

‘Favorite Finds on Main’ moving to new spot

Layton Forest Products opens in Wallowa

Sondra Lozier, the last renter left in the huge Litch Building on the corner of West Main and River Street in Enterprise, has found new digs.

Lozier has been contemplating moving since the new owner of the Litch Building, McKee Brothers Investments, took possession and discussed reconstruction plans with the renters.

Since then, Sugar Time Bakery has moved to the newly remodeled Burnaugh Building (also a McKee project), R’s Consignment moved across the street to 105 W. Main and Valley Barbers moved to 211 West Main. Lozier was the last renter examining her options in December 2017.

Lozier will be moving her popular “Favorite Finds on Main” business to 700 West Main, across from the Red Rooster Café and Main Street Motors. Not only does she keep her name, the new digs feature a huge shop area, lots of storage and easy access to her storage in the NAPA Auto Parts basement and windows galore.

Lozier said she is contemplating how she will use those windows.

“I’m really pleased about this,” Lozier said. “It gives me more room, storage, it’s going to work a lot better for me (than earlier ideas).”

When she was in her original location in the Litch Building, she sent a lot of people down to the Red Rooster Café, she said, and with the growing familiarity of tourists with that business and the addition to Rants and Raves Brewery of Moscow, Idaho (beginning remodeling at the old Ace Hardware location in April), there will be a lot of possibilities on West Main.

Lozier plans to keep Favorite Finds on Main open in the old location until Feb. 28 and tentatively plans to be open in the new shop location by the first of March.

Look for advertisements as she makes that transition. One operational change to look for will be in the open hours as Lozier plans to bring her hours more in line with the open hours at Red Rooster.

THE WOOD lot across from the old Jay Herbert Bates Mill in Wallowa just keeps attracting new timber-related businesses.

Jake Layton of Wallowa, 33, son of Ron and Rene Layton of Joseph, is operating a portable mill adjacent to and in tandem with Butch Tanzey’s Tanzey Forest Improvement Inc.

Layton, a wildland firefighter for the U.S. Forest Service who also coaches JV basketball at Joseph Charter School, is developing Layton Forest Products to fill a need in the community, he said.

The business takes advantage of a partnership with Tanzey that results in the ability to pay private landowners a premium price for their logs, while offering retail customers a good price for raw lumber and access to custom cuts.

Layton mills timber cut from private lands Tanzey manages and chops the lesser quality logs for firewood and kindling. Layton’s kindling is dry and a big bundle goes for $15. Find him on Facebook.

Layton’s mill can take any log less than 36 inches in diameter and produce special cut beams along with (mostly Douglas fir) construction lumber (1x and 2x material 16 to 20 feet in length). He has slab wood available, thick planks with live edges (popular for coffee tables, benches) and blue pine. He also has a stock of garden posts and fence stays.

Pretty much any 2x material is 90 cents a board foot, Layton said.

Call him for prices and tell him what you need or come in with your plans, and he’ll help you determine what you need. His number is 541-263-1022.

Miller benefit set Feb. 15 in Wallowa

A benefit dinner and auction for Dawna Miller’s medical fund will be 5:30 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 15, at Wallowa Senior Center.

A spaghetti dinner will be served followed by an auction of pies and other items, including a ton of grass hay and a cord of firewood.

Monetary donations are

IN BRIEF

being accepted at Community Bank.

Info: 541-263-0783.

Womens art, music event set

“Women, Words and Music” will be 7 p.m. Saturday, March 31, at Josephy

Center for Arts and Culture in Joseph. Songs and readings by a variety of performers will be featured as part of the women’s art exhibit on display in the gallery during the month.

Music will be performed by local a capella group Harmony Rising, plus musicians Lauren Bihr, Meredith Brann, Emma Carlson, Janis Carper, Carolyn Lochert, Heidi Muller and Laura Skovlin. Admission is $10.

Featured readers include Lauren MacDonald, and Kristy Athens, author of “Get your Pitchfork On.” This will be the fifth year of collaboration between the Music Alliance and Josephy Center on this event.

Foundation will host fundraiser

Enterprise Education Foundation will host its annual dessert and auction social 5:30 p.m. Friday, April 13, at Cloverleaf Hall in Enterprise.

The fundraiser will also feature guest speakers, drawing for the Nature Conservancy deer tag raffle, entertainment by the school children and decorated walls by the students art work, and individually decorated tables. Around 200 silent auction items and 10 live auction items are expected, along with creations by each classroom.

A no-host bar provided by El Bajio will be available. Proceeds will benefit art and music departments. Child-care at the auction will be provided the night of the auction by the FCCLA students for a donation.

Seating is limited to 180, and tickets are selling quickly.

Info: visit the Enterprise Education Foundation page on Facebook or email roundeducation@gmail.com.

First aid, CPR classes offered

Project Heartbeat will conduct a First Aid/CPR/AED class at the Prairie Creek Center (Oregon DHS office) Friday, Feb. 23.

The class will begin 8:15 a.m. and end around 4:30 p.m. It will train lay responders to assist those suffering medical emergencies, both minor and major, until the ambulance arrives.

Upon completion of the course, participants will receive two-year certification from the American Red Cross. Cost of the seven-hour class is $45. Info or to register, call 541-432-0259.
