Jinni was born in Hillsboro, Ore., to Mike and Brenda (Fulcher) Ainslie. In her younger years, she was active in dance and ballet, in high school she was active in cheerleading and began working at Burger King for a short time then at Hank's Thriftway in Hillsboro. This led to a career culminating in the position of bookkeeper for Albertson's in Walla Walla, Wash.

Jinni was always encouraging and upbeat. In May 2016 she was diagnosed with breast cancer, and after a long and difficult battle, she was called to join her Savior.

Jinni loved the outdoors, going to the mountains, snowmobiling, boating and camping at Hat Rock Park. She also loved trips to the beach. She attended Adams Community Church and was active in local Bible study.

Jinni touched the lives of everyone she knew as a loving wife, devoted mother and everlasting friend. Even during her battle against cancer, she remained positive and continued to beam as a ray of sunshine. She will be missed by all.
