Donation buys beds for hospital

Dinner auction raises $65,981

Wallowa County Chieftain

The Wallowa Valley Health Care Foundation donated $65,981 to Wallowa Memorial Hospital.

The money, raised Nov. 12 at the 21st Annual Healthy Futures Dinner Auction, is enough to purchase seven new patient beds for Wallowa Memorial Hospital. The state-of-the-art beds will replace others purchased more than 15 years ago.

"Thanks to the efforts of nurse manager Teri Judd, we were able to locate six demo units, available on the West Coast, for our initial order," said Wallowa Memorial Hospital CEO Larry Davy. "These units are as good as new, they just can't sell them as new because they have been used for demonstrations. This allowed us to save about 30 percent per bed."

Currently there are no more beds available to be shipped from the West Coast, and Davy said the shipping costs coming from the East were prohibitive. More beds are expected to be available from the West Coast in the near future.

"The new beds offer new and improved features that enhance safety, comfort, and healing," said chief nursing officer Jenni Word.

The Wallowa Valley Health Care Foundation was founded in 1990 to raise money to help improve and expand health care service in the county. Since 1996, the foundation's biggest fundraiser has been the annual Healthy Futures Dinner Auction.

The foundation board works with the hospital leadership to determine where the need is each year, and this year the need was for new patient beds.

"We are happy to be able to help the hospital purchase these new beds," said foundation vice president Diana Collins. "We appreciate the incredible support of the community that made this gift possible."

Carpenters Union donates $5,740 to buy gifts for local children

By Wallowa County Chieftain

Local 2780 of the Carpenters Industrial Council, which represents Boise Cascade employees at their mills in Elgin, donated $5,740 for the benefit of children in Wallowa and Union counties this Christmas.

Union members told Chris Evans, Community Development Coordinator with the Oregon Department of Human Services, that they wanted to make sure as many children as possible would receive holiday gifts with their donations.

Boise Cascade's management team in Elgin added another $1,000, and added to the regular annual donation of $500 by local utility company Avista Corp., a total of $7,240 was available. It was a nice amount for Chris Evans and his coworkers with the DHS Self Sufficiency and Child Welfare programs to go toy shopping.

DHS staff members began putting together a list of families who had missed out on other local toy drives.

"They want to bring joy to children in Union and Wallowa County, and that's what we are going to do," Evans said.
