

FIDDLING IN JOSEPH

Blue Mountain Fiddle Show comes to Hurricane Creek Grange

IN BRIEF

Job fair set for Wednesday

A Wallowa County Job Fair hosted by WorkSource will be 5-7 p.m. Wednesday, June 13, at Prairie Creek Center, 104 Litch St., Enterprise. Network with employers and apply for work. Bring a résumé and list of references. Come dressed for an interview. Veterans will be given priority of service. WorkSource Oregon is a network of public and private partners who work together to respond to workforce challenges through high-quality services to individuals and businesses, resulting in job attainment, retention and advancement. Details: 541-963-7111.

Wallowa park fundraiser set

Wallowa City "Music in the City Park," a fundraiser for the new Memorial Town Square Project will be 5 p.m. Saturday, June 30. The event features "The Local Yokels" and "Lindsey and Company." This is a family gathering style event. Bring your own picnic or purchase a hot dog meal and pie from a variety of Wallowa County cooks. There will also be a beer garden. To donate a pie, call Tanya Burns at 541-398-2229. Questions: 541-398-2140.

Spay, neuter clinic planned June 21

Double Arrow Veterinary Clinic will host its third-annual Feline Spay and Neuter

Extravaganza Thursday, June 21.

Those who choose to have their cat spayed or neutered will receive a variety of coupons and discount.

Space is limited. Call 541-426-4470 for an appointment. Co-sponsored by Wallowa County Humane Society.

Wilson to head WHS Interactors

Ashley Wilson, who will be a senior this fall, will lead the Interact Club of Wallowa High School for a second year. Other officers will be Rylee Goller, vice president; Riley Ferré, secretary and Grace Pendarvis, treasurer.

Interact is a service club sponsored by the Rotary Club of Wallowa County. The club produces the school's Christmas Bazaar for elementary school pupils and has staged a cookie giveaway, a trip to Eastern Oregon University with the girls' basketball team and a "spirit bus" trip to Baker City to watch the boys' basketball tournament.

Wilson

Wallowa is the only high school in eastern Oregon to have an Interact Club.

Beef raffle is under way

Tickets are being sold in raffle-style for a side of beef, cut and wrapped, contributed by the McClaren Ranch. Tickets are $5 each and three for $10. Proceeds benefit the Wallowa County Museum.

Two going to health gathering

Two students from Wallowa County have been selected to attend the Northeast Oregon Area Health Career Camp June 18-22 — Dee Dee Duncan of Enterprise and Angelene Matthews of Lostine.

Sessions are held on the campus of Eastern Oregon University in La Grande.
