Donna Giskaas becomes bride in California

Miss Donna Giskaas, formerly of Bend, became the bride of Roy Jones, a Navy career man stationed in San Diego, in a ceremony March 10 at the Cappella de San Antonia Chapel, Anaheim, Calif.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Leta Giskaas, Bend, and George Giskaas, Pendleton.

A Lutheran clergyman from Orange, Calif., officiated at the rites. Mr. and Mrs. William G. Giskaas, brother and sister-in-law of the bride, were attendants.

The bride wore a short wedding gown of silk organza over old English lace and taffeta. She wore a fingertip veil attached to a crown of clustered pearls, and carried a cascade bouquet of carnations and orchids. Her attendant wore a dress of brocaded taffeta in evening orchid, with matching picture hat and shoes, and carried a lavender and white nosegay.

The former Miss Giskaas was graduated from Bend High School with the class of 1960. She was graduated from Central Technical College, Hollywood, and attended Long Beach City College. She is employed at North American Aviation.

After a honeymoon at a mountain resort, the newlyweds are at home at 9332 Cellini Avenue, Garden Grove.

Eastern Star honors officers

Special to The Bulletin
REDMOND—All past and present Star Points of Redmond chapter, Order of Eastern Star, were honored by Mrs. Hugh Hartman, worthy matron, at the regular meeting Monday in the Masonic Temple.

Each was presented a handkerchief and nosegay. Those serving as Star Points this year are: Mrs. Freeman Tugman, Mrs. David Johnson, Mrs. Everett Sage, Mrs. Bill Wells and Mrs. Robert Constock.

Special guests, introduced and escorted to the east were Mr. and Mrs. Warren Thompson, worthy patron and matron of the Bend OES Chapter. There were ten other visitors from Bend. An invitation was issued to the chapter to attend a reception for Mrs. Ernest Jones and a friendship night in Bend Monday, April 23. Announcement was made of a Central - Eastern Oregon meeting of OES chapters, to be held in Burns Sunday, April 29. There will be a potluck dinner at noon, followed by business sessions. Arene Club will meet April 10 and the Past Matrons' Club, April 21 at the home of Mrs. Roger Sanford. There will be a potluck luncheon.

Justice court cases reported

Special to The Bulletin
REDMOND — Robert D. Grace, Philomath, was fined $300 and sentenced to the county jail for 30 days when he appeared this week in Justice Court on a charge of driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor. This reportedly was his second arrest for the offense.

Overloads brought four drivers into Justice Court: Joseph N. Fitch, Fentom, Calif., paid $30.50; Keith L. Huke, same address, $28.50; Stanley E. Best, Lakeview, Calif., $34.50, and James L. Anderson, Wapato, Wash., $28.50.

Following too close cost Howard D. Yates, Yuba City, Calif., $15. Betsy Ann Nichols, Terrebonne, and Christopher C. Rhoden, Bend, each paid $10 for failure to stop at stop signs.

Zelbert T. Booth, Redmond, paid $10 for inadequate mufflers. Truston L. Childress, Portland, was fined $10 for failure to dim his headlights. Driving with only one headlight cost Gordon E. Wachter, Terrebonne, $10.

Donald F. Caffro, Bend, posted $29 bail for excessive motor noise. Richard L. Richardson, Prineville, paid $5 for having no motor vehicle license. Echo D. Jimerison, Bend, was fined $15 for basic rule violation. A similar charge brought a fine of $25 to John C. Simmons of Portland.

Three children die in blaze

NEW YORK (UPI) — Three small children were killed Wednesday when they were trapped by flames which swept through a row of houses in the Coney Island section of Brooklyn.

The victims were identified as Carlos Matea, 4, his 3-year-old brother, William, and 2-year-old sister, Linda. Their parents, Domingo and Anna Deigado, were taken to the hospital but their condition was not serious.

Police said the fire started when one of the children knocked over a gas heater while they were playing in their home.

Annual snow survey report due at Redmond on Friday

Special to The Bulletin
REDMOND — The annual snow survey forecast, made by the U. S. Soil Conservation Service, will be presented Friday at 1 p.m. in the Chadwick Building in Redmond, reports Fed Thorson, SCS technician with the Midstate Soil Conservation District.

