

SALEM CHAPTER OF CONGRESS OF MOTHERS FORMS

As the result of untiring effort on the part of a group of well known Salem women the city is assured of a permanent eugenic and child welfare headquarters, an organization which is to carry on the work here and which is to be known as the Salem Chapter of the Oregon Congress of Mothers, being perfected Thursday afternoon in the Y. W. C. A. rooms.

Women, representing every section of the city were in attendance at the original meeting, and much interest and enthusiasm was shown all denoting a wish to serve in any helpful capacity.

Mrs. C. C. Clark presided as temporary chairman. Mrs. John A. Carson, although not in the city, was honored by the presidency of this chapter, because of her known interest in the undertaking.

Mrs. Fisher stated the object of the organization, which is to give Salem parents the same opportunities afforded for caring for their children that are offered in cities of similar size.

the cost of the necessary equipment. The Commercial club has not only promised financial aid, but will give a room for permanent headquarters.

Mrs. Clark spoke at length of the need of child-welfare work in Salem, drawing from knowledge gained during her many years in the city's schools.

The first examinations will take place next Thursday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the Commercial club, when Mrs. N. A. Flegel, president of the Oregon Congress of Mothers, and Mrs. A. Dayly, secretary of the organization, both of Portland, will be present and outline the work and aid in further perfecting the organization formalities.

To secure specialists for mental tests on this occasion Mrs. W. H. Byrd was named, Mrs. J. N. Smith being asked to secure the services of two doctors and two nurses and Mrs. G. W. Church two dentists.

The co-operation of the local press will be enlisted as well as that of every mother and father in Salem, for whether or not their own boy or girl needs the attention of the organization, the welfare of every other boy and girl who does need it affects their own children indirectly.

Sale of Many Army Posts Recommended By General

Washington, Oct. 24.—Recommendations that a number of government posts and fortifications be sold because of their high real estate value, aggregating more than $150,000,000, were made today to the senate military affairs committee by Brigadier General R. C. Marshall, chief of building and construction, included in the list was Governors Island, New York.

FITZGERALD UNSEATED.

Washington, Oct. 24.—The house has by a viva vote today unseated Representative John Fitzgerald, former Boston mayor and gave his place to Peter N. Tague. Charges of election frauds were made against Fitzgerald by the house elections committee. Tague was immediately sworn in.

RAILROAD WORKERS AND MINERS TO PLAN NATIONALIZATION

Washington, Oct. 24.—(United Press.)—Committees of miners and railroad brotherhood men, representing two of the strongest organizations in America planned to meet here today to discuss nationalization of their industries.

By nationalization, members of both committees mean the ownership of the mines and railroads by the government with the workers having a share in their management, operation and profits.

The miners committee, which was appointed at the recent Cleveland convention is headed by W. D. Van Horn of Terra Haute, Ind.

"We hope to bring about a permanent alliance with the railroad men," said Van Horn today. "One of the principal aims of this alliance, if it is formed, will be to further nationalization."

"The railroad men have endorsed nationalization and so have the miners. Combined, the two unions would give powerful support to the plan."

Officials of the railroad unions, which have always refused to combine with any other labor organizations, today had little to say about the possibility of an alliance with the miners. W. G. Lee, head of the railroad trainmen, declared that the miners had sought the conference.

Today's meeting will be the second between the two labor organizations. The first was held in Cleveland during the miners convention there.

Before the meeting today, this was the situation of the miners and railroad men:

Both have endorsed nationalization. The miners declare that their pending strike has nothing to do with their nationalization program, which they say is a political and not an economic question.

The railroad men have also told congressional committees they would not strike to force adoption of the Plumb plan.

Jellicoe Sees Danger For British In Pacific Ocean

Melbourne, Oct. 24.—In Admiral Lord Jellicoe's report upon the question of naval defense for the British empire and her colonies, now before the Australian house of representatives, he assumes that future dangers lie in the Pacific and the far east.

The second dominant note is his insistence on the value of capital ship as the chief weapon at sea.
