

VETERANS PROTEST 30-YEAR LEASES OF KLAMATH LAKE LAND

Strenuous protest against the action of the federal reclamation service in granting thirty-year leases on some ten thousand acres of marsh lands surrounding Upper Klamath lake is voiced in a resolution adopted by Klamath Post, No. 8, American Legion, a copy of which was received by Attorney General Brown Friday with a request that action be instituted to secure a cancellation of the leases and the land thrown open to entry by ex-service men.

"Had the bids been opened for reclamation of these lands with the provision that the reclamation costs should be charged against the lands and paid by actual settlers, this post could not have so seriously objected to this proposition," the resolution reads. "But in view of the fact that this vast area of the best land in this county is to be tied up for more than a generation when discharged service men are in serious need of lands for homes makes us unite to a man in the request that said leases be cancelled and the lands opened up to entry by ex-service men."

Copies of the resolution have also been sent by the post to the Oregon representatives in congress, Senators Borah and Johnson, the secretary of the interior, Governor Olcott and the chairman of the public lands committee of the U. S. senate.

FORD, VETERAN OF 16 SUMMERS STILL DEFEYING JUNK MAN

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 25.—In the sales room of the Denk-Thompson company, Ford dealer in Detroit, is Ford touring car number 694, looking wonderfully youthful and sturdy despite its sixteen years of daily service. The car was accepted as $50 on the purchase of a new Ford. A part from style the old time is worth more than that—it "goes" and the motor is quite some years this side of being a pensioner, but vogue in motordom has changed since 1904.

Engines are no longer wound up from the side; steering wheels no longer stick straight up into the air; and then too, eight horse power and five gallon gas tanks aren't quite sufficient for the modern motorist. The faithful Ford has not outworn its usefulness—it has merely outlived its usefulness. It is as though an old Indian chieftain would sport himself adorned in earrings, feathers and moccasins among his college-bred, stylishly clad offspring. Nobler among them but of a different age.

And so with this model "F" Ford. What stories it might tell of following worn, rutted wagon roads, over strange country perhaps, running through creeks where bridges had not been built, making its owners happy. Detroit wasn't so much of a town fifteen years ago. It was Henry Ford's second year manufacturing Fords in a factory; his company had just been organized.

It is not known who the original purchaser of this dependable old Ford was, or where he lived, whether in New York or California, Michigan or Florida. Six-O-Four may have traveled all of the states in the Union. But now it has returned to the place of its birth, there to enjoy a quiet, respectable old age, while it keeps on running and running and running, and cheating the junk man.

THE ISLAND OF SAINT KILDA

Saint Kilda, where a wireless station was placed during the war, is the most remote of the Hebrides, the nearest land to it being Griminish Point, North Uist, forty miles away. The present population is about eighty persons, who are Gaelic-speaking crofters.

NEW PETITIONS ASKED OF PHONE COMPANY

Request for separate petitions for each of the telephone companies which have joined in a petition for rise in rates, is made in reply sent out by the public service commission today to Jay Bowerman of Portland. The companies making the joint petition are the Lebanon Mutual Telephone company, Newberg Telephone company, Independent Telephone company of Forest Grove, Dallas Telephone company, Independence Telephone company, Hillsboro Mutual Telephone company and the Interurban Telephone company of Silverton.

In its reply the commission points out the novelty of the petition and expresses the opinion that such procedure is not contemplated under the Oregon statutes. Further attention of the companies is called to the fact that inasmuch as the problems and conditions of each company are distinct so should the applications for increase be separate.

OSTEOPATHS MAY USE DRUGS SAYS OPINION

Osteopaths of Oregon may legally use such drugs and write prescriptions as come within the practice of those subjects in which they are required to pass a state examination, according to an opinion given by Attorney General George M. Brown on request of Dr. D. R. Young of Portland. The attorney general sets forth that osteopathic physicians are not specifically limited by the law in the use of drugs but that prescriptions does not include all those in use by ordinary physicians and recognized in materia medica.

The law specifically authorizes osteopaths to use anaesthetics and anti-septics.

The subjects in which osteopaths are examined by the state board of medical examiners and under which they may use drugs are anatomy, physiology, chemistry, surgery, bacteriology, histology, pathology, gynecology, obstetrics, theory and practice of osteopathy and diagnosis.

DRASTIC BILL AIMED AT RADICAL ACTION

Washington, Oct. 25.—A bill aimed at stamping out every vestige of radical agitation in the United States was introduced by Senator McKellar, Tennessee, Friday.

The bill provides that anyone, even peaceably, advocating overthrow of any government and persons associating either publicly or privately with such advocates shall be fined at least $5000 or imprisoned from one to ten years. A jury may order such persons deported to a portion of the Philippine Islands set off for this purpose.

The bill includes "every citizen of the United States who directly or indirectly commences or carries on any verbal, written or printed intercourse or correspondence with any other person or persons, whether citizens or aliens, with the intent, either peaceably or by violence, to overthrow the government of the United States or to disintegrate or in any other manner set aside or do away with all government or who joins any organization having this purpose, or who directly or indirectly, publicly or privately associates himself or herself with any other person or persons having any such purpose."

TEACHER-SOLDIER TAKES OLD POSITION

(Capital Journal Special Service.)

Dallas, Or., Oct. 25.—Lieutenant Oscar I. Chenoweth, who before the war with Germany was manual training instructor in the Dallas high school resumed his position in that institution of learning this week after a two years absence.

Lieutenant Chenoweth returned to this country from France about two months ago where he took part in all of the big battles fought by the American troops. In the big drive in the St. Mihiel sector Lieutenant Chenoweth lost all his belongings but those carried on his person. He was in the thickest of the fighting in the Argonne Forest and several other engagements and came out of the war without a scratch which he considers miraculous. Mr. Chenoweth is also a veteran of the Mexican border trouble, having left his work in the high school to go with company L of the 1st division at that time. He is one of the few Polk county fighting men to win the French war cross for bravery in action.

Mr. and Mrs. Chenoweth and little son have taken up their residence at the Gail hotel, on account of the shortage of residences in Dallas.

JORDAN

Imagine a Car Like This

Jordan has always had a distinct aversion to the commonplace—the obvious. He believes in more gaily and less drabness in motor cars.

So the Jordan Silhouette was produced. Sturdy, graceful, long, low and colorful. Solid aluminum rattieproof body. New European, wide opening doors. Mouldings of rectangular design. The newest French angle at the dash.

Cocky seat cowl. Perfectly flat top edge, without the slightest bevel—certainly most refreshing in these days.

Deep section full crown fenders—slightly taller hood—tilted sport type windshield—deep soft seats that permit you to sink down into them at a perfect comfort angle—gun metal instrument board—non-rattling spring shackles—tailored top—cordovan leather boot and saddle bag built into tonneau.

Imagine a car like this. Picture it as it is—the lightest car on the road for its wheelbase.

The whole tendency of the Jordan Silhouette is toward forward movement. It is perfectly balanced—a car to ride in, as well as to look at.

With the substantial appearance of the finest heavy cars it possesses the beautiful slimmness, lightness, lowness, and balanced character of the racing class.

The chassis, including all the finest universally approved mechanical units, possesses a factor of safety which is sufficient to more than meet every possible strain—and little detailed improvements have been added that give it a new superiority.

Imagine a car like this—and you see the Jordan Silhouette. Finished in Brewster Green or Burgundy Old Wine. Equipped with either four or seven passenger bodies.
