OBITUARIES

James Mael
Sept. 9, 1941 — Nov. 4, 2018

Mael

James T. Mael, 77, of Monument, Ore., passed away peacefully at his residence.

He was born in Pendleton to Stoney and Ruth Mael. He attended most of his schooling at Ukiah, Gibbon and Weston, Ore., and he graduated high school in Enterprise in 1959.

He entered the U.S. Navy soon after graduation and completed his basic training in San Diego. He was assigned to the aircraft carrier USS Princeton LPH-5 in the Philippines 1959-63 as a sheet metal worker building and refurbishing ships and boats.

He received his honorable discharge in 1965, after his three years of serving in the reserves in the Navy.

His line of work was an auto body mechanic, mill worker and in his younger years a firefighter.

His hobbies included hunting, fishing and trapping, along with his participation in car shows, in which he won multiple awards with his 1976 Luv pickup.

He was an enrolled Assiniboine-Sioux at Ft. Peck, Mont. He was proud of his Native American blood-line and used his skills to build reproductions of Native America weaponry, which included lances and bow and arrows with quivers and tomahawks. He was also a master at making horn-handle knives.

He is survived by his wife, Suzi, of 32 years; daughters, Toni Jones of Cove, Ore., and Staci Perry of Portland; stepdaughter Pamela Pollard of St. Petersburg, Fla.; and stepson Bryon Gardner of Orlando, Fla., as well as several grandchildren and great grandchildren.

He is preceded in death by his parents, both sisters and his step-son Scott Gardner.

At the family's request, memorial contributions may be made in his name to Hope 4 Paws in John Day, Ore., or Silent Wave Horse Rescue, Kimberly, Ore., through Driskill Memorial Chapel, 241 S. Canyon Blvd., John Day, OR 97845.

A celebration of life will be announced at a later date.

Focus group will discuss Wallowa Food Bank services

A group of county residents will gather Nov. 26 to discuss the operation and issues surrounding the Wallowa Food Bank.

The focus group is being convened through the auspices of Oregon Food Bank and Community Connection and is designed to generate feedback predominantly from those who use or qualify to use the service.

Carolina Negron will coordinate the session that is to be held noon to 2 p.m. at Wallowa Senior Center, 204 Second St., Wallowa.

The food bank program provides for low-income households struggling to provide food for their families.

Food is received from growers, individuals, stores and other business within the region as well as from Oregon Food Bank and the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

"We are looking for people who are low-income and qualify for food assistance who may or may not use the food bank," Negon said.

Participants will each receive a $10 gift certificate to Safeway.

To reserve a spot, call 541-963-7532, ext. 1103 or email carolina@ccno.org.
