

Essegian leads charge

Watch it Yanks—Indians back

By Milton Richman
UPI Staff Writer

As General Custer said: Here come those blankety-blank Indians again!

It was no joke for Custer then, nor does it seem to be one for Ralph Hook and his New York Yankees now.

The guy right up there in front half attack is Chuck Essegian. He's no stranger, having struck several key blows in Cleveland's cause during the first half of the season.

Essegian boosted the Indians to within four percentage points of the first-place Yankees when he blasted a pinch three-run homer in the ninth inning Thursday night to beat the Baltimore Orioles, 6-4.

Baltimore took a 3-1 lead into the ninth but pinch-hitter Willie Tasby tied the score with a two-run single. Then, after the Tribe put another man on base, Essegian came off the bench and drilled his 14th homer off Billy Hoelt.

Gary Bell, third of six Cleveland pitchers, was the winner. Tribe manager Mel McGaha employed three hurlers in the bottom of the ninth when the Orioles scored once and filled the bases before Frank Funk nailed down the final out.

The Los Angeles Angels held off the Yankees, 5-4, Washington downed Minnesota, 7-4, in 10 innings, the Chicago White Sox defeated the Detroit Tigers, 3-2, and Kansas City beat Boston, 5-4, in the opener of a doubleheader but dropped the 11-inning nightcap, 9-4.

The Los Angeles Dodgers maintained their half-game lead in the National League with a 3-0 shutout over the New York Mets, while San Francisco's second-place Giants topped the Philadelphia Phillies, 5-3. Pittsburgh hounded Houston, 6-4, Milwaukee stopped St. Louis, 8-6, and the Cincinnati Reds rapped the Chicago Cubs, 8-4.

Rockie Dean Chance of the Angels saved Ted Bowsfield's victory over the Yankees by halting a four-run rally in the seventh inning. The Angels ripped into Whitey Ford for four runs in the first inning when Felix Torres tripled with the bases full and Torres drove in another run with a sacrifice fly in the third.

King Hit Homer
Jim King connected for a two-run homer off Minnesota starter Jack Kralick in the eighth to tie the score at 4-4, then belted another two-run homer off loser Ray Moore in the 10th to bring the Senators their victory. Bob Allison, Harmon Killebrew, Chuck Cottier, Earl Battey and Harry Bright also hit homers. Dave Stenhouse went the distance for his seventh victory.

Juan Pizarro limited the Tigers to two hits in winning his eighth game for the White Sox. Joe Cunningham's sixth inning homer tied the score at 2-2 and Nellie Fox singled home the winning run off loser Don Mossi in the eighth.

The A's won their opener from the Red Sox on George Alusik's pinch single with two out in the ninth, but Bob Tillyman's two-run homer highlighted a five-run Boston rally in the 11th inning of the nightcap. Lou Clinton hit a pair of homers in the second game and drove in two other runs with an 11th inning triple for the Red Sox.

Koufax Hurt Finger
Southpaw Sandy Koufax recorded his 14th victory for the Dodgers against the Mets although he had to depart after seven innings because of a finger injury. Koufax yielded three hits and struck out six, while Larry Sherry held the Mets hitless over the last two frames. Ex-Dodger Roger Craig was the loser.

Willie Mays collected three hits and Jose Pagan homered in the Giants' victory over the Phillies. Jack Sanford won his 10th with help from Stu Miller in the eighth. Jack Hamilton absorbed the loss.

Smoky Burgess' three-run homer, Dick Stuart's two-run homer and Bob Skinner's solo homer powered the Pirates to victory over the Colts. Alvin McBean scattered nine hits for his ninth victory while Jim Golden suffered his eighth loss.

Hank Aaron brought the Braves from behind against the Cards with a grand slam homer in the ninth inning after his kid brother, Tommie, started the rally with a solo homer. The defeat was charged to Lirly McDaniel, who relieved Larry Jackson in the ninth. Claude Raymond was the winner.

Trips by Don Blasingame and Leo Cardenas sparked a four-run rally in the ninth inning that broke a 4-all tie between the Reds and Cubs. Joey Jay hurled a six-hitter for his 12th victory. Don Elston was charged with the defeat.

Tennis play due Sunday

Tennis ladder play will start 4:30 p.m. Sunday at the junior high courts, with a large turnout hoped for.

Chairman Don Burd said various age groups will be set up, with adult group consisting of college-age players and older. This latter group will be divided into men's and women's divisions.

There will also be high school, junior high and grade school play. Persons who can't attend can call the city recreation department next week.

Three of the four courts have been lined, with a work party set for 7:30 a.m. Saturday to paint the fourth court. Play will follow and persons interested are welcome to assist in the project.

Regular city recreation classes for grade school, junior high and high school students are being held Monday, Wednesday and Friday of each week, and newcomers are welcome, Burd said.

Ladder play is also planned, and Burd is currently hoping to line up some matches with Redmond on a home-and-home basis.

Chairman named for rural board

MADRAS — Everett VanWert, Madras locker operator, was named new chairman of the Jefferson county rural school board at the regular meeting of the board this week. VanWert succeeds H. A. Vibbert as chairman of the board in the reorganization of the group for the new school fiscal year.

Leads British Open

Palmer grabs driver's seat with sizzling 69

TROON, Scotland (UPI) — Defending champion Arnold Palmer of Latrobe, Pa., and Kel Nagle, a one-time woodcutter from Australia, were ready for a head-and-head battle today over the final 36-hole round in the British Open golf championship.

Thirty-seven other men who survived the cutdown after Thursday's second round, including Sam Snead, Jack Nicklaus, Don Essig III and Phil Rodgers of the powerful American contingent, joined in the double-round march over the old Troon course.

However, this one shaped up as a "revenge" match between the two maulers from opposite ends of the globe — Palmer and Nagle.

In the 1960 British Open at St. Andrews, Nagle equaled the tournament record with an aggregate score of 278 to beat Palmer by a stroke. The likeable Pennsylvanian started that final round four strokes back of Nagle.

Palmer, though, was in the driver's seat this time. He shot a three-under-par 69 Thursday to reach the halfway mark of the 72-hole tournament with a 140. That gave him a two-stroke lead over Nagle, who fired his second straight 71 in the second round.

The two leaders were paired for today's final round.

Rodgers, a freshman pro from La Jolla, Calif., was locked in a four-way tie for third place, five strokes off the pace. The red-haired Californian posted a 70 in the second round for a 145 total.

Essig, former U.S. public links champion from Indianapolis, carded a second-round 72 for a 148 aggregate; Snead, who won this tournament back in 1946, had a 73 for 149; and Nicklaus, the current U. S. National Open champion, barely qualified for the final 36 holes with an 80-132.

Three Yanks were eliminated after the second round. They were former U.S. Open champion Gene Littler, who had a 74-153; Jack Isaacs of Langley Field, Va., 78-154, and world Seniors champion Paul Runyan of La Jolla, Calif., 77-156.

Littler wasn't the only "name" golfer who failed to survive the cut. Others included former champions Gary Player and Bobby Locke of South Africa, Dai Rees of Wales, the British Ryder Cup captain, and Irish Joe Carr.
