Lions speakers share program

Pony Express days in Central Oregon just 100 years ago were reviewed Tuesday at the Lions' luncheon meeting in a program partly devoted to the Thanksgiving season and partly to the region's pioneer history.

Touching on Thanksgiving, the Rev. Robert H. Becker reminded his audience "we have been recipients of great gifts," and suggested that on Thanksgiving this year Americans remember that over the world there are many who will be hungry while others feast.

"Having received so much, I am going to give a little more," the pastor said. Sharing the program with the Thanksgiving season speaker was Phil F. Brogan, who touched on Central Oregon's heritage of history, with special mention of the Pony Express riders of 1862-63 who covered the 225 mile trail between Canyon City in the John Day country and The Dalles.

Brogan also touched on the operation of the first stages between The Dalles and Canyon City, over Sherars Bridge. Along the route, the speaker noted, were stage stations that were later to become historic spots in Central Oregon. He mentioned Burt Ranch, Antelope, Cross Hollows, Bakeoven and Sherars Bridge.

The Lions were told of Indian attacks on express riders and on stage drivers on the long, rugged route first used by the riders in July, 1862.

George Warrington presided at the luncheon, held at the Super-Lunch, Stanley Scott was program chairman.
