Building for America's Bravest

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

Building for America's Bravest (BFAB) is a proud program of the Stephen Siller

Tunnel to Towers Foundation. It aims to raise funds to build custom designed, specially adapted homes for the most catastrophically injured American service members.

GIVING OPPORTUNITIES

The needs of every catastrophically injured service member are different, and a Smart Home from Building for America's Bravest program is specifically catered to the unique needs of its recipients. Smart Homes host a myriad of features such as automated doors and lighting, wider doors and special showers to accommodate wheelchairs, cabinets and counters that can be raised and lowered, and central heating and air condition systems that can be controlled by iPads.

Through your donations, the Building for America's Bravest program can help America's bravest military heroes support their families and live the rest of their lives as independently as possible. A contribution of any size is fully tax-deductible and greatly appreciated. If you can donate your time and talents, T2Trun.org is always looking for volunteers for events held around the country. If you are a part of a corporation looking to make an impact please email partners@ourbravest.org
