

JUMPIN' JUDO!—This trio from the Austin Tex., Judo Club didn't have to go into orbit to achieve that weightless feeling. The upside-down twisters are, left to right, Jim Walsh, Teddy Henderson and Gail Stolzenberg showing that there's a safe way to be thrown.

McCone says he hopes testimony by Powers has removed 'cloud'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Central Intelligence Agency Director John A. McCone today said he hoped the testimony of Francis Gary Powers "will clear up any cloud" over the U2 pilot. As to the future, McCone told newsmen, Powers will work for CIA for "an indeterminate period."

The CIA director gave congressional committee's report Tuesday stating that Powers carried out the terms of his contract, his CIA instructions and his "obligations as an American" during and after his ill-fated flight on May 1, 1960.

Powers told his own story to the Senate Armed Services Committee, and, while some lawmakers remained less than enthusiastic, it appeared certain that the U2 pilot has been cleared of any breach of faith or contract. It appeared that the congressional review of Powers' conduct and the U2 incident has also renewed an old congressional controversy over the question of congressional scrutiny of CIA operations.

However, Rep. Frank J. Becker, R-N.Y., a member of the House Armed Service Committee, called the CIA's report "nothing but a whitewash." He said Powers broke his contract when he failed to destroy his plane. "A lot of Powers' statements sound fantastic to me. There appears to be a lot of cover-up going on."

But Rep. Cornelius O. Gallagher D-N.J., a member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, said it appeared that Powers is "absolutely in the clear." "The 'great loss' in the case, he said, was the advanced photographic equipment aboard the U2, which he said the Russians recovered intact.

Chairman Carl Vinson, D-Ga., of the House Armed Services Committee said he agreed that Powers had lived up to his contract. Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., said he also was pleased with Powers' testimony and said he believed McCone's statement went even further toward vindicating the U2 pilot than the CIA director did in his appearance Monday before a special Senate CIA watchdog committee.

Dinah Shore files suit for divorce

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Divorce proceedings were underway today to end the 18-year marriage of singer Dinah Shore and her estranged husband, actor George Montgomery.

Attorneys for Miss Shore, who currently is performing in Miami Beach, Fla., filed suit Tuesday in Los Angeles Superior Court against Montgomery. Miss Shore's suit charges Montgomery with "extreme cruelty" and "inflicting grievous mental suffering."

Miss Shore, 44, and Montgomery, 45, separated in December, three days before they would have celebrated their 18th wedding anniversary. They have two children, Melissa, 13, and an adopted son, John David, 7.

Miss Shore's attorney, Deane Johnson, said upon filing the divorce suit, "Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery have entered into an agreement concerning the division of property and relating to the support of their two children. They have agreed that details of this arrangement are a private matter and not to be made public."

Farmers net income receives federal boost

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Agriculture Department said today realized net income of farmers in 1961 rose $1 billion over 1960 because of a whopping increase in government payments and a substantial hike in cash receipts from farm marketings.

The net farm income of $12.7 billion last year was 8 per cent above the $11.7 billion realized in 1960. The 1961 net was the highest since 1953 and well above the 1954-60 average. Gross farm income increased about $1.5 billion to $39.6 billion in 1961. This reflected an increase of about $750 million in cash receipts from farm marketings and a gain of almost $800 million in government payments to farmers.

Higher average prices and a pickup in the physical volume of farm marketings boosted cash receipts from marketings, while the 1961 feed grain program was the major factor in the increase in government payments. Partly offsetting the rise in gross returns to farmers was an increase of about $500 million over 1960 in production expenses.

The increased expense, which jumped to a total of $26.9 billion, was due to a rise in prices paid by farmers for most production items and services and larger purchases of some items such as feed and fertilizer. The department said the 2 per cent rise in production expenses was moderate compared with most postwar years.

Receipts from livestock and livestock products in 1961 totaled $19.2 billion, up $307 million from 1960. Crop receipts totaled $15.5 billion in 1961, up almost $500 million from 1960. Government payments to farmers totaled $1,491,356,000 in 1961. The average net income per farm in 1961 was $3,323, about 12 per cent higher than in 1960. This increase reflected the gain in realized net income and a further drop in the number of farms.

