

LEARN COLLOGRAPH PRINTMAKING IN JAN. 15 WORKSHOP

BAKER CITY — Ann Mehaffy will teach a workshop on Collagraph Printmaking on Saturday, Jan. 15, 2-4 p.m., at Churchill School, 3451 Broadway St. Proof of vaccination is required.

Collagraph is a basic method of printmaking using a board with collage materials glued onto it to form a relief surface with a variety of textures. Collagraph prints can be made with many different materials, including cardboard, yarn, fabric, leaves, masking tape and more. In this class, participants will be exploring layers of cardboard covered in beeswax, then hand carving the wax to create additional texture.

This is for ages 16 and older; class size is limited to eight. Cost is $15 per person, which includes instruction and materials for one finished print. Additional paper can be purchased for multiple prints.

TRACK YOUR READING MINUTES AND WIN PRIZES

BAKER CITY — The Baker County Public Library is running a winter reading challenge through Jan. 31 for all ages. Youth who wish to participate can pick up a sheet at the library, 2400 Resort St., to track reading minutes — 12 hours or 24 books. (Audio-books count, too.) Adults can set their own goal on how many pages they want to read. For instance, 600 pages is equivalent to about two or three books.

Return the reading log to the library by 7 p.m. Jan. 31 to receive an entry in the grand prize drawing. Digital copies or photos of entry forms can be emailed to info@bakerlib.org.

COOK MEMORIAL LIBRARY LAUNCHES KID CRAFT FRIDAYS

LA GRANDE — Cook Memorial Library, 2006 Fourth St.,
