BAKER CITY — Lauren Napier and Vic Ruggiero performed by livestream from Churchill School in January, and now they're coming back for a live, in-person concert.

The show is Saturday, Aug. 21. Doors open at 6 p.m. and the show starts at 6:45 p.m. Tickets are $8 in advance at www.churchillbaker.com (click on "Events") or $10 at the door.

The venue is at 3451 Broadway St. in Baker City, but the audience enters through the parking lot off 16th Street.

Napier and Ruggiero met in Berlin, Germany.

Napier's background includes writer, singer, cellist, model and publicist. (Napier is also known as Punk Rock Doll. To learn more about her music and writing, visit <http://punk-rockdoll.com>.)

Ruggiero grew up in New York — which you can easily tell from his Bronx accent. He has toured as a musician since the 1990s.

They come from different musical backgrounds — blues and Americana for him, classic and cello for her.

They first joined to sing songs by Dean Martin, then Patsy Cline. Then they started writing songs together.

Ruggiero said they're slowly playing more live shows this summer.

"This is going to be one of the biggest," he said of their Baker City appearance.

They both look forward to playing live.

"Just being on stage with a crowd in front of me — it's intoxicating," Ruggiero said.
