
THE OLD SWIMMING POOL—As June temperatures climb into the 80s, there's just no place like the Bend swim pool to cool off. Capacity crowds have been frequenting the pool of late with huge crowds all this week.

Cleveland leads by two

Tribe foils critics with steady wins

BY Milton Richman
UPI Staff Writer

Don't sell these Indians short. They're not the same ones who sold Manhattan for 24 bucks.

This particular Tribe is from Cleveland and apparently has no intention whatsoever of giving up the American League lead for all the money in the world.

Their chief, Mel McGaha, seems to have a one-track mind. Even when everyone else said they had no chance to win, he insisted otherwise. And now that his Indians are pulling away from the rest of the pack, he feels even more sure than before.

Many skeptics still can't see the Indians but maybe they'd better open their eyes to the fact that Cleveland has won six of its last seven and increased its lead to two full games last night by bowling over the Boston Red Sox twice, 6-3 and 3-0, in a twi-night doubleheader.

Bubba Phillips' three-run homer off Gene Conley in the sixth inning of the opener erased a 3-2 Red Sox lead and Woodie Held provided an insurance run with a solo homer in the eighth. Jim Perry got past a three-run first inning to gain his sixth victory.

Latman Won Nightcap

Barry Latman then checked the Red Sox on five hits in the nightcap. Ty Cline doubled home Cleveland's first run of the game off Mike Fornieles in the second inning and homers by Willie Kirkland in the third and Jerry Kindall in the eighth completed the scoring.

The Chicago White Sox cooled off the second-place Minnesota Twins, 5-1, the Los Angeles Angels beat the Kansas City A's, 5-1, and the Washington Senators shaded the Detroit Tigers, 5-4. Rain washed out the Orioles-Yankees' game.

In the National League, the St. Louis Cardinals scored a 5-4 win over the Los Angeles Dodgers in 11 innings, the Houston Colts continued their mastery of the San Francisco Giants, 9-5, the Pittsburgh Pirates nipped the Cincinnati Reds, 5-4, and the Milwaukee Braves swept a pair from the New York Mets, 9-4 and 3-2, with the second game limited to six innings because of rain. The game between the Phillies and Cubs was postponed.

The White Sox were limited to six hits by the Twins but clinched the game with a three-run second inning rally featured by Nellie Fox' two-run double. Ray Herbert won his fifth game although tagged for 10 hits.

Homers Pace Angels

Homers by Bob Rodgers and Leon Wagner powered the third-place Angels to their win over the A's. Wagner socked his 20th homer in the fourth and then threw his bat toward KC pitcher Jerry Walker when he was hit by a pitch in the fifth. There was no bloodshed, however. Not even any blows. Ted Bowsfield was the winner.

The Senators snapped a 2-all tie with the Tigers when they came up with three runs in the seventh. Chuck Hinton's two-run homer was the big blow and Chuck Cottier hit a two-run homer in the fifth. Norm Cash belted his 18th for the Tigers, who were held to six hits. Jim Hannan was the winner and Don Mossi the loser.

Bill White's 11th inning single scored Ken Boyer from second base with the winning run for the Cardinals over the Dodgers. Norm Sherry hit a two-run homer in the seventh. Bobby Shantz blanked the Dodgers over the last four innings to pick up the victory and Ron Perranoski was the loser. Despite the defeat, the Dodgers remained 2½ games in front.

Pinch hitter Pidge Browne's two-run double highlighted a three-run rally that broke a 5-5 tie and gave the Colts their fifth victory in nine games with the Giants this season. The victory, credited to reliever Dean Stone, also was Houston's sixth in the last seven games. Roman Mejias, Norm Larker and Tom Haller hit homers. Stu Miller suffered the loss.

Pirates Bounced Back

The Pirates bounced back into third place when Howie Goss scored the winning run against the Reds on Chico Cardenas' throwing error in the fifth inning. Vern Law notched his fourth victory although he yielded homers to Vada Pinson and Jerry Lynch. Jim O'Toole, a 19-game winner last year, was charged with his ninth defeat compared with four victories.

Hank Aaron had a field day against the Mets. He had three singles and drove in three runs in the Braves' opening game triumph, then hammered a pair of homers, his 15th and 16th, to account for all of Milwaukee's runs in the finale. The Braves collected only two hits in the nightcap and Aaron got both of them. Tony Cloninger and Bob Hendley were the winning pitchers; Ray Daviault and Bill Hunter the losers.

Legion team busy here this weekend

There'll be lots of baseball action this weekend with the Bend Legion team hosting Lebanon 8 p.m. Friday and 1 p.m. Saturday, and Jefferson of Portland due here 8 p.m. Saturday and 1 p.m. Sunday.

Scores of Legion games the past week, all on the road, were not announced.

