

COMMUNITY CALENDAR

Thursday, Oct. 13

Maxville Heritage Interpretive Center and the Joseph United Methodist Church are hosting a community discussion as part of Oregon Humanities' statewide This Place series from 6-7:30 p.m. at United Methodist Church, 301 S. Lake St. in Joseph. The discussions provide Oregonians with an opportunity to explore their relationship to the places they've come from and the places they're in now and are led by trained facilitators from the fields of tribal resource management, anthropology, conflict resolution, applied theology, natural resource management, ethnic studies and fisheries science. For more information about this free discussion, please contact Gwen at 541-426-3545 or gwen@maxvilleheritage.org or visit <http://oregonhumanities.org/programs/this-place>.

ATHLETE OF THE WEEK

This week's athlete of the week is Wallowa County's prevention coordinator Jason Wilcox. Through his work with local entity Building Healthy Families, the 36-year-old personifies the spirit of athletic camaraderie and community-mindedness using his "Basketball is Prevention" program to provide positive activities for youth in the community.

A former high school athlete, Wilcox started the program two years ago in conjunction with Joseph Charter School, which allows the use of its gym in the evening hours 2-3 times a week depending on the time of year. "We try to make it fit the time where if folks weren't playing basketball, they might be making other choices," Wilcox said. The program even provides jerseys for its participants, who can number up to 30 at times. Wilcox lives in Enterprise.

Candidate forum Thursday at Cloverleaf Hall

Wallowa County Chieftain

The Wallowa County Chamber of Commerce and Rotary Club of Wallowa County are hosting a candidate forum on Thursday, Oct. 13 at Cloverleaf Hall in Enterprise.

Candidates from state and local races will answer written questions from the forum committee and the public during the moderated event scheduled from 6-8 p.m. The various pros and cons of state measures on the ballot also will be discussed.

Former Wallowa County Commissioner Mike Hayward will serve as master of ceremonies.

Candidates and elected officials expected to attend include:

- District 58 State Rep. Greg Barreto
- District 29 State Senate

candidates Sen. Bill Hansell and challenger Barbara Dickerson

- Uncontested Wallowa County Commissioner candidate Todd Nash
- Uncontested Wallowa County Sheriff candidate Steve Sheris
- Uncontested Wallowa County Treasurer candidate Shonelle Dutcher
- Enterprise mayoral candidates William Coffin, George Hill, Stacy Karvoski and Daniel Sticka

All other county-wide candidates for mayor and city council positions also have been invited.

Presenters also have been lined up to offer arguments for and against seven measures being considered by Oregon voters.

If you plan to attend, please notify the Chamber by calling 541-426-4622 no later than 5 p.m. Oct. 10 so that necessary preparations can be made.

Tuesday, Nov. 8 is Election Day. Wallowa County ballots are expected to be mailed out Oct. 19.
