 The eight scholarships awarded totaled $9,000.

According to a press release from the Rotary, scholarships are based on academic success and leadership in school and community activities. Financial need, as well as references from teachers and community members are considered. The awards are given at the beginning of a student's sophomore year of higher education. A $7,500 grant from The Nature Conservancy helped fund this year's scholarships. All told, Rotary had donated more than $70,000 to local students.

Exhibit looks at Nez Perce treaties, reservation

JOSEPH — A new exhibit that opened Tuesday, June 22, looks at the Nez Perce Treaties of 1855 and 1863, at the Josephy Center for Arts and Culture in Joseph, with a reception Saturday at 4 p.m. to conclude the exhibit.

It also looks at a "Proposed Reservation for the Roaming Nez Perce Indians in the Wallowa Valley in Oregon," promulgated and then rescinded by President U.S. Grant's executive orders, according to a press release. The exhibit features historic drawings and paintings, facsimile pages from the treaties and explanations of treaty language that show their relevance to the present day.

Three tribal artists, Kevin Peters, Phil Cash Cash and Kellen Trenal, will address the treaties in beads and paint. The art will be on display during the exhibit and will be available for sale.
 An image, courtesy Washington State University Libraries, shows boundary lines of 1855 and 1863 treaties, as well as for Grant's proposed reservation in the Wallowa Valley. All are addressed in the exhibit.

'Shake the Lake' fireworks planned again

JOSEPH — A local businessman is partnering with the Joseph Chamber of Commerce to fund a bigger and better Fourth of July fireworks display over Wallowa Lake this year.

Gary Bethscheider, owner of the Stubborn Mule, said they are trying to raise about $20,000 this year.

"I am trying to make it better this year than last year," Bethscheider said in a press release.

Donations can be brought to him at the Stubborn Mule, mailed to the chamber at P.O. Box 1001, Joseph, OR 97846 or dropped off in donation boxes located around town.

Checks should be made out to the Joseph Chamber of Commerce.

The annual "Shake the Lake" fireworks display, which usually is put on from a raft floating in the north end of the lake, is scheduled to begin at 10 p.m. July 4.

Last year, because of the coronavirus pandemic and social distancing restrictions, the Wallowa County Board of Commissioners and the Wallowa County Chamber of Commerce both canceled plans to help fund the effort.

Bethscheider said the Wallowa County Chamber is donating $1,000.

"So far, the county commissioners have allowed us access to the county docks and Sheriff Joel Fish said he will assist us with the county boat," and the board is donating $2,000, he said.
