

OBITUARIES

Doris Marie Barton
March 24, 1934 — April 28, 2018

Doris was born to Floyd and Lola Grilley in Northome, Minn. She peacefully and quietly passed away at her home in Wallowa.

Doris had a great sense of humor with a ready smile for all. She loved to read fiction and nonfiction her entire life. What she loved most was her family.

She impressed her husband Orlin (of 43 years) with the way she enjoyed cooking, gardening and canning.

Doris was preceded in death by her parents, a son, Michael K. Jones; and a daughter, Barbara Ann Karpack.

She is survived by her son, Gerry Barton, of Lewiston, Idaho; her daughter, Valerie (Arthur) Catlin of Portland; and her son Steve (Melissa) Jones of Wallowa.

Doris is also survived by her brother Lynn Grilley of Sunnyvale, Calif. She is also survived by six grandchildren and eight great grandchildren.

Funeral serves were at Bollman Funeral Home in Enterprise, and a graveside service followed at the Wallowa Cemetery May 5.

Jeanie King
May 10, 1950 — April 27, 2018

Jeanie King was born Rae Jean Henshaw in Albany, Ore., to Billy and Babe Henshaw. She grew up with sisters Julie and Joey.

Jeanie was very accomplished, having a well-known knack for doing things her own way and on her own terms from a young age. At 18, she was crowned Albany Timber Carnival Queen. Without the knowledge of her parents, she successfully changed her name from Rae Jean to Jeanie.

After the birth of her son, Grady, Jeanie chose a career in law enforcement and was hired by Multnomah County as a corrections officer in 1978. From that day on she never looked back.

Jeanie broke through multiple barriers in the Multnomah County Sheriff's Office. At the time, it was the standard that female officers would only care for female inmates.

Known as "a gutsy person who happens to be a lady," Jeanie became the first female officer to supervise male inmates. Overcoming a vote attempting to keep Jeanie out of the men's jail, she worked her way up and was promoted to sergeant in 1981.

Jeanie was assigned to the Rocky Butte Jail where she loved the work and her ability to supervise (especially those who tried to keep her on the women's side). In 1989, Jeanie was promoted to lieutenant, made captain in 1995, commander in 1997 and chief deputy in 1999.

Jeanie was also an instructor at the Oregon Police Academy, worked with the U.S. Marshall's Office and was an active member on multiple correctional boards throughout the country. Jeanie retired from Multnomah County in 2001 at the age of 50 and moved to Joseph with her husband Jerry.

Jeanie spent her retired life waking up to the beautiful views of Wallowa Lake and the Wallowa mountains and entertaining beloved friends and family at her and Jerry's Wallowa Lake home.

Though retired, her law enforcement blood still flowed. Jeanie assisted and advised the Wallowa County Sheriff's Office during the construction of their new holding facility.

Jeanie is survived by her husband of 29 years, Jerry King; her children, Grady Nelson (Suzanne) and Bret King; sisters, Julie Silver and Joey Doran; grandchildren, Eli Nelson, Karlee Churchill, Jordan Lemons, Nigel Benshoof and great grandchildren, Mya and McKinley Churchill and Dutch and Jack Benshoof.

A celebration of life will be held this summer in Albany, Ore. Jeanie was deeply loved and highly respected by her family and friends. She will be sadly missed.

David Turner
Jan. 18, 1940 — May 3, 2018

David Sherman Turner passed away at Wallowa Memorial Hospital in Enterprise. He had suffered from acute leukemia diagnosed in January 2018.

David was born in Joseph to Bill and Lena Turner. The family ranched on Upper Prairie Creek where he learned to be an excellent horseman and to work with cattle. He was particularly adept at running the farm equipment.

David graduated from Joseph High School in 1958 where he lettered in football and basketball. He was Student Body President and was a charter member of the Joseph FFA Chapter.

David worked as a ranch hand for the Brennan Ranch on Lightening Creek during and after high school. He enjoyed being horseback and working the cattle. David married his high school sweetheart Darlene Tucker, Dec. 30, 1961.

David later went to work for Kit Construction, working in the excavation business. In 1967, he and Darlene began their own business with a backhoe. In 1974, they purchased the Wade Rain Irrigation business from Roy and Wilfred Daggett.

They eventually sold the irrigation business and operated their excavation business for 47 years before retiring in 2015.

David was a member of the Elks Lodge BPOE 1829; the Wallowa County Jaycees and the Joseph Masonic Lodge. He served on the Joseph School District Budget Committee, volunteered for the Wallowa County Museum, and was a past president of the Creighton Ditch Company.

