CORRECTION

In a story published last week, the location of the Quick Draw event, part of the Wallowa Valley Festival of Arts, was incorrect. The event will be held

2 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 15, at Mt. Joseph Lodge directly across from Joseph Center. This is a new venue for the event. The Chieftain regrets the error.

OBITUARIES

Betty Daggett
Sept. 14, 1928 — Aug. 31, 2018

Betty Jean Daggett, 89, of La Grande, passed away at a local care facility. A graveside service will be held at Prairie Creek Cemetery 10 a.m. Thursday, Sept. 20. An alternate location if inclement weather will be at Bollman Funeral Chapel.

Daggett

Betty was born in Enterprise to Chester and Lady Clair (Mavor) Shirley. She graduated from Joseph High School and married her one true love, William Ray Daggett. Betty was a dedicated mother and wife and loved working on the ranch. She enjoyed collecting rocks and attending church. Her children were her main focus. She was a member of several woman's Bible study groups. Betty survived cancer three times.

Betty is survived by her children and their spouses, Daniel Daggett (Mary) of Imbler and William Daggett (Rebecca) of Pasco, Wash.; four grandchildren, Alexander Daggett, Bonny Daggett, Rebecca Daggett and David Daggett and 12 nieces and nephews.

She was preceded in death by her husband, William; brothers, Dee Shirley and Mavor Shirley and brother-in-law James Daggett. Online condolences may be made to the family at lovelandfuneralchapel.com.

Virginia Brooks Sasser
April 10, 1924 — Aug. 5, 2018

Virginia Brooks Sasser was born in Wallowa, to George and Rae McGinnis Brooks. She grew up on the McGinnis Ranch on Powwotka Ridge.

She attended grade school at the Powwotka School, which was located on the ranch. She graduated from Wallowa High School in 1942. She loved singing and playing the piano. She was self-taught and excelled in music.

After graduation, she worked in Wallowa as a bookkeeper, and then married Kenneth Sasser in 1947. In 1948, their son Steve was born. They lived in Milton-Freewater and Wallowa, and then moved in 1960.

They settled in Roseburg, Ore., where Virginia worked as a bookkeeper, and Kenneth in the lumber industry. Virginia worked for Douglas County and was elected Douglas County Treasurer. She loved her work and retired in 1984.

Virginia and Kenneth moved to Florence after retirement. They spent their winters in Yuma, Ariz. Virginia loved the Yuma winters and laughed about how different they were from winters on Powwotka Ridge.

Virginia really enjoyed visiting with family and attending her grandchildren's school and athletic events. She also liked to vacation in Hawaii.

She and Ken always came back to Wallowa for Memorial Day to put flowers on family graves, attend the Wallowa High School reunions and of course visit as many relatives and friends as possible.

Virginia had a great interest in Native American culture and especially Nez Perce history. She loved attending the powwows in Wallowa and knew many of the participants.

After Ken's death in 2000, Virginia moved to Salem, and then Portland, to be near family. She lived in a retirement community and participated in their group choir and other events.

She was known as the piano-playing lady, and entertained community residents in to her 90s. Most people did not know she could not read music and played everything by ear.

Virginia told the community residents about her love for Powwotka and Wallowa County. She showed them her pictures and told them her stories of growing up "in the woods," as she said.

Virginia passed away in her apartment with family present. She was preceded in death by Kenneth; her parents, George and Rae Brooks; and her siblings, Wilma Guillory, Kenneth Brooks, Vera Jean Miller and Nancy Brooks.

She is survived by her son, Steve Sasser (Kathleen); grandchildren, Brooke Berry (Clint), Scott Sasser (Raquel), Matt Sasser (Dianna) and Greg Sasser (Jenni); 12 great-grandchildren; and many nieces and nephews.

Virginia will be buried with her husband in the Wallowa Cemetery. Memorial contributions may be made to the Wallowa History Center.

Meet Fred

Fred is a short haired male orange and white tabby, born approx. June 11, 2018. This little guy is the leader of the pack. Fred is the loving, outgoing kitten that will make the perfect house cat and companion. He talks to people and cuddles on the couch. He loves playing with his brothers and being first to dinner! He's litter box trained, and has had his first shots and worming. He is very comfortable with people and other animals.
