'Shoot the Skies' event to help fight human trafficking

JOSEPH – Photographer Tanner Wendell Stewart, who raised $100,000 to abolish human trafficking with the pre-order of his photo book, "Shoot The Skies," will host an "Anti-Human Trafficking" awareness night and book signing on Thursday, Jan. 15, at Phinney Gallery, 17 South Main Street in Joseph, from 4 to 8 p.m. This is a free event. Stewart, 27, of Seattle, is a 2005 graduate of Joseph

High School. His family still lives in Wallowa County.

In 2013, after he was already well established as a professional photographer, he gave up his apartment in Seattle and hit the road in his 1987 Oldsmobile, staying with family and friends along the way. He ended up with photos from 20 national parks and five countries, with many from Wallowa County.

The photos went into the 412-page, 8x10 hardcover book. Proceeds from sales are being donated to The A21 Campaign to abolish human trafficking.

At the Jan. 15 event, Stewart will share stories about his travels and about the book.

Free computer class to launch Jan. 26

ENTERPRISE – Persons wishing to advance their computer proficiency by taking a free Microsoft Word 2010 class must preregister – 541-963-7942, ext. 11 – and commit to a twice-weekly 10-week course that will begin Monday, Jan. 26.

Classes offered by the Training and Employment Consortium, with a one-hour lunch break, will be held from 10 a.m. until 3 p.m. on Mondays and Wednesdays and conclude in April. Classes will be held at 104 Litch Street, in Enterprise.
