Tiana Fough, 29, of Joseph, has only been in the county for a year but she's already involved in the community.

She's the mother of three small children: a four-month-old son and two daughters in kindergarten (5 years) and first grade (6 years).

The family moved here following her husband's job and Tiana became involved as an instructional aide in Enterprise Elementary School immediately.

She has a bachelor's degree in business and has taught nurturing parenting classes. She enjoys working out of the home, but has been pretty busy with her newborn and two small daughters. She jokes that she "went to college to get her Mrs."

She volunteers in her church regularly, was coordinator for Mothers of Preschoolers before moving to the county, and sews items for baby showers.

Q. What do you like best about your job?
A. When I was an aide I loved being involved in the school. I was an aide for one specific child, but I helped in the class, I love seeing the progress. It's nice to watch the personal growth of individual children.

For now, I'm a stay-at-home mom. I've always known I wanted to be a mom. The best thing about being a mom is watching your kids learn — being an influential part of their learning. I like teaching them other things than they learn in a book.

Right now (one of the children is) learning how to ride a bike without training wheels — we'll learn that if we keep trying. Learning how to read — that's fun.

Q. What does your family do for fun?
A. We go to the lake, paddle board, hike — we haven't gone on any major hikes because I've been pregnant with my son most of the time I've been here.

We like board games. We have family game night and we like to watch (mostly Disney) movies. I sew but I haven't gotten my sewing machine out since I've been here.

Q. What movies, books or television shows have you enjoyed recently?
A. We like Jessie (Disney channel) and we enjoyed "Boss Baby." We watch mostly kid movies. I'm reading a Bible study book right now called Kingdom Women. If I get that done, I'm pretty happy. I don't get much reading done with a four-month-old.

We enjoy music, all kinds of music, and we enjoy singing a family song together. My mom used to sing to me, and her mom before that — "I'll buy a rose for you."

IN BRIEF

Wallowa public school friends planning event

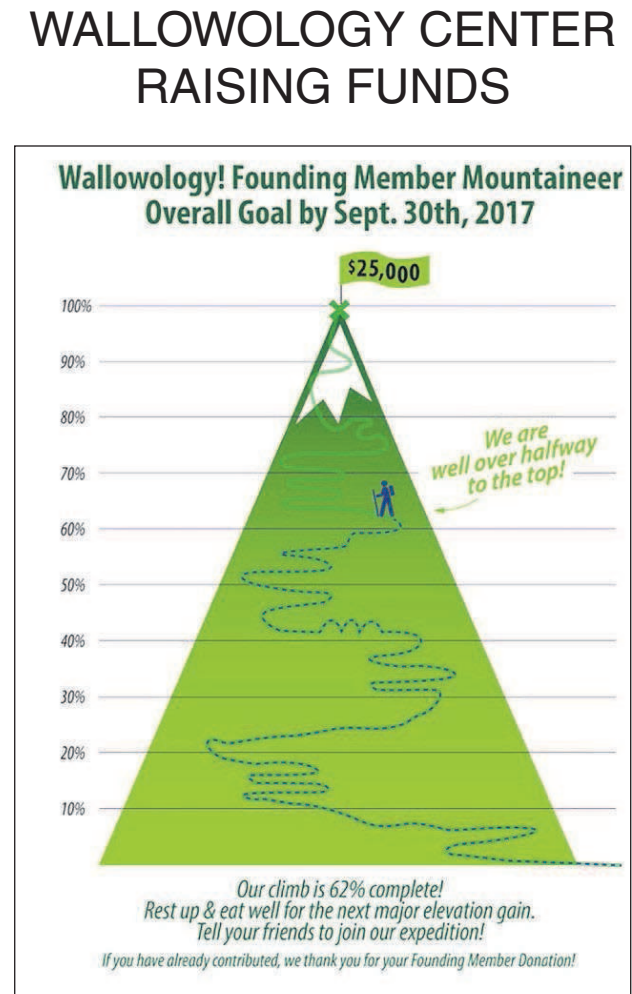

The Friends of the Wallowa School District will hold their Evening Under the Stars Dinner at Wallowa's Tamkaliks grounds Saturday, Sept. 23. Social hour at 5 p.m., dinner at 6 p.m. and an auction will begin at 7 p.m.

There will be a variety of prizes and auction items. This will be the last fall Evening under the Stars dinner at the grounds.

Next year, the event will be moved to spring and it will likely be indoors.

The menu is country-style ribs, potato salad, relishes and beans. There will be a dessert auction. One new feature this year is that tickets can be paid for at the door, and auction items paid for with a credit or debit card.

Call Marilyn at 541-886-4701 to reserve a ticket or for more information.

Wallowology Natural History Discovery Center in Joseph is in the midst of a massive fundraiser, which will help fund its expansion. The organization is preparing to hire its first executive director and additional program staff later this year. Wallowology hopes to purchase its Discovery Center building on Main Street and expand it over the next few years. Founding member donors will be part of a special section on a new donor wall, according to James Monteith, executive producer.

ATHLETE OF THE WEEK

This week's athlete of the week is Enterprise High School volleyball player Shelby Moncrief.

The 16-year-old junior turned in a fiery performance last Saturday at Stanfield. Behind the service line, Moncrief was 30 for 31 with 12 aces throughout the match, propelling her team to victory in all three sets. Moncrief participates in basketball and softball as well as FFA and 4-H.

She also makes regular appearances on the EHS honor roll.
