Reece Christman had six rebounds and four assists for the Outlaws, while George recorded eight blocks to go with her four points.

Crawford was pleased with the way his team hunkered down and found a way to win.

"The combination of the younger girls starting to get it and not be afraid and have it be a team game and having the team be growing is exactly what we need."

With a victory the following night at Union (see Prep Roundup), the Outlaws (3-1, 8-5) have a three-game win streak heading into their next game at 3-9 Cove on Friday.

Boys: Imbler 61, Enterprise 37 points.

Enterprise got off to a terrible start and managed to avoid being shut out in the first period thanks to a Kobe Ketscher free throw late in the period. Imbler led 9-1 after the first and 27-12 at the half.

The Outlaws made some runs in the second half to pull within 14 points a few times, but the Panthers always had an answer.

"We got off to a slow start," Enterprise coach Ron Lathrop said. "On the positive side, the boys played hard and did not give up when they were behind."

Enterprise (0-4, 4-8) next plays at Cove (0-3, 1-10) on Friday.

JOSEPH

Cole Hafer led the way with eight points for Wallowa, and Christopher Nobles contributed seven.

Joseph coach Olan Fulfer frequently rotated his players and got points from nine of them on the night, including eight each from Cayden DeLury and Caevan Murray.

Fulfer said his team is starting to find the necessary balance between being a team player and seizing scoring opportunities when they arise.

"It's getting there. ... We're still trying to find that balance to where we're getting everybody involved. What we want to do is keep everyone involved (on offense) because it makes them try harder on defense."

The two teams meet again Feb. 5 at Wallowa.

"I guarantee you they'll play us tough at home," Fulfer said.

The Eagles (2-1, 6-6) play at Pine Eagle on Friday, followed by a home game against Griswold on Saturday.

The Cougars (2-2, 3-9) will travel for a game at Echo on Saturday.