Speaker will be Robert L. Whaley, SCS technician from the Portland office. The public is invited to attend the session, which is sponsored jointly by the district, extension service and irrigation districts.

Figures for the March snow measurements in the Central Oregon area were released today by the SCS office in Redmond. Those taking part in the month's survey were: Darwin Gregg, Madras; James A. Smith, Tumalo Irrigation District; Kenneth Purkey, Arnold Irrigation District, and Leonard Bowers, Squaw Creek Irrigation District.

Through consistently higher in depth and water content than last year, most of the snow courses measured near the average water content as determined by a summation of figures from 1943 to 1957.

Snow depth at Irish-Taylor was 123 inches with 51 of water, compared to 89 snow with 34 water last year and an average of 48.4; Caldwell ranch, 34.5 snow, 12 water compared to 7.5 snow and 4 water and a mean of 10.7; Waldo Lake, 96.6 snow, 35 water, compared to 64 snow and 23 water and a mean of 34.6.

Windigo Pass, 131.7 snow and 48.3 water, compared to 105 snow in 1961, 41 water and an average of 53 water. Three Creeks Meadow, 75.9 snow, 23.7 water, compared to 52.5 snow, 18.3 water and an average of 23.3; New Crescent Lake, 45.9 snow, 15.5 water, compared to 29 snow, 11 water and an average of 19.7; Three Creek Butte, 42.6 snow and 16.6 water, compared to 11 snow and 4 water, no average available.

At Willamette Pass, the snow measures 123 inches with 45.2 water, compared to 99 inches with 33 water last year and an average of 51.3 water.

Snow depth at Dutchman Flat is 142.6 inches with 58 water, compared to 144 inches last year with 54 water. Average is 57.3 water.

Measurements from other courses include: Paulina Lake, 70.5 snow, 23 water, compared to 69 and 23.

Program set for waitresses

For the fourth year, and at the request of local restaurant owners, the Oregon State Employment Service and Central Oregon College are again cooperating in a waitress training and placement program.

The Bend local office of the Employment Service forecasts a 100 per cent increase in work openings for waitresses over last year. The office urges all restaurant owners to let the Employment Service know of their labor needs, including the waitress trainees, within the next few weeks.

Where necessary the Bend local office of the Employment Service will issue minor work permits in keeping with Oregon State Laws governing the employment of minors.

The schedule of classes are as follows: Bend, April 9 through 13 for inexperienced women who desire to enter the waitress field and April 16 through 20, refreshment course for experienced waitresses. These classes will be held at Bend Senior High School in the faculty lounge.

Classes will be held in Redmond April 23 through 27 in the home economics room and in Prineville May 7 through 11 at Crook County High School cafeteria. All classes are from 7:30 p.m. to 10 p.m. Monday through Friday. Registration fee for each class is $4.00, which includes the price of the text. This fee is to be paid at the first class meeting.

All interested persons are being asked to contact the High School office in their community, as soon as possible, to register for the classes.

Warning issued for test area

LONDON (UPI) — The British Ministry of Defense Wednesday night issued a precautionary warning to all ships and aircraft to steer clear of a 600-by-800-mile area around Christmas Island in the Pacific after April 15.

The United States has said it would resume nuclear atmospheric testing at Christmas Island in late April unless some agreement on a ban was reached with the Russians before then.

The ministry stressed that its warning did not mean that a final decision had been reached by Washington to carry out the tests. "Warning notices have to be issued well in advance as a routine precaution in order to give all persons who may be concerned ample notice," the ministry said.

Possible purge seen facing Chinese Reds

TOKYO (UPI) — The official newspaper of the Chinese Communist party today denounced party members who have become "arrogant" and "self-complacent" and said they must be "re-educated."

Observers here said the criticisms may presage a purge of the Chinese Communist party. They termed the attack most "unusual" since it publicly disclosed the existence of "defects" among Chinese Communist party members.

It was regarded particularly significant since it came while the National People's Congress — the rubber-stamp Chinese parliament — is meeting in secrecy in Peking.

demanding "better education" of party members in the Peiping People's Daily which was broadcast by Radio Peiping and monitored in Tokyo. The newspaper said the party had absorbed many members since the establishment of the "new China" but that these members lacked true understanding of the party's "basic principles," had little experience in the party's struggles and have had no education in the principles of Marx and Lenin.