In addition to the heavy Legion schedule, Bend's Junior League traveling team will play the Lebanon junior team in preliminary contests Friday and Saturday.

The squad will be made up of five boys off each of the four Junior League teams in Bend, or a total of 20 players.

The juniors will play Lebanon Friday at 4 p.m. at Municipal Park prior to the 8 p.m. Legion game.

Saturday, the juniors will play Lebanon at 10 a.m. here prior to the 1 p.m. Legion game.

Burleson to run

Angry Bowerman hits AAU tactics

EUGENE (UPI)—Oregon Track Coach Bill Bowerman and the AAU were at odds again today following a decision by the Ducks' Dyrol Burleson to enter the national AAU meet.

Bowerman charged that the AAU "pressured" his star miler into entering the meet. Burleson reversed an earlier decision and said he will compete but in the mile instead of the three mile.

J. B. Baralson, chairman of the national AAU track and field committee, denied the charge and said "no pressure was placed on him to compete."

Burleson, who helped Oregon win its first NCAA title last week by winning the mile race for the third straight year, announced he will run in the three-mile run. He holds the American mile record of 3:57.6.

Bowerman said "he's doing it in an effort to keep the door open for himself for future running and of much sacrifice to himself." Earlier, the Oregon distance ace said he would not compete because of summer school classes he is taking to complete work for his bachelor's degree.

Bowerman charged the national organization "with dictatorship with everything but a gun." He said he received a telephone call from an AAU official Tuesday night threatening Burleson with being left out of being considered for foreign competition unless he ran.

Baralson said this was an AAU fixed rule and said Bowerman was only reminded of the rule. He added "we are glad Burleson will run in the national championships this weekend."

RODEO PRINCESSES—Central Oregon Junior Rodeo princesses are ready for the Pacific Northwest's biggest youth rodeo Saturday and Sunday afternoon at the Deschutes County Fair Grounds in Redmond. From left are Colleen Thomas, Madras; June Butler, Redmond; and Margaret Lidstrom, Prineville. In single shot is Linda Van Horn, Bend. Colorful event starts 1 p.m. both days.

Says 'reliable source'

Beavers, Ducks point for Big 6 membership

By Hal Wood
UPI Staff Writer

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—University of Oregon and Oregon State are pushing ahead with plans to tighten their entrance requirements and as a result will be invited to join the expanding AAWU within the next two or three years.

That's the word from a reliable Big Six source and when the two schools do join, it will complete the membership for the organization. Idaho, the ninth member of the old Pacific Coast Conference, will not be asked to join.

"We're ready to take in Oregon and Oregon State right now," says Al Masters, athletic director at Stanford. "But there still seems to be a bit of bitterness from other California schools.

"A five-team league was not good, and we should have more than six teams. I'm looking forward to the day when Oregon and Oregon State can join us again."

A plan is under way now in Oregon for the establishment of junior colleges. These will take some of the load off the universities. Under present Oregon law, the schools must accept all students who wish to enter who have a high school diploma.

In all Big Six schools there is a certain degree of efficiency in studies that must be met before entrance. Stanford claims to have the toughest entrance requirements—including money.

However, coaches at the Oregon schools aren't so sure they would be happy returning to the fold of the old PCC. They claim that California schools are pulling some rules that aren't exactly up to the spirit of the law.

"California, for instance," claimed one coach, "is giving some of its athletic scholarships to boys who are going to junior college. This isn't against the rules, but it seems to me it is outside the spirit of the rules."

Addition of Washington State to the conference last week made it a six-team league. Actually, the NCAA doesn't recognize five-team conferences. But in the case of the AAWU it overlooked the situation, because expansion was anticipated.

But the NCAA didn't expect it would take three years to grow one extra leg—and six years to get up a normal eight-team conference.

Sub-par Mantle slated to play in right field

BALTIMORE (UPI) — An admittedly sub-par Mickey Mantle is returning to the lineup—which means manager Ralph Houk is taking the big gamble that could end in disaster or another New York Yankee pennant.

Houk, plainly worried by a five-game losing streak that is the team's longest since the 1959 season, announced Wednesday night that the limping Mantle will be in right field — instead of his regular center field position — Friday night when the Yankees open a five-game series in Detroit.

He'll play right field until we're certain he's ready to play center field," said Houk, adding that Roger Maris will continue as Mantle's center-field fill-in. It was believed in some quarters that Houk had received the "play Mantle" orders direct from General Manager Roy Hamey.

How big is Houk's gamble — or, in other words, how serious is the knee and thigh ailment that has sidelined Mantle since his right leg collapsed under him while running to first base in a game against the Minnesota Twins on May 18?

Nobody knows. The Yankees have always been very close-mouthed about injuries, especially injuries to their big stars. Houk made Wednesday night's announcement with his usual aplomb but he could be whistling past the graveyard.