Realized net income per farm in 1961 was higher than in 1960 in 31 states, lower in 16 states, and about the same in one. The department gave these estimates of income per farm in each state, with the percentage change from 1960. Here is the tabulation in Western States: Arizona $9,477, up 17 per cent; California $8,578, down 3 per cent; Idaho $3,311, down 5 per cent; Montana $4,303, down 16 per cent; Nevada $5,629, down 15 per cent; Oregon $2,418, down 18 per cent; Utah $2,309, down 2 per cent; Washington $3,287, down 11 per cent.

ARLEN HILLINSHEAD Top post goes to Hollinshead

Arlen Hillinshead has been elected president of the student body of the Oregon College of Education at Monmouth for the 1962-63 school year.

Arlen, who has lived in Bend the past three years, was graduated from Madras High School as class valedictorian in 1959. He attended Linfield College as a freshman, then transferred to OCE where he is majoring in elementary education.

On the campus, Hillinshead is active in Student Oregon Education Association, Young Republican Club, and is a member of the Executive Council. He is a member of Theta Delta Phi, men's scholastic honorary.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hillinshead of 140 Xerxes Avenue.

Duncan cracks at Porter for Hatfield barb

MEDFORD (UPI) — House Speaker Robert Duncan said today he regretted that former Congressman Charles O. Porter had seen fit to criticize Gov. Mark Hatfield's religious practices.

"There is plenty in the governor's record that is subject to legitimate criticism," Duncan said, "without getting into the matter of religion."

Duncan and Porter are candidates for the Democratic nomination for congress from the fourth district. "A man's religion is his own business," Duncan added, "and I would hope Mr. Porter in the future will direct his attention to a discussion of the real issues in this campaign."

like planning fishing trip

PALM DESERT, Calif. (UPI) — Former President Eisenhower is scheduled to fly to La Paz, Mexico Thursday for a fishing trip with oil executive Charles O. Jones and transportation executive Ellis Slater.

While her husband is fishing, Mrs. Eisenhower will spend two weeks at Elizabeth Arden's Main Chance, a desert resort near Phoenix, Ariz.

Eisenhower returned here Monday night from New York where he attended funeral services for longtime friend W. Alton Jones, killed in last week's jetliner crash.

Crook county teachers get Added class due boost in salary schedule at high school

PRINEVILLE — The Crook county school budget committee met with the county school board Monday evening and rapidly passed school operation costs to the board on the one hand, while including a teachers' salary increase schedule on the other, as they established the 1962-63 county school budget.

A spokesman for the group stated after the meeting that costs in the elementary schools had been cut below last year's figure. Costs at the high school, other than teachers' salaries, would increase slightly, due to the anticipated increase in enrollment, it was stated.

Two additional teachers will be required next year at Crook County High School, and one at the Junior High School, according to the board's plan. The total school budget to be presented to the county's voters May 7 will be $509,614 for the elementary division and $253,655 in the high school.

The budget will bring school taxes up from 39.9 mills to 46.3 mills. A part of the increase, it was pointed out, is the fact that the school system had $125,000 on hand last year at budget time as compared to $50,000 on hand this year.

Up to Average The increased salary schedule for teachers, according to statewide statistics, will bring Crook county up to an average with the rest of the state. Beginning salary for teachers with a B.S. degree will be $4600. A higher maximum is allowed on the salary scale than formerly, reaching $7600 peak for teachers with an M.S. degree plus 45 hours of additional study.

The budget board also voted to include a "fifth year" salary schedule, for teachers with 45 hours of study beyond their B.S. degree who have not been able to acquire the Master's degree in the process. This additional study is required during a five-year period by state law for Oregon teachers, and has been completed by a number of Crook county teachers. The addition of the fifth-year bracket will affect a number of teachers, according to Cecil Sly, county school superintendent.

The total budgeted for teachers' salaries for the coming school year is $391,625 in the elementary schools as compared to $361,725 last year. The new figure includes an additional teacher. In the high school, the budget for 1962-63 is $188,800 as compared to $189,700 last year. This includes two additional teachers. The Monday evening session culminated a series of meetings held during past weeks by joint representatives of teachers' groups, the budget committee and the school board. Bob Matheny, chairman of the board opened the meeting and called for an election of a budget committee chairman. Bob Sell was chosen and served as chairman of the meeting. LaSelle Coles acted as secretary for the transaction.

