IN BRIEF

Paint along in pastels class offered

JOSEPH — A class on painting in pastels will take place from 4-8:30 p.m. Wednesday, May 19, via Zoom from the Josephy Center for Arts and Culture.

Preregister by May 16. Cost of the class is $60.

Participants will build on or learn the basics of painting a landscape with pastels at this class taught by Bonnie Zahn Griffith. Following a brief introduction in composition and design elements, participants will paint together a sample painting. This "paint-along" will give participants the systematic approach to doing a studio painting based on a photo. In this case Griffith will complete the painting again, along with participants, of this road and old abandoned shed along the river. Participants will learn techniques for pastel application and building depth and interest in your work.

The supply list includes: medium grit (400-500) sanded paper, professional-grade pastels (Rembrandt, Sennelier, Unison, Terry Ludwig, Great American, etc.), black hard pastel or conte crayon (NuPastels or other), board (to tape your paper to), easel, glove and apron (optional) and a workable fixative (optional).

The instructor says if participants are unable to order supplies, they are welcome to use what you have, but know the results may not be as rewarding.

Whittle a honey drizzler at Josephy Center

JOSEPH — Self-proclaimed "old geezer" Ralph Anderson will share his talent for whittling in a relaxed and informative class from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Saturday, May 15, at the Josephy Center for Arts and Culture.

Participants will create their own unique honey drizzlers and — if the weather is nice — they will sit outside for the class.

Participants are urged to bring a chair, appropriate protection from the sun, lunch, a sharp whittling knife, a stick (preferably hardwood) with which to make the drizzler and "be prepared to tell tall tales, lies and other prevarications."

No experience is necessary. A thick-skin may be required, as will the $30 class fee.

If you don't have a knife, stop by the Sports Corral in Joseph, Wallowa County Grain Growers in Enterprise or check out this link to get an idea of what you are looking for <http://woodcarvingillustrated.com/blog/2017/05/03/choosing-a-whittling-knife>.

to break the tape. She finished just 7.23 seconds shy of breaking into the top 30. She also was the fourth-fastest freshman in the field.

She said the course at nationals wasn't bad, but it was muddy terrain that also featured thicker grass, and as a result, the race was more challenging.

"It was a hard race. And everyone would agree with that. It's hard to put into words," she said.

She has carried the solid freshman campaign to the track, too. On April 30, she ran a leg on a winning 4x800-relay team that won the Buc Scoring Invite in a time of 9:19.70 — a time that qualified the quartet for the national meet. She also took third in the women's 5K at the meet in a time of 18:16.55.

And even though she is in Caldwell, Idaho, a couple hundred miles away from home, Tingelstad still feels the hometown support. She said her parents, sister, former coaches and teammates are all among those who have been in contact with her.

"The support from home, even being away has been impressive," she said.

With Tingelstad's all-American effort, the Coyotes did something they had only done two other times in history — notch three all-Americans in one season. The 2012 and 2013 teams both accomplished the feat, according to the C of I website. Those teams, like this season, went on to place second at nationals.

And C of I only loses one senior in the top five from this squad, and two from the top seven, which means the Yotes — led by the former Joseph standout Tingelstad — could be a contender for quite a while.

"We've got a few pretty good freshmen coming in that might help us out," she said. "We're always going for that number one spot."

Paint cloudy skies in watercolors

JOSEPH — The Characteristics of Watercolors: Painting Cloudy Skies will be the focus of an in-person class at the Josephy Center for Arts and Culture later this month, according to a press release.

The class will run from 5-7:30 p.m. Thursday, May 27. Preregistration is required by May 24. Cost of the class is $45.

Instructor Crystal Newton will show how the cryptic icons on a watercolor paint tube transmit helpful information that is important for the aspiring watercolor artist to consider. In this class participants will paint an exercise sheet that will help understand what those icons are. During that process they'll create a reference sheet that to inform choices going forward. After the reference sheets, they will explore techniques for painting sky.

No experience is necessary. Bring dinner if you would like. Masks will be required at all times.
