was being booked on a charge of drunkenness.

APPEAR IN COURT

Two persons appeared Wednesday in Judge Joe Thalhofer's Deschutes county district court to answer traffic citations. John A. Havens, Grants Pass, was fined $43 for a combination overload. Elmer Milton Combs, Bend, paid $15 for an improper turn.

OPERATION SUCCESSFUL

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Chrysanthemis Papacostas, an 11-year-old Greek girl brought to this country by Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy, successfully underwent a heart operation Thursday at Walter Reed Hospital.

The White House said "Mimi" was "holding her own" following surgery to correct a congenital heart malformation. Mrs. Kennedy made arrangements to bring the girl to Washington and is now keeping in touch with the hospital.

DOESN'T LIKE LOVE