Big loan goes to Oregon firm

WASHINGTON (UPI) — McMinnville Industrial Promotions, Inc., received the largest loan in the country from the Small Business Administration in January, Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., said Tuesday.

The loan, for $239,000, will pay part of the construction of a new woolen mill to be operated by Nor-West Fabrics, Inc. McMinnville townspeople subscribed another $79,800.

The loan was the largest of 636 approved by the SBA in January. Fourteen others were approved in Oregon.

SAFE BOATING WEEK WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy Monday proclaimed the week beginning July 1 National Safe Boating Week.

PRINEVILLE — An added class period, to be held during the noon hour, will be necessary at Crook county high school next year to handle increased enrollment, according to Cecil Sly, county school superintendent.

The seven-period day will be required to give classroom space to the expected enrollment of about 680 students, he said. The building was originally planned for a maximum of 550, twelve years ago. Longtime teachers recall that it seemed impossible, then, that the new building would ever be crowded.

Enrollment in the elementary schools has leveled off, after a postwar boom period, Sly said, and has held constant for the past two years. The bumper crop of youngsters, however, continues to move on into the high school level, and enrollment at CCHS is not expected to level off until the 725-pupil mark is reached.

The seven-period method will be adequate for one year, it was estimated in an overall look at the county school situation this week. After that, an addition to the junior high school, and the division into three years in junior high and three in senior high, will become a necessity.

The addition was planned when the new junior high school was constructed, and a fund of $125,000 has been set aside towards this construction, Sly said. The total sum needed is $200,000.

By 1963, the superintendent thought, federal aid might be available for construction use on a matching-funds basis.

Trend is seen for bull steaks

GEARHART (UPI) — Bull steaks, instead of steer steaks, may be a common item on the family table within a decade.

This was the theme of an address at the annual Oregon Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service conference Tuesday.

Herry Herburger of the Northwest Livestock Pacific Credit Association said better feeds and new tenderizers will make bull meat "as tender, if not more so, than the steer steaks of today."

He said the trend also will give the rancher more meat and less fat per animal.

Import study urged by Ullman

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Rep. Al Ullman, D-Ore., says Canadian imports are hurting the United States red fescue grass seed industry.

Ullman told the U.S. Tariff Commission Canadian imports are causing the industry to decline in this country.

He said an import quota, as proposed by the Red Fescue Commission, may be the answer to the growing problem.

KNEESY DOES IT—Queen's Warrior, Michael Scudamore riding, takes it kneesy at the Royal Windsor Races in Windsor, England. Horse and rider wound up in this unusual position when the mount stumbled after taking the first fence in Burnham Beeches Chase.

Advertisement for The Pine Tavern. Includes speech bubbles: 'I'm starved!', 'Try to hold on. Only four more days to go...', '... 'til they're finished with the annual clean-up, fix-up, at the PINE TAVERN.', 'I liked it the old way...'. Text: 'Plan to rejoin us for the same good food, and a modest "new look", when we re-open Mar. 12th! THE PINE TAVERN BEND'S FAMOUS RESTAURANT / at the foot of Oregon Ave.'

Advertisement for Connie's shoes. Text: 'CONNIE says... it's "Flats for fun!"'. Image of a woman in a dress. Text: 'The warmer the weather, the more you'll want to wear your gay'n colorful Connies! They're the sleek size shoes that never pile a class, a party, a date! Priced for small allowances and girls who love fashion! As seen in Insignia 5.99 to 7.99'. Logo: 'THE SmartShop 900 WALL'.

Advertisement for Kate Greenaway clothing. Image of a girl in a plaid dress. Text: 'THIS IS ME IN MY KATE GREENAWAY I feel like dessert in my parfait plaid Kate Greenaway. If any slips slip it's no great shame because my dress is Scotchgard® stain repellent cotton. Bertha collar and pockets are edged with crocheted lace and there's a long tailed bow I coyly toy with. Strawberry or lemony lime plaids. Sizes 1 to 3, $4.98; 3 to 6x, $5.98; 7 to 12, $7.98. THE SmartShop 900 Wall'.