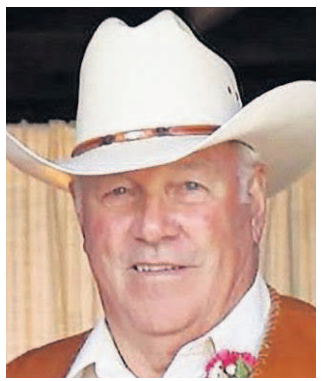

David was instrumental in the Chief Joseph Days arena rebuild in 1967-1968 and the construction of the Joseph Community Center in 1985. He and Darlene functioned as the court chaperons in the '60s and '70s. He served as CJD rodeo chairmen and rodeo chute boss for more than 15 years.

He served as the Stage Coach Chairmen for 10 years and received the John Justin Committeemen Award and runner-up recognition for the national award in 1993. David received his PRCA Gold Card for 20 plus years of service in 1990. David and Darlene were grand marshals for the 50-year celebration.

David was preceded in death by his parents. He leaves behind wife Darlene Tucker Turner, daughters Cindy, Candi and Sandi, sons-in-law John Bailey, Craig Willis and Nathen Rowe. Also six adored grand children; Lane, Paige, Skyler, Kylie, Kolton and Derek, great granddaughter Blake and another on the way, sisters Beverly and Diane and brothers-in-law Dick Shortridge and Butch Tucker.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Chief Joseph Days Rodeo Inc. Hall of Fame fund or the Wallowa County Museum.

A celebration of life is 11 a.m. Friday, May 11, at the Joseph Community Center with ritual services by the Masonic Lodge at the Joseph Cemetery.

Lawrence Calvin Prince
Nov. 3, 1940 — May 1, 2018

Lawrence (Larry) Prince, 77, died at his home in Wallowa. He was born in Wallowa to Wayne and Sadie Prince and was the youngest of seven children. Larry attended school in Wallowa and joined the Army after graduation.

He married Wanda Lowe in 1986. He spent most of his career as a master mechanic mining supervisor. This led them to traveling from Alabama, Wyoming, Oklahoma, Nevada and Oregon.

Lawrence is survived by his wife, Wanda Prince, and his children, Larry Prince of Oregon, David Prince of Nevada and his stepchildren; Kellie Roe of Texas, Michael Roe of Texas, Kim Pitts of New Mexico and Stephanie Roy of Arizona. He was preceded in death by his daughter Lorina (Neechie) Dyson.

Larry loved Wallowa County, the outdoors, fishing, hunting and spending time with his friends and family. Taking long drives on Powatka Ridge was also a favorite pastime for Larry.

Services will be 11 a.m. Wednesday, May 9 at Wallowa Christian Church.

Student of the Week

Madison is a third grader at Enterprise SDA Christian School and daughter of Neal and Corinne Isley. Madison is a considerate, helpful, and encouraging student. She always puts forth her best effort in school, loves to help those around her, and finds joy in learning. She is a friend to all, reliable in all that she does, and consistently lives a life of service. Madison lifts her voice to praise God with song, extends a helpful hand, and freely flashes her radiant smile.

Hospital named in 'top 20'

Wallowa Memorial Hospital was named a 2018 Top 20 Critical Access Hospital, out of 1,350 CAHs nationwide, by the National Rural Health Association. Wallowa Memorial Hospital was recognized for its overall performance based on a composite rating from eight different measurements.

"We're really proud of our physicians, providers and staff for the dedication they bring to their jobs every day," said Wallowa Memorial Hospital chief executive officer Larry Davy. "This recognition is a testament to their commitment to excellence."

The eight measurements included quality, outcomes, patient perspectives, cost, inpatient and outpatient market share, charge and financial stability. The Top 20 list was selected from the Charis Center for Rural Health's 2018 Top 100 Critical Access Hospital list, released earlier this year.

Davy noted the investments the hospital has made to ensure that the highest quality care is delivered consistently.

"We always know that people have a choice," said Davy. "They can choose to drive to a neighboring county if they don't feel they can get good care here. So we know we always have to be the best we can be."

Davy cited community support as another reason for the high quality of care.

"We're lucky, because we have this incredibly generous community behind us," said Davy, noting the recent fundraising efforts of the Circle 100 Club and Men's Guild 100 that helped raise $18,800 and $7,900, respectively. "When there is a need, the community steps up, and it allows us to invest in state-of-the-art technology."

Wallowa Memorial was one of only two Oregon hospitals to make the list. The only other was Grande Ronde Hospital in La Grande.
