

Enterprise Seventh-day Adventists offer Roar for children

The Enterprise Seventh Day Adventist Church will host Roar VBS, a summer event for children, ages 5 to 12, June 24-28. The day camp runs from 9-11:30 a.m. each day.

At Roar, young people will discover that God is good, even when life gets wild. Kids will participate in Bible-learning activities, learn and sing songs, play team-work-building games, and make their own treats.

The experience includes one-of-a-kind Wild Bible Adventures, and testing out Sciency-Fun Gizmos that they can take home with them. Each day will conclude with a Safari Celebration that will involve the participants in living what they have learned. Family members and friends are encouraged to join in daily for this special time at 11:05 each day.

For more information, call 541-426-8339 or register online at <https://vbspro.events/p/enterpriseda>

IN BRIEF

Bruce Dunn scholarship announced

The Bruce Dunn Scholarship fund was developed by his family and friends to honor his love of Oregon's forests, rangelands, streams, wildlife and recreation opportunities and for their wise use. This scholarship will help the professional development and education of Wallowa County's future leaders in forestry, fish and wildlife management and range conservation.

Bruce Dunn died Aug. 21, 2018, just three months after he was elected to the Wallowa County Board of Commissioners, but before he took office. A forester managing RY Timber's northeastern Oregon land, Bruce spent much of the last 32 years serving on the Wallowa County planning commission, drafting the Wallowa County Nez Perce Tribe Salmon Plan and chairing the county's Natural Resource Advisory Committee. Bruce's influence ranged far and wide — from private and agency-employed foresters to fish, wildlife and land managers to loggers, reporters and politicians. His fingerprints are on most of the land use guiding documents used by the board of commissioners today.

To be considered, a student must be a Wallowa County high school graduate and be enrolled in a school of agriculture, forestry or other natural resource-related area of study beyond the high school level (trade schools included). Preference will be given to applicants seriously contemplating a return to Eastern Oregon to work and live to students with at least college sophomore standing. Applications are available online at www.wallowaresources.com. Due July 1, 2019.

For the fund to live into perpetuity, an endowment fund is being established with the goal of raising $100,000. The amount, along with other future fundraising efforts, would support the award of up to $4,000 each year. To donate, send checks to: Wallowa Resource, Memo: Bruce Dunn Scholarship, 401 Northeast First Street Enterprise, OR 97828

Stockgrowers scholarship now taking applications

The Wallowa County Agricultural Resource Foundation announces the availability of their academic scholarships to local kids pursuing a career in an agriculture or related field. This is the Wallowa County Stockgrowers annual scholarship that has been in place since the early 1970s. This scholarship is offered to encourage participation in the field of agriculture. Funds for this scholarship include donations in memory and in honor of men and women who have contributed to the livestock industry in Wallowa County.

Last year $8,500 was awarded to five eligible applicants. These scholarships are very important in helping Wallowa County kids pursue their degrees. To be considered, a student must be enrolled in a school of agriculture, school of forestry, or other natural resource related area of study beyond the high school level; be a resident of Wallowa County and should have attended school in Wallowa County. Both graduating high school seniors and students presently enrolled in post high school programs at universities, community colleges, or trade schools are eligible for consideration, however, preference is given to applicants with at least college sophomore standing.

For a copy of the application or questions about the scholarship, email Caleb Howard (Caleb@landandwildlife.com) or John Williams (John.Williams@oregonstate.edu). Up to $8,500 available for 2019. Deadline is July 1. Send applications to the Scholarship Committee, Wallowa County Agricultural Resource Foundation, c/o OSU Extension Service, 668 NW First Street, Enterprise, OR 97828.